The Godhead of Another Planet

Trance Channelling begins..

Sohrab: Would you like to describe my energies?

Group Member: Very powerful... (inaudible)

Sohrab: Are they in any way familiar to you? Not by a name but by feel. How would you describe my energies? Do I feel familiar to you?

Group Member: Yes.

Sohrab: Are you familiar with me?

Group Member: Musical and (inaudible)

Sohrab: Do you wish to make a comment?

Group Member: It is very relaxing feeling. I can sense the humor.

Sohrab: Anyone else who wishes to make a comment may do so. You may speak with judgment if you wish.

Group Member: Sir I just feel a lot like when (inaudible) I feel completely expanded, to the extent that my heart seems to be physically trying to grow to keep up with it. . And I am expanding and expanding, literally and physically it is difficult to breathe and I just know that I am touching a part of me but my conscious mind ... (inaudible)

Sohrab: I am what is called a Collective or a Keeper. I do not belong to your realm at all. I am the creative Godhead of a completely different species.

There exists across time and space what you would call a 'small planet'; unremarkable in many ways, but yet a joyous, beautiful space. It is in size perhaps 1/10 of your own planet and its populace work together harmoniously with no separation (as you have) of country, continent, creed, or religion. The peoples of this planet, like you, are also on an evolutionary path. In fact they are extremely similar physically, emotionally, and mentally to your species. But they are little further on the path towards merger. They have with their own collective consciousness, created a Godhead for themselves.

I am a single strand of each and every one of those inhabitants of energy. They have learnt to put themselves together in one collective form and combine this energy with cosmic energy to create me. What you are experiencing here today is a small fragment of my collective energies. The reason I am so familiar to all of you and yet not so familiar is because to appear here today I had to take the permission of your higher souls and collect a single strand from EACH OF YOU to manifest. And that is the flow thrust of what you are sensing. You're sensing me in two portions: the full thrust of your energies, coupled with the beautiful divine collective energies of my people. Therefore I am familiar and yet not familiar.

Group Member: Sir, do your people have free will?

Sohrab: A wonderful question. The planet I supervise also has free-will. It is one of the few, other planetary bodies that exercise that choice. However due to the growth and collective consciousness, free-will is slowly moving away, and the peoples are automatically making the collective choice.

Group Member: I often wonder why our free-will is so contaminated.

Sohrab: That is correct and from that contamination, bit by bit, arise bubbles of truth and connection and divinity of the earth and each little bubble causes purification around it and slowly, bit by bit, all will change.

Group Member: If your people thought so would they Sohrab: Very similar. Not exactly the same. There was less external violence and external disharmony and there was more internal chaos and conflict. This may seem paradoxical to you because in your reality one automatically mirrors the other. But it is not so for my people. It may also interest you to know, that my people have gone backwards in terms of technology. They have simplified further and are now often using manual labor and physical strength rather than technological devices which they have the capacity to create and yet choose not to, out of free-will, in order to preserve not only the environment but the planetary body they exist on. They know they could actually do the work easier with technology and yet choose not to. They are growing stronger.

Group Member: The true balance of what you would call male and female?

Sohrab: That is precisely it.

Group Member: But do they experience the separation of male and female?

Sohrab: Most definitely- Most definitely. Because just as on your planetary body this causes conflict and from conflict comes learning, so have they chosen to learn this way.

Group Member: Liquid light, what is it?

Sohrab: You will be the one who connects and disseminates that knowledge to your group. I will aid you in that process. I use the singular term “I” and not “we” for a purpose, which you will understand later. We have had many collective answers. Even though I am a collective creation of my people I bear more than one strand from your collective past. You will rediscover the and together we will work on liquid light for your group. I pledge you my support; so I will not give you an easy answer. It would be disappointing for you, you did not find it yourself and you know that. I will give you strong hints along the way.

Group Member: What is your planet called, Sir?

Sohrab: It has no name as you would recognize as it does not exist in your universe or your dimension. In fact the peoples do not have a language as you do at all. They do not even use what you would call telepathy but they do use vibrations. Yes, it is vocal vibration and therefore the vibration of the name would have no meaning for you.

Group Member: You mentioned that you are a Godhead by the collective energy of all your people. Would I be right in assuming, in every planet, the Godhead would be a collective head of our energies?

Sohrab: That is why I am here today, to explain the hierarchy that you know in a different manner. On your planetary body and certainly for your informed group, you have worked extensively, with beings of various levels. Let us use the word “Levels” today NOT to denote high and low, but different energy signatures: Some more expanded and other less. You have Masters of a certain level. You have connected with the angelic realm. You deal with the mythological realm. You deal with the actual Godhead and the various beings in between. Do you not? Do they exist? Yes. Of course they do.

Let us now explain to you how you draw to yourself beings of various levels. Imagine that in front of you is the energy of the universe, The Source, as you know it, A God. And your group has reached a collective vibration that is able to receive, let us say, two pin-pricks of this collective energy. As your vibration raises itself, individually and collectively, you create for yourself a window in the Godhead that is two pin-pricks wide and that is the amount of energy that you connect and merge with.

As you grow, you are able to widen space. As you widen the space, the being that corresponds to the window that you can accept on the other side passes through and connects. And understand why? It is not that these beings are withholding themselves of their own volition.. They are waiting in readiness. But were they to flood themselves through a smaller hole they would inundate you with their energies which could cause complete shutdown of your systems and that would not facilitate growth. That is why you are able to access only the energy level that you are ready for.

Now many of you, due to the work you do, are given a window of understanding of a being larger than you are ready for. You are given that understanding but you can never touch the vibration of that being till you are ready. In simpler terms, you can look through the window, but you cannot reach into it. And that window of opportunity is shown to you, to give you the vibrating desire to grow and expand. If you did not have that view you would have no desire to grow.

Now to further complicate the matters, a being like me, like “I” in the singular, does not exist out there as a grand master, oh no. No. I am one of the expanded beings that has actually been created by my people. I am a God as you term it, but I am a created God. Just as you can make a device that transports you from one place to another so am I a created device of my peoples, but am I real, and do I exist? Yes. I am not a robot or a machine. I am an energy-living, breathing, pulsating, vibrating creation of their expansion.

Group Member: Can they see you?

Sohrab: They are able to see, feel, touch and vibrate with me. That is their level of advancement. I appear to them in physical form. I materialize and dematerialize at their will. And at my own. This one in his excitement to hold my energies opened his windows too wide. (laughter) Yes, I appear and speak to them just as I am doing with you now. I have come here because you have deemed yourselves ready to receive my energies. You have done yourself the honor of inviting me.

Group Member: Can we also pray to you?

Sohrab: That is the next step, which your collective group needs to work upon. And you have already begun the work in the form of acknowledging a group collective energy. This does not refer to your temple. This refers to your collective group soul. A Group soul is a combination of individual energies of your group members along with an entity of the equal vibration of the Group.

Group Member: I have understood everything that you have said. But right now with this answer you have lost me. The God that we talk of. . . isn't that God or also a collective of all human creation that was, is, and will be. And therefore why the question of being created, we have already created our God. Haven't we?

Sohrab: But do you acknowledge that? Till you acknowledge that completely from the bottom of every single soul you will not be able to touch that.

Group Member: Which means humanity's consciousness has to acknowledge that?

Sohrab: Only humanity's consciousness.

Group Member: Now you lost me again.

Sohrab: Does the source not belong to every single creature throughout the universe? And various ...

Group Member: I appreciate that and the fact that your people can see their God, we will see our God, our collective, when humanity at large, creation at large, acknowledges the fact that God is our creation, that we exist in him and he exists in us, and I would think where humanity would come to a stage where your people are. With that acknowledgement we would materialize our God at our will- Free-will.

Sohrab: And when you have reached that stage, to materialize and dematerialize your God at will, the window will open wider for you to access (let us use the word) the Universal God.

Group Member: As Meherbaba said “God and beyond God.”

Group Member: Is it closer to our Matrix?

Sohrab: It IS the matrix.

Group Member: What is at the center of the matrix?

Sohrab: Liquid light.

Group Member: Why do we need a God? Why do we need to create a God? Why do we need to create a being that seems to put us down, why do we need to make ourselves feel smaller than we are?

Sohrab: You needed to create Him, I say the word him, because He needed you.

Group Member: It puzzles me sometimes. I don't think there is a He. We created. Why did we create this journey? Collectively? I am sorry I don't agree with that, that there is joy in that. Humanity at large seems to be burdened by this creation of their own. Where is the joy? I absolutely accept that it was with the senses, conscious that we created a collective God. To burden us with this creation, what is the purpose? That creation does not seem to give us, till we have evolved to a level of consciousness, that seems to give us a sense of well-being, that seems for most of humanity, in fact a burden that they carry something that they have to please and ...

Darshana: But you are doing it singularly. If you did it collectively, at the same power, you will (inaudible) that creation.

Sohrab: Thank you. Have you (to El) ever touched an impetuous moment of pure joy? Consciously? How would you describe that to these friends?

El: Yes, I have. To me personally it was an experience, very real, first time conscious experience of the force of love and the huge power that it has.

Sohrab: And so you have understood for a fraction of the moment, that that is what love means.

El: Yes.

Sohrab: Yet most in your world spend a lifetime deluding themselves about what love is. In their reality love is painful, vicious, mean, absurd and doomed. You have understood that in your three—dimensional reality, you also feel that way but have touched such a moment. You have understood the difference. So is it with God. So is it with God. If there was no separation, if there was no creation, of another, of a mirror, there would be no basis to experience one side and then understand and appreciate the other.. There has to be a separation for a merger.

Ell: So we created a collective to mirror our own personal power and to mirror our own ego-based points of love and power and punishment and appeasement and ‘you scratch my back and I scratch yours.’

Group Member: (inaudible)

Sohrab: Even he had to love. Even he had to experience. Perhaps you could speak to this one who has decided views on that! I come today for only one thing, to help you see externally a force created by our people It does not matter if I was created by 10 people or 10,000 or 10,00,000. The power is the same. It is time for your own magnificent group to work on their own single collective. Give them the understanding. It must be done soon.

Ell: By example I hope? I don’t know whether I will be able to really. It is an abstract concept because especially my views are so diametrically opposite to most. Most think God created polarity but I think I did. And it’s very difficult to talk to me. I can do that by example, I think Sohrab would be best to talk. So I will convey it to Sohrab and I will do it by example but I a very small poor aspect of God when it comes to teaching that!

Sohrab: You will both do it. It will have a different perspective.

Group Member: (inaudible)

Sohrab: And the search will continue. Did we create him? Did he create us?

Ell: No, you answered right in the beginning. Your peoples created you. Sorry that’s my stand and I am not budging on that one.

Sohrab: I will shortly leave you to your friends and their arguments and I will return to my wonderful friends who have created me.

Ell: Who have moved on and can see you. Thank you for telling me that . It gives us most positive faith that we too will one day materialize, touch, experience the collective force what we call God. Thank you for that.

Sohrab: And you still do it in slightly different form. Each and every one of you does it, when you suddenly, for a moment, connect with an aspect of nature, and suddenly the view of a mountain or the touch of a stream in your fingers brings a rush within you. Yes that is the moment you are connecting with the Godhead. And still you excuse it as “oh well, I am happy at this moment.” It is those fleeting moments that and the ones that cannot be created are the ones that spring upon you. Those are the moments where you inadvertently touch your growth. Acknowledge them and if you do they will get more and more frequent. But you cannot artificially create those moments... then the spontaneity goes. Then your mind plays those little tricks it so loves to!

Each of us is to sit for a few moments and feel directly behind them an angelic presence. We are visited today by a host of beautiful angels. Just allow a merger of energies to happen. They will work with you through you neck, shoulders and back If they reveal themselves to you, that is fine, if not, just enjoy the merger.

Blessings from the Godhead

Elaeenah Channeling St Germaine:

You, he and she (Yezaad, Jim, and Ell) must begin to channel without trance. Which means where Godhead energies come through, you will still be without a trance.

(To Yez): You must closely work and for you the training begins in trance. You will speak merely two sentences every day, not more. Initially there will be no connection, we guarantee you that but is that the purpose. The purpose is in utter confidence in what you say. Complete confidence. Even when they are personal messages, trust. You have asked for help to act. You cannot act without trust. And that is part of this training, to trust. All that is, all that happens, you trust.

(To Sohrab): You will connect, you will need that time. And then to maintain that connection completely outside of you by this, the connection outside because I hold your hand you cannot become me but through this I pass on my energy, which you must now learn to harness. You interpret here and speak as you. To trust all that comes. It will be even more difficult for you than these two. You will be harnessing energies like the one you did, like the ones you do. We are not asking you to do this in a larger gathering, not yet.

Sohrab: I have to start on Thursdays sir? It will be done.

Ell: But all these who come want to see the trance.

Sohrab: I have a big problem with that.

Ell: We know. That is why it is I who has come. At every stage of your dream we have moved together. Do not doubt If they do not wish to come.

Sohrab: But once in a while you will let me channel right?

Ell: we will let you decide because we know you have a sense of responsibility and you do not abuse it. Do it with joy, not anxiety and fear. You three are ready. You have gone beyond this stage of trance. You need it no longer. We urge you to take this part of your training very, very seriously. Very soon you have a large public arena to do where you will give the truths. There will be all knowledge, complete connection no trance. You have moved beyond that stage.

Sohrab: Be with me. So what am I

Ell: Do not hesitate to speak, teach, to preach. We choose three different mediums with care. There is a purpose and you will find that purpose as each one of you connects and speaks, uniquely, in your own diversely beautiful ways. If you do get a name speak it loud, if you don't that is even better. If you wish to talk as I do so, talk as Germaine, but with the full consciousness of yourself Now the words you select must be your own. The training, is not in not maintaining your link The training is in the perfect interpretation of a vibrations sent to you, in pure etheric realm, for you now to work upon and manifest in the physical.

(To Group Member): For you, it is to first merge with (inaudible). Do not ask for validation. Let the words spring spontaneously. Do not think so much about it. They maybe the purest form of gibberish. We too have always been .... (Inaudible). For the first time there is a radiant star. Joyously honor it. Of course you will still ask "why this?" Maybe one day you will channel the others. And maybe one day you will connect and as your beautiful self utter the words of the others.

We haven't forgotten you (To Dhiren). Go ahead. You are doing very, very well but son, yours is a very lonely path. Not many understand what you wish to impart. Even those who come in your workshops which we don't call them. What you are doing in your workshops, is empowering them with your energies, and even those who come often only leave with an intellectual awareness, blocking themselves from your true purpose, the sharing of your energy. Would you now, in subsequent workshops, include a segment, where you for however brief a time, decided by you, work upon each individual participant, separately, for the purpose of imparting and sharing and implanting the energy. You will be taught how to open the right chakra, how to implant and then how to close it again. This energy that you implant cannot be left open till that individual is ready to then use it.

More and more make your workshops energy workshops, much like, for example the 'reiki' workshops that you all have, where there is imparting of knowledge where it is far more chakric. That is where you are headed.

Dhiren: I was told that part of the session is to remove sexual blocks.

Ell: That is it. How will you remove the block, but with your energy implant. You have to provide the knowledge and the means to then work with that knowledge. Otherwise the knowledge is present but the energy block still exists. You must, must start upon energy work in the workshops.

Dhiren: (inaudible)

Ell: You always are When you have no concept of time you are always 'time being.' Talk about every aspect. Do not hold back; every game, every smallest nuance of psychological warfare. We know. And this too shall pass.

Sohrab: Before we close the meeting we would like to visualize Bombay and work on it.
