Working with Energy Vortices

Pyramid energies

Trance Channelling begins..

The Archangel: We thank this special group for being with us today. They have come not to receive, but to give. And for that we thank you. (To a Group Member) We will work with you, specifically, during the course of this meeting.

An energy grid is being set up, as we speak, between these four friends, hence their positions. This is to be done unconsciously. There is no need to turn you conscious mind to it. Just permit the energies to enter your physical body, as they will: A special day for the energies in this room. Each one here has been fine-tuned to a level where this energy trip is now possible. Permit us to take you on a small journey. You may do this short meditation with your eyes open or closed, as you wish.

Go within. Trust your own expanded energies. You will see a small vortex of energy within you that appears to be a candle flame positioning itself somewhere between the hara and the root chakric areas. Allow this little vortex of energy to build in momentum. The flame now appears to be spiraling upwards, and it moves through your physical body, up the chakric system, till it reaches the crown chakra. You are now one unified mass of internal energies.

Do not label these energies in your minds, dear friends. These are combination energies; do not give them any one label. You will be limiting yourself. Just welcome them. As these energies increase within you, you will feel yourself getting lighter. Yes, physically light as well as expanded light. Allow this beautiful new light to shine out from all directions. Slowly you are forgetting that a physical body even exists. You are expanded light.

This beautiful expanded light is now leaving this physical body, (which is fully protected), and is traveling across your country, northwards. it is now approaching the mountains that you call the Himalayas. Allow yourself and this expanded light to take in the beautifully new, activated energies of the Himalayan Mountains. Much activity is happening there right now, energetically. Huge energies are being received and emitted from a focal point within the Himalayan mountain range.

Allow your light energies to be attracted to this vortex. You will find yourself drawn to a magnificent area in the mountain range, which has never been seen by humans before. It is an area of pristine energies. It is an area of divine manifestation. It is an area of vibrant energies: some come from across the galaxy, and are now being passed into Mother Earth. And simultaneously energies from Mother Earth are being passed out from this vortex and are circulating around the planet. Be at the center of these energies. Become part of them. Energies know no limits. You are floating free. You are vibrating. You are expanded. You are merging with all energies at this vortex. The stronger the vortex gets, the further your energies spread. Allow it to spread, not only within and around Mother Earth, but outward, throughout the universe. Yes many of you are receiving visuals of spacecraft. These are indeed hovering around the vortex. Some are fueling the energies. Others are simply facilitating this magnificent energy vortex. Be one with it. Enjoy its magnificence, its vibrancy. Contribute your own personal energies to this vortex. Now, in an instant, allow your energies to explode. Explode! Explode! Each time you explode you are birthing new energies within yourself. Once again, joyously explode!

Instantly, draw your energies back into your physical body. Instantly you are back. Feel these new energies, which are yours, yet are new. Feel them coursing through out your physical body activating cells, vibrating all the fluids, the tissues, within your physical body. Welcome this new and highly adjusted DNA to your physical structure. Feel where you vibrate most in your physical. Allow that vibration, be it in one area or several, to expand outwards; filling your physical body with a new and exciting vibration. Return to full consciousness, allowing a link with these new energies to continue. You will find yourself connected to the energies of this vortex, for the remainder of this day.

To a Group Member: We ask you, dear friend, to briefly describe your experience.

Nin: Great expansion. I felt I was there before.

The Archangel: Did you see a visual of who you where when you were in this area, in past incarnations? You have not been to this point, but have been near it.

Nin: I feel I have walked in those areas. I was male: Thin face, wearing a white garment; a tall. Shepherd and a hermit.

The Archangel: You were a hermit, shepherd, monk, herbalist, energy master and keeper of a vortex. Allow the mind to expand. The energies will reveal themselves to you... . Let us speak to you now, dear one. Explain to us your energy experience.

Ngis: It was mainly indigos and blues. It was swirling and there were ranges of blues and grays. It was very calming. When you said to explode there was flashes of red and orange. But mainly it was blue. It was a blue experience.

The Archangel: Do you feel that you have been in this area, in physical form, before?

Ngis: I have been to the Himalayas; I have been to Tibet, in this life time. Before this I don't know. I feel I was more energy than a being.

The Archangel: Thank you. That is what we wished you to touch. Touch upon the energies that you were in many past life times, in this particular region.

Ngis: The energy of divas and apsaras: People who fly. I get the feeling that I was this swirling energy.

The Archangel: Very good. Swirling energies. Now you, little one, tell us joyously without any fear, what you saw.

Ren: I see Apsaras and dances and swirling energies.

The Archangel: What does all this mean to you?

Ren: The joy of life— The dance of life.—The cosmic dance. It is creation.

The Archangel: Yes, you have been, in many lifetimes, a Master of the cosmos. A co-creator. Do you now understand your current earthly affinity for color, form, shape, movement and Artistry?. Have you noticed that in this lifetime your actual art moves in cosmic lines, rather than realistic forms? Tap into this energy further, dear friend. You are ready. It will take you further and further along the path.

Lets speak to you, dear friend. What was your experience with this mediation?

Kish: i saw meadows, flowers energy. I felt I was part of it. I was living in a cave nearby. A monk?(inaudible)

The Archangel: You have answered beautifully; with a combination of logic and intuition. Both are appropriate. Let us now look at the monk that you were. But this monk was not the usual kind of monk. Who was he? What did he do? What information did he receive?

Kish: (inaudible)

The Archangel: A good guess. Let us take this further. Let us give you a prod.

Khur: We did the journey together in vortexes; both of us, as physical beings. Then I identified with Babaji. Babaji sitting on his rock. Maybe it was my expanded consciousness that was revealed to me. It was like layers opening with each explosion the energy shifted. The energy changed. In the last explosion, I became him.

The Archangel: Thank you, energy Master! (To Kish) —Let us explain who you were in the particular lifetime that you have touched. And you have existed in this region, in many lifetimes, in different forms. You too were an energy Master, much like a human architect. Your soul purpose in this lifetime, sitting as a monk in a cave and very rarely emerging, was to channel and direct extraterrestrial energies and other universal energies, to create the dynamics of Mother Earth, as she is today. Much of your draftsmanship put together the continents, shaped the oceans, raised the levels of certain land masses and created a structure within which humankind could grow and progress. You were not solely responsible. of course not. There were others with who you were in constant telepathic communication; others around the globe. Each was placed in or near a similar vortex of energy.

You are all aware of the many vortexes of energy in and around planet Earth. NOW BE AWARE THAT THERE ARE ALWAYS A GROUP OF AT LEAST FIVE ENERGY MASTERS, IN LIVING FORM, WHO EXIST EITHER IN OR AROUND THE VORTICES, TO CONSTANTLY GUIDE, DIRECT AND FINE-TUNE THE ENERGIES.

To Khur: you have permission to telepathically communicate with the groups, or the individuals, to further your structures and currents. Have fun. It is a new and exciting game plan that you can work on. You will create fabric and tapestries that have not been seen by this planet. There are many like you around the world, who are ready to COMMUNICATE WITH these keepers. Many of these keepers are hidden deep within Mother Earth, and exist as Hermits, nomads, and wanderers— even what you would term ‘madmen’. Some are known to the public; others completely hidden. But they will have one thing in common. None of them will move any great distance from their particular vortex. They will spend their entire lifetime in close proximity to their particular vortex; else they would lose their connection. so that, dear friend, is what you intuited, as you have been a similar energy keeper in many, many lifetimes.

Let us now speak of you. Let us have your shared experience.

May: I saw a pristine white golden light, shimmering light rising out of the valley.

The Archangel: Who would like to offer an explanation?

May: (inaudible)

The Archangel: You were, and you were (pointing to 2 Group Members) energy communicators. You used your own, let us say, physicality, though it was not physical, as you know it now, to transmit energy from various vortices around this planet. You were an energy messenger; only someone with a high level of vibration can contain different strands of energy, and transfer them around the globe, a vital task. These energies including information, knowledge, wisdom, love, light, E.T folklore and different other strands, required for the growth and development of mankind.

Are you now beginning to see now why the 4 of you have formed a sub-group? You must take at least one session with just the 4 of you, where you speak to one another of what has transpired today. Much more information will arise. Each must help the other to decipher. Deciphering for self is always harder. Explore this aspect of your unified past.

Let us talk today a little more of vortices. The one that has just been explored by each and every one of you is a new vortex. It has just been activated on your planet Earth. This is not what you call Shambala, as many in this room thought. Though Shambala is also a collection of high level, uncontaminated energies. This is a new Shambala. The activation of this particular vortex will have great effect on this planet and the planetary bodies around you.

It is a new and highly volatile vortex. We say this not to scare you dear friends, but to tell you how to work with these energies. And you have been given permission by the celestial counsel to merge your energies with this vortex directly.

Now in this year of manifestation, high—level energies will circulate through this vortex. Energies are released into the Cosmos by Mother Earth through this vortex. They gather new and appropriate energies and move back in a cyclical motion to the vortex, and are drawn back into the core of the planet again. And once again the cycle continues and again, and again, forming a structure like a black hole. However, this black hole will not function as you know black holes to function. The strength will increase in this pattern, aiding Mother Earth and all her inhabitants to move into the 5th dimension.

But the energies are so powerful and so volatile that each one's individual thoughts and emotions can now manifest in an expansive form. If you wish, for example, to work collectively on a particular project, connect as a group to these energies and give the project your focus and you will manifest whatever you wish. But with it comes responsibility. Stray and random thoughts take these energies in different, dissipated directions, which then may affect all that they touch. The responsibility is monumental. Let us help you understand this further by allowing you to ask questions.

Group Member: May we individually manifest by connecting to the energies of the group?

The Archangel: Yes, you may. Remember, this vortex energy has not been given to all in your group. It has been given to this small sub—group. And it may be in the future be given in a different form, to the other group members.

Group Member: Are there more vortices around the planet, or is this the only one, shifting us into the 5th?

The Archangel: Newer and newer vortices are constantly being formed. Energy does not remain static. From instant to instant, newer and newer vortices of different magnitude are being activated. However, this particular one is of prime importance, in this given instance of now and must be worked with for the next several months. It is like a flood of energies. Other small vortices will open around the planet; some of them have specific tasks, e.g. some smaller ones will only work on the dissemination of universal knowledge. And so those energies may be only used for that task.

THIS IS A MULTI-PURPOSE VORTEX. IT MAY BE USED FOR ANYTHING YOU WISH. ANYTHING, INCLUDING DESTRUCTION.

Group Member: (inaudible)

The Archangel: Let us explain this. You are all aware of the various energy centers, such as the pyramids, the mountains in the Inca regions, other energetic areas under your temples. These activate at various points in your human evolution. Depending upon what energies that is required to be released. Sometimes they lessen their intensity. Some even lie dormant, while others are activated.

This is simply to maintain the balance that is required at that given time, for human evolution. And there are many such friends, like this one, who orchestrated the game-play between different vortices. There are others like this beautiful one who work with all simultaneously. And there are others like this friend who carry the energies around, distributing, adjusting, fine tuning, vibrating the energies of your planet, allowing her to grow in the most fruitful manner. So vortices are constantly being activated, placed into dormancy, activated, and placed into dormancy. But even when dormant, the energy of that area is much higher than that of the surrounding areas. Hence you will feel a vibration when you visit that area. Like the Stonehenge.

A Group Member: Because Earth is having a dimensional change from the 3rd, 4th, 5th, certain vortices are opening at certain places. Vortices are connected to lei lines around the planet, the grid. Can you explain on that?

The Archangel: We will give you a brief explanation, dear friend. You are aware that a grid exists, around the planet. Now be aware that hundreds of thousands of grids exist around the planet, any planetary body, any physical body, any sentient being. These vortices work in a most 'musical' manner. Just as your music rises and falls, and a combination of notes activates the most melodious sounds to your ears. But when you take them individually they are just notes. So do the vortices around your planet create universal music. Imagine the symphony of celestial energy that is being raised point by point, strength by strength. Some in a gush, others in a sharp beam, like a laser. Some in a soap bubble formation, others in a fountain of light.

Each one will affect the lei lines, the grids they are most akin to, some will work on one grid, others on hundreds. So, as these grids, these lei lines, get activated, they in turn form an energy vibration, that set off other vortices. A whole symphony of energies is played out around you. These vortices, these grids then affect, naturally not only the human race, but all other sentient beings. And they vibrate in the grids around you, causing you to release your creative energy, your emotions, your anger, your fury. Each spark of light sets off into motion a new energy. A new thought, a new vibration, a new aspect of creation. Do you now understand, beloved one, why words fail us?

Group Member: The energies that you have discussed today. You have talked about the destructive and the creative side of them. And somehow I am visiting energies that I am familiar with and I am wondering what perspective and understanding I should have? From what I knew and from what I am now being told.

The Archangel: Does anyone understand this question?

Group Member: Are these the same type of energies that I knew earlier? Or have they changed?

The Archangel: These are completely new, dear friend. Let us explain your energy structure to you to understand self better. You are a complete enigma, energetically. Accept this. You are only an enigma to your third-dimensional, conscious self. And you had to be, to reactivate the learning and wisdom within you. You had to place the veil between YOU and you. For most others in this 3rd dimensional form, they function in a time line of past, present and future in their understanding and their energies also move in this manner.

But there are a few in your group who function as inter-dimensional beings. You are one of them. You constantly move between dimensions, sometimes incarnating in one era and dimension, and in the very next instant moving in another completely different time line. This does tend to cause confusion, and this is a very courageous step the higher soul takes in order to garner experiences of all aspects, not only of this universe but all universes, in all times lines and all dimensions. When you, personally, go to an energy vortex such as Stonehenge, it will set off in you, energy memories of different dimensions and timelines. As you are functioning in a continuous timeline in the 3rd or the 4th, you are not able to access those memories of familiarity somewhere within your core you are aware that you are familiar and have experienced these energies in the past, but are unable to hold on to and receive any information about it. The 3rd dimensional mind clamps down and says to you, "I am feeling something, but I do not understand it, perhaps I am creating it in my mind." The only way to access more and more information about these energies, which seem familiar, yet seem complex to you, is to have complete trust and faith. Nothing else will serve. The instant you have faith in them and you trust that they will work for you, they Will. And it is from that, that you will receive memories.

May: May I ask a personal question about my physical experience? I felt no explosions, just calm and heat in this arm. I am continuing to feel light and this component is burning with a soft heat.

The Archangel: Let us explain. You are, in this life time, a "double agent"! You exist in this 3rd dimensional form and you are experiencing whatever issues you wish to go through. You are experiencing your growth and learning in this complete manifestation of 3rd dimensional form. Simultaneously you are working as a separate entity, still carrying these energies around planet Earth. More than half your work is done in the astral, every night, by the other part of you. Now this is not the astral form of this body. It is the part of you that is working every night, astrally. You are as 2 souls, joint together connected. You have chosen an expanded and courageous path to follow. Now, welcome your twin brother. You are experiencing his sensations at this point. As you are finally merging with his energies, remember he is another aspect of you, but he is completely separate from this you. This is not your higher soul; it is another aspect of you. We use the word twin brother only as an example. He is a twin of You.

Group Member: Could you explain to me what I say and felt? I took this energy and put it on my head like a towel.

The Archangel: Let us come back to this. Let us finish with this child's utter confusion. But first someone here wished to add to this?

Group Member: He always carries energies from where ever he travels, especially China. And he imparts them to us. So he is the energy carrier.

The Archangel: Do you see how the 2 of you work together at all times?

Group Member: Is this twin a separate soul, or is it the same soul?

The Archangel: 2 aspects of the same soul. Hence he is not actually a brother. He is a twin of the same you. It is a hard concept to understand, as you don't have this in the 3rd dimension. Hence he is attached to you energy wise. The 2 of you move as one. When this energy form is addressed, he is free to fly and return. This must not be confused with your concept of the higher soul. (Points to other Group Members) They will help you understand this better and better.

Do you see why we say have a long, private session?

Group Member: When you asked for the explosion I was instantly taken to those beings that are like slabs of granite, floating around the cosmos. Why am I still feeling their presence? What is the connection?

The Archangel: My dear friend, a very good connection; beings such as those who aid vortices around the universe. In fact, sometimes their energies trigger the explosion that is required. They float free through space and time. Their grids automatically set off the appropriate energy structures, in all aspects around them, planets, stars, asteroids, celestial beings, energies of space; that is part of their function. That is what you picked up.

To another Group Member: describe to all the sensation that you received.

Group Member: I took this energy and which my physical hands placed it around my head....
(inaudible)

The Archangel: Would any one like to offer an explanation?

The Archangel: You are not permitted to sit in this room and not speak. From now on it is demanded by all.

Group Member:.... .inaudible.

The Archangel: Thank you that is correct. Let us add to that. Would you like to state what you think this means, 'taking the energies around the head'?

Group Member: inaudible

The Archangel: We will not worry her further.

Group Member: She was feeling the need to protect herself from something that she was afraid of. That's why she wanted it as a support.

The Archangel: Let us fine-tune this answer, which is semi-accurate. You have picked up the essence, but the human mind (which often does this) has restructured the answer to make sense. Our friend here is a living conduit to these energies. And she has chosen to do this as part of her growth in this 3rd dimensional form. Unlike our friend there who works with a twin, she has chosen to literally carry these energies around her like a wrap. She is incorporating them into her grid; one of her various grids. And she has contracted to use these vortices energies, not just the vortex you visited now, but all the vortexes, to aid those around her. Part of these energies will be used to sooth fear when others need it. Not her own, but others. And of course -in serving others she will work on her feat that she carries, as a 3rd dimensional human. She has surrounded herself right now in a grid-like structure, which you may all look at if you are able 'to see'. It is moving in an extremely vibrant form and is solidifying around her. And she will use this to help benefit al those who come into her sphere.

Group Member

The Archangel: It is simply the activation of the highest aspect of self— The Maha Atma. That is your form. You were simply reminded of it. it was already present.

Group Member: Do all the other planets benefit from the energies going around us?

The Archangel: Always! Just as, in a household, when one particular person emits constant joy and love, all the others pick it up. And it may work in different ways. Those who wish to work and expand will work with it and expand. But there may be one or two in the household who may want to work in a different way and perhaps want to experience pain and suffering. And for those, joy activation is not appropriate, so they will, in fact, use it to go in the opposite direction and increase their pain and suffering; so is it with these energies. As the planet evolves, the energies affect all planets and planetary bodies around and in turn these set of a trigger of energies in those bodies, helping some grow and expand, and others contract and shield. Let us leave it at that.

Group Member: I would like to know now that the earth is moving into the 5th are the pyramidal energies lying dormant?

The Archangel: It has been explained to you before, dear friend, and we do not wish to repeat ourselves, but for the benefit of the ones who were previously not present, we will summarize this.

The pyramids on earth act as a hub of energy. The pyramid in itself is not complete as a structure. It is only a energy conduit or hub. When a pyramid on earth lines up with a pyramid on another planetary body, a beam is formed between the 2 and then the energy is activated to the maximum. The instant the pyramids move apart the beam is severed and they stay dormant. This is constantly in motion, therefore pyramids activate and deactivate instantly, at points you have no concept of. The other hub of your pyramid may not even be in your solar system. It may be across the universe. Do you now see how these beams activate and deactivate? But the hub will always contain within it a vibration of energies. Even when deactivated.

Group Member: How will it help us go into the 5th?

The Archangel: More and more of these “beams of light” are now being activated at greater and greater speed, and more and more powerful hubs from around the universe are being aligned with your pyramids, to create energies that are required for your growth.

Group Member: Are the pyramids connected to the lei lines and the vortices?

The Archangel: Indirectly. The vortex that you just worked upon will add its energies to all aspects of Mother Earth. Some vortices will use this energy to reactivate and others will use this to shield themselves from it, as it is inappropriate for them to be in active mode just now.

Group Member: And these vortices, will it help to change the grids of humanity into the 5th?

The Archangel: Yes indeed. It is one of the many tools.

Let us now explain the presence of our 2 friends. Why have these “new friends” been introduced to this group?

Group Member

The Archangel: We would like to ask our energy master to tell us about the root energies in this room.

Khur: This must come from the work I do. I work with circuits. And sometimes the circuit is not complete, because I am looking for a connection to activate it. It just does not fit. Fresh new energies I have seen just come and help me complete that circuit. This is my personal experience. So I wait for these people to come, because my circuits are ready for expansion of light.

The Archangel: Have you completed new circuits today?

Group Member: I have.

The Archangel: Would you like to add anything further?

Group Member: What was implanted in me, those energies are still very strong. Today with the vortices, added to it, has given me a further expansion of what I must do. I request the Masters to please help me because the responsibility is huge. The souls that I deal with, I sometimes fear, should not be hampered or hindered in any way.

The Archangel: You are starting on a new phase, my dear friend, in your work. You are aware of this. You have been given much information over the last few days. Today we add this: Begin by choosing any one vortex on planet Earth, you wish to work with. You are not bound to it, it is simply a starting point. Allow your intuition to take you to whichever is most appropriate to you. It need not even be an acknowledged vortex. Then choose from that vortex, one soul that you choose to connect with, in telepathy. And speak to that joyous soul that governs the energy of that vortex. He will instantly connect you to the others. From that you will receive the entire grid of planet Earth. Now you will be instantly connected to any vortex and any soul keeper. This will eventually tie in to the work that you have been given. You will start to see the beautiful celestial connection. Enjoy it. this work cannot be done without joy. It will not work. The connections will fail if you do not have joy. Play with it.

These 2 souls (Pin and Farz) are beautiful souls of light. They have come today, not only to complete circuits, but also to share with our group the energies they contain. They work in diametrically opposite ways! Energetically, this friend (Pin) as she grows and develops with the work will learn to draw into her grid, negativity of others. Pain, suffering and sorrow. She will learn to transmute and sent it out into the universe, where it is required. She will not draw it into her physical.

This child (Far) will just be a beam of light. She will infuse light into all those she meets. Do you see the beautiful counterpoint?— Each doing exactly the same, in opposite ways. Which is better, which is worse? Neither. Both are magnificent. Take a moment now, and examine the energy structures of this child (Pinky). What do you feel?

Group Member: I feel a cool breeze coming from her, very refreshing and calming. Group Member : great strength. Ganesh energies.

The Archangel: Indeed a very powerful aspect of herself. Do you see how she is setting herself up to be the receiver in the future? Wisdom is being reactivated. Growth, self development; She is spreading out her energy net, to be this magnificent receiver.

Let us now take a moment and view this child (Farz). Her energies.

Group Member: I saw her as a tall structure, like a Street light, and she is below transmitting to the above.

The Archangel: How does this child make you feel?

Group Member: Joyous, effervescence; attracted to her light, like a beacon, like a lighthouse. I thought she was an angel and wanted to love her.

The Archangel: You are right. The angelic family is extremely connected to this child. She must now learn about the angels. Kindly aid her. Allow the release. Provoke it. Allow the angelic connection to activate. Fill yourself with the energies. You are reclaiming who you are. Yes my beloved, the angelic realm has come to reclaim you.

You will provide her with the appropriate essence. Allow it to be one that releases all the doubts and allows the angelic connection.

Be in Light.

BLESSINGS AND JOY FROM ARCHANGEL MICHAEL.
