Sensing Angelic Presences

Trance Channelling begins..

Greetings from Archangel Zadkiel. Joyous, yes... The energies you have experienced in this room, were an over abundance of angelic energies of various forms, levels and dimensions. Now for the sake of further training, for all of you, each time you enter this room, there will be a predominance of energies given, so that you allow yourself the chance, the ability to identify and expand clearly with these energies. You smiled.

Group Member: Sir, of joy.

Archangel Z : You are witnessing a slightly different channeling today. He speaks as himself and yet contains the energies fully. You will observe, the rhythms will move, light and deep and light and he will not be permitted to control that. Once again, he needs to learn different forms. He needs to learn that he does not have to be in control, all the time. Sometimes he must trust us, sufficiently to relinquish control voluntarily. He does not like that. She does not like that. She does not like that. Sit for a few moments and experience a plethora of angelic energies. You will notice, that angelic energies per say, bring up two predominant emotions and associations within you. First the obvious: the joy- The feeling of expansion, the feeling of floating, the feeling of lightness of being: the feeling of expansion- But because you occupy a third dimensional body and mind, this expanse will also bring up in you a simultaneous rush of fear, of feeling small, of feeling unworthy. The debris is being churned up whenever you experience a wind of powerful emotions. Now the trick is to accept that. Not to worry, to accept that the pot is being stirred up. And allow the debris to emerge, and vanish- Because vanish it will-bit by bit, as these energies influence you.

(As Sohrab out of Trance): Guys, I am being told to narrate to you, an episode that happened to me a couple of days ago at my gym. I am being asked to help you understand how often angelic beings show themselves to us, and how we persistently push them away, refusing to acknowledge what we do see, do feel and do hear. And this is being said now, that we are at an energy level collectively where we must make this acknowledgement. It is essential for our growth. Because the moment you cut of the acknowledgement, you are pushing them away. Not that this disturbs them in anyway but it simply lowers your own vibrations. What happened was, (I will describe it in my own words), I was on the treadmill, looking on the street in front of my gym, and because it was raining the window was foggy. I saw, actually saw, an angel moving past the window. Not in my mind's eye, actually SAW one! I rushed to the window to look out again. What I had seen was a man walking down the street. There was under his arm, an inverted fan, a pedestal fan: a small one, with three extremely shiny blades in a black case. Somehow, the sunlight had hit those three blades. They were in such a position that I saw the Parsi Farohar. So immediately I said "Ha, ha, It is just a man with a fan and that's what I saw." What I am being told now, was why is it that I glanced at that window at the very instant when the light hit the fan and reflected only in my eyes, and not in the eyes of the person on my left or right? And my first thought was that of an angel glinting in the sunlight. I was given the message. I received the message and I refused to acknowledge it.

It's not a common occurrence for a man to carry a fan under his arm- that in itself should have given me a little indication, there was something beyond what I experienced. So I have been told that we are constantly given indications of their presences. Now we are talking only about angels and angelic forms today. We are given visual presences such as this. We are very, very often given what they call the wind (inaudible).- The feeling of someone brushing past us. It generally occurs in the neck area. You will feel a cobweb. No, it's the angelic realms and the wings. Generally occur in this area, not because it is a more spiritual area than other but because it is a sensitive area and it is a point of psychic reception. Let us please be aware of this.

Group Member : First time I tried automatic writing, I was completely frustrated with it, I went out to my terrace and looked out and it just touched me here and here and I wondered what the meaning was. (inaudible)

Sohrab get connected again

Archangel Z: Need we say more.

Group Member: Before you started this, I felt feathers were up and down here.

Archangel Z: And you sensed the joy? You sensed the light. Angels will very often use devices such as birds, insects and light beings to once again come to us. I am being told to say that particularly in a city where we don't have an opportunity to see a lot of birds, the presence of a bird behaving what you term slightly strangely at a given instance of time, is an indication of an angelic presence.

Group Member: This reminded me of something which happened, maybe 9 years ago. It was the day my daughter was born and I was returning home from the hospital and a crow or maybe two crows I remember kept coming and hitting me, actually swooping down touching me and going away, probably two or three times.

Archangel Z: That was not an angelic presence, but was a higher level presence that was coming, and an indication of a connection. It was a spirit presence working through you, for you. But you are correct in that, that it was a sign that you did receive. So be aware of that.

Group Member: I would like to know more about it.

Group Member: I would like to know, there was this angel in my garden and in my cupboard, and all of a sudden it has disappeared. No idea to where it has gone or how it has disappeared.

Archangel Z: Release it with joy. What do you need the image for when you have the real thing surrounding you at all times? Release it with joy. You are in a phase right now of release, in different forms, physically, emotionally, Group Member: I was trying to connect with my alien friends and I could feel something crawling on my back , upper back, and I acknowledged it as my alien friends. Whether it was angels or ..

Archangel Z: It was both. Angels from other realms that work with other dimensions and other planets, have a different appearance to what your angels have. Now is the time, that was the purpose of this exercise, about identifying the energies and the way those energies affect you, and to worry about the form. An angelic form, for certain aliens as you term them, are simple vibrant columns of light. No wings, no movement- Just an ever-moving column of light: That is what you experienced. You experienced an actual Ashtar angel. And do not forget, those angelic beings work as part of the Ashtar command. They are simultaneous angelic and Ashtar beings.

Question: I want to know. I have all these pigeons in my AC. I know they are very peaceful creatures but sometimes make a mess.

Answer: Clean your AC!

Question: AC is clean but are they angelic forces.

Answer: Pigeons are very often used by angels. Please understand that any bird, or animal or person can be used by an angelic form,... it does not mean that they contain their energy at all times. The angelic presence infuses it in them, appears for you and removes itself. So yes, they were and have been for you particularly, angelic presences at many times, but not at all times. Now distinguish when they are and when they are not. You are ready for that.

Question: Very often, I just hear this noise in my ears and I haven't figured out whether they are warning me about something or telling me about something. I don't know what they are saying?

Answer: You are starting to pick up cosmic sound and as yet you are not able to decipher what it means. But your consciousness, your vibration is opening to a level where at least now you are hearing. Be aware of it and ask it now to interpret itself to you.

Today's session is all about questions and sharing your own experiences. We must continue this. There were other questions.

Question: Here right now and most of the time, I feel someone scratching me. And when I actually go and look about I see a scratch, as if blood would ooze up. There is no sign of blood but I see a scratch. If it's pleasant it's ok, but sometimes it gets annoying.

Answer: This is not an angelic presence. You are connecting to rifts in dimensions that exist around you. You are connecting with other dimensions and energies around there that are not necessarily appropriate for you. You must work with a few of our friends here, to learn to not only protect yourself but to seal these rifts that have occurred, and constantly occur around you. This will be slightly damaging to you, if you do not look into it. Have no fear, there is no cause for fear. It is simply part of your growth process. Your energies and the energies that you are working with are so powerful at this point, that they are slightly out-of-control at this point and cause these rifts. When these rifts occur, energies of different vibrations and different attunement hit one another and cause disturbances. Work with this one. Work with this one. (Div and Kav) Speak to this one. (GI) All will aid you. It is part of the magnificent process of growth. You have a further question.

Group Member: Before the guides just wished me on the shoulders, that very same morning, I was frustrated with automatic writing, I heard a flapping on the window and I went outside to look and there was a very strange colored dove. Not white, nor a pigeon, but a very strange colored dove. So I went from behind, thinking that if I go from front it will get scared and injure itself. Then I said no, it might get scared and die. So I went slowly. And to my great amazement, it just allowed me to move it without a single struggle, in my hand. I think it was 4 or 5 in the morning, I was on my terrace and I was holding it. Actually I wasn't holding it, it was just staying in my hand. I was looking around and wondering what to do with a dove in my hand at 5am. So I said "Go, go, fly, fly." But it did not fly, just sitting there. So I put it on the ground and I said "Go, go." And he wouldn't. I said maybe he is injured and I just waited and waited and waited and then he flew off

Archangel Z: Who would wish to answer.

Group Member: I just feel there was an angelic presence, it was an angelic presence but giving a lot of energy at that time, you needed for that particular time

Archangel Z: Very good. What energy was being given to him?

Group Member: I think, love energy.

Archangel Z: Yes, but that is a general term.

Group Member: Courage.

Archangel Z: Allow the mind, the back seat. All of you are now using the mind. Feel the energy. Do not describe it in an adjective. The energy he received that day. It was an initiation of a form.

Group Member: It was the first time he received his cosmic energy that was the time he started his cosmic growth.

Archangel Z: It was a direct gift: Cosmic energy. And see how it was given to you through the palms. Simultaneously there was about you a shift that was flooding you with energy from the back of the neck, forming a triangle, triad of energies that first initiated you, a reconnection of cosmic energies of their purest form. It was a time of awakening. So yes, these contained love, and wisdom and acceptance and all the beautiful adjectives you had mentioned. This was the root. You wish to ..

Group Member: I want to ask a question actually. Every time whenever I am here, and the Oms and the Yathas are going on, I am made to not say it, but I am made to connect the energies of each one. Today I was made to do it only once. Then I was made to do, what I can describe to you as a whirlwind, where it was going up and then down, going up and then down, again and again and again. In that tunnel I was made to breathe in “you breathe into this tunnel” Whatever it was it wanted me to breathe in, so I just blew into this tunnel which kind of went with a wissssssssssssssss sound, and this is still there. And I thought to myself, that Sohrab is into one of his cosmic trips again, it very weird, So please it doesn't seem to have any connection with angels. So what was this?

Archangel Z: (indicating another group member) Explain...

Group Member: It was the energy of a... I think I felt Mother Earth tremendously powerful here. It's full of joy and happiness to be here. Maybe it was her joy that she was spewing out.

Group Member: No, there was no joy. I think there was no Mother earth, that I am absolutely certain of. So I really thought Sohrab was channeling once again.

Archangel Z: Alone? With this group of space travelers, who are constantly on trips, both sponsored and on their own? Sometimes quite pointlessly going round and round and getting nowhere. You did indeed, see, visualize, create and link all in this room to cosmic temples. As leader, you function on many, many levels. This was a semiconscious level you functioned on, to facilitate the meeting in this room. Were you not here, it would be aided and done by others in this room perhaps this one. It was to connect this current room, chamber and people within it not only to the cosmos and to Mother Earth, but also to different dimensions. Why?

Group Member: I am wondering where the angels are coming into this picture.

Archangel Z: To create what was need for this group of people. By opening these tunnels, you have permitted a host of angelic presences, from different dimensions, different realities, different planets, different understandings, and created realities to also manifest today. This was partly done by the work you did and partly done by the work which was initiated by this one before you entered the room and partly done through this channel right now. As we said, when we opened this meeting, you are subjected to a host of energies. It is now beyond you to just touch angelic presences that you are aware of. It is now time to experience angelic presences from other realities to what your concept of angelic presences are. It must confuse you, and in that confusion will come learning and understanding. That is where we are about to go now. All of you see angelic presences as these expanded beautiful, vibrant, loving light creatures, who also have great courage and purpose. Yes, that is true in generalization for all those angelic creatures in your realms. Let us start to introduce you, one by one to completely different energies, each as powerful, as loving, as for the light as yours but who function completely differently.

Suspend your reality. Understand that they do not function in a society or sets of societies that are like yours. Therefore a different, let us say vibration for your understanding has to exist in them. Just as for certain creatures, an acidic base is required and for some creatures an alkaline base is required, and if you put an acidic creature in alkaline base, it would die, as you term it and visa-versa. So are these angelic presences so, so different. Now be prepared to visit a few.

Alien Angel 1: I come from a dimension where destruction is of the light: To create we Destroy- Constant destruction of all that you term good, happy and kind. And it is in this destruction comes true dark joy. I am not permitted to radiate my energies to you, but you are permitted to simply link and sense my vibrations, not attempt to take my radiation into you, you will instantly suffer- and yet I am angelic.

Alien Angel 2: I come from the realm of anti-matter and what you term joyous, direct contact with me, and instantly will transform you into anti-matter.

Question: Do we have an anti-matter form?

Answer: Your anti-matter formats I am permitted to see is very, very expanded. However, it is not for you to experience in this lifetime. It is not the path you have chosen. Else you would be on our earth. It may interest you to know, that a protective shield has been placed around me, as has been described by this one, the whirlwind, for I would affect the angelic beings of your realm, close to you. My power of anti-matter is more powerful than your angelic beings of light. This does not make our race better. It is simply a higher pull. So to visit I have to place a protective shield around myself. And yet I am of light.

Archangel Z: Witness now what you have experienced. The Ashtar angel. For those who wonder why they were left out from the Ashtar angel race, it is simply that their bodies and energy structures on this moment was not in alignment with that energy. For those who received it, it was a boost that they required, in their energy structures.

The last angelic form that will be given to you today, will be given externally from this one, who will be permitted to visualize it, in the center of this room. You may choose to actually look and see or you may choose to close your eyes and see it from within. The form is now materializing into a small golden ball of light, that expands outward, in all directions, outward, outward, outward, the ball is becoming golden and this core center as it expands gets stronger and stronger by itself. Listen to it, feel it, vibrate with it. Expand yourself and your hearts. Feel this energy. It is very, very high level energy. Perhaps the highest, with you in physical form can vibrate to. You are truly receiving what you call the touch of God.

Group Member: Why am I getting a visual of Stonehenge?

Archangel Z: One of the many portals that not only has stored this energy on your planet. It has from time to time, in bursts of energy released it when it is most necessary. The Stonehenge: the primary source of this: The crystal bed beneath the ocean and the mountains of the Himalayas- a third. There are also other portals that contain this energy in different strengths, releasing themselves and these energies in different vibrations as and when they are required by your Mother Earth.

Group Member: I am now getting a visual of the Sphinx. Is that also one of them?

Archangel Z: This Sphinx and its energies are what magnify and keep active. This Sphinx and its energies constantly activate the third eye of each and every individual on this planet. It has within it, powers of such magnitude, that if they were completely exposed to humankind, they would destroy you. And yet radiated outward from the Sphinx, from the 7 Sphinxes that exist, not only upon the surface but the beneath, which activate a grid that connects with all third eyes together. Yes, very, very powerful.

Group Member: I was unhappy when I was at the Sphinx or at the pyramid.

Answer: My dear one, a wonderful question. And one that has a different answer for each who feels unhappy or discontent when they arrive there. There can be many, many reasons. In your case, several.

(1) You are already energy sensitive and you are picking up such an overwhelming dose of energy, you are overdosing on it.

(2) Positive energies of this level must attract negative energies also to keep in balance and you were picking up a lot of those negative energies; picking up a commensurate amount of positive which would then have balanced.

(3) There was an internal problem that you were suffering from which you were not fully conscious of at that point, and the energies here were causing further imbalances within the fluids of your body, causing pressure to build up in certain delicate areas.

(4) You were being visited by a host of extra-terrestrial spirits who were attempting to provoke and speed up your process of shall we say "medium-ship" You were not ready and you were fighting these presences on unconscious level, saying "Do not provoke and push me."

(5) And we could go on dear one. There was an intrinsic imbalance within you, a period of some disquiet, issues within the family and your own emotions were arising, these simply amplified.

Dear ones, what a wonderful example for us all to learn from. And these were about 5 points, just 5. Energy sources, of any form, a particularly energy sources of great magnitude must be respected. Respect does not entail false humility, bowing and scraping. It means bowing down to the cosmos and to your own vastness. Not an external source of vastness; your own. Acknowledging how powerful you are, because you have been able to communicate with that level of energy and yet desiring to grow and reach it consciously. Respect energy.

Questions, comments and sharing.

Group Member: I have two questions. One is, since the last 3 weeks, there has been a lot of changes energy-wise in me, I want to know what was the process happening in the physical. The process that we are all going through in the physical Archangel Z: My dear one, today's session is to do with the angelic realm.

Group Member: Some of us are using a lot of these angel cards. I want to know, what happens when we go out and touch those cards?

Archangel Z: Do these actual cards have angel power in them? Yes and no. No, because they are simple tools. Yes, because your energies are using them as a point of connection. You could actually pick up 20 stones from your road, place them before you and view them with angelic presence. It would serve you as well as the cards. However, as your society, 3-D knowledge, and growth capacity has chosen to use these, respect them as a great tool of energy. Energies that you are discovering are arising from within you. As you become more adept with any card form, you are simply attuning yourself to your own higher energies. The catalyst lies before you. Respect the catalyst.

Group Member: When I closed my eyes, I saw the symbol of the ..(Inaudible) I know it must be some kind of angelic energy.

The purpose of giving you a base visualization which was a golden ball expanding was simply to trigger the cell memory within each of you, that the cells would then accept this energy in the strongest possible form. If your own body found it was not responding that well, it would instantly change the form to one that would serve you better. Are angels actually with wings? Yes, and no. No, because just as you are energy beings, so are we. Yes, because the visualization because man, let us use the word man, has used over the centuries is so powerful thought created that form for us. Therefore yes, we do appear in that form, because it is the form that most appeals to those we serve. In the Ashtar, we appear always as a column of light, they do not wish to see wings; they function the best in pure energy terms: Purity, clarity, brevity Ashtar terms.

Question: (inaudible)

Dear one, you come from a line of humans who have mostly unconsciously been highly connected to the angelic realm. You yourself at the point of the earth birth chose to draw protection of three primary angelic forces who contracted to work with you throughout your physical life. You have them still. We will not reveal the names as you must intuit the names yourself. You are already aware of three primary strong presences with you, and do not forget that these three in turn connect to many, many others. You have throughout your life not only accepted and imbibed and accepted energies simultaneously as has been described earlier rejected this. It's a constant pull and push. As these angelic presences have allowed themselves to infiltrate your energies and raise them up, simultaneously your fears, doubts and anger has risen. Each always goes hand in hand. Permit the negativity to be moved out. Permit it. Now that you are consciously aware of this connect to the angelic presences. Constantly work with them: Consciously.

Question: I wish to ask about Archangel Metatron

Answer: We will work together. Be in light. We will work together. Fearlessly. There will be no fear. We will work together joyously.

One more question.

Group Member: When I was coming for channeling today, just the thought came to my mind: suddenly Archangel Samuel was there and he was giving me so much energy that I was flying. And I was saying maybe and suddenly wow, this session is all about archangels.

Group Member: I wish to thank all the angels for working with me so strongly through my crystal tarot. They have taken it completely to a new level.

Group Member: May we say thank you. (inaudible)

The Angelic presence leaves, and Sohrab channels Madame Blavatsky

(To Div): You will study my written words and you will reinterpret them You will reinterpret my words.

Div: I will.

Mme B: I joyously give you this task. You are a worthy opponent.

EI: Can she disagree?

Mme B: Of course I would accept no less.

EI: And which book should she?

Mme B: Give her complete freedom. Let her work as she is guided, interpreting sections first and then whatever she wishes. I leave the task to her entirely. Talk to me directly.
