THE UNIVERSAL PEACE KEEPERS
Channelled by Sohrab

Peacekeeping Energies for Planet Earth

Trance Channelling begins..

The denseness you noticed is not denseness, it is richness of energies. However, your earthly energy structures respond to our rich and full energies, interpreting them as dense. Were we to describe our energies in earthly terms, we would cause you to get images of rich and luscious fabrics, vibrant but deep colours, and wonderfully strong perfumes. A form of sacred geometry that is indeed complex.

Welcome to the realm of the Universal Peace Keepers. Take a moment and 'feel out' our energies...now you will understand what we mean by the word rich'. Many of you have connected to earthly visuals of richness, to help yourselves understand our energies. That is correct.

We come now to introduce ourselves to groups such as yours. You are now ready to meet intergalactic species whom you have not paid any credence to in the past. You have been made aware of the Ashtaar, the Acturians and other wonderful space friends. Now it is time to understand how others, such as us, function.

We are not one physical species like you. We, too, belong to a planet-like structure, but some of us are in physical form, some in semi-physical form, some in gaseous form, some in electrical form, some in the form of pure energy. ..and yet we are all one and the same. If your species could truly see yourselves and a bird, a rock, and a pool of oil as being brothers and sisters, you would then understand how we co-exist.

Each of us has a vital role in Universal peacekeeping. For example, those such as myself, who are in spirit form travel throughout the Universe (though we constantly visit our home planet to re-charge our energies>, keeping peace between species. Once again, your minds are instantly grasping earthly concepts of two warring factions or planets. Not at all, Not at all.

Let us help you see one way of our peace-keeping. When two sets of Ashtaar friends are required to work together, let us say, for the upliftment of Planet Earth, their individuated strands of energies may not be compatible. We peacekeepers devise energy methods of helping them co-exist for the task at hand, ensuring that they suffer no conflict of energies.

How often have you, dear friends, after a session of ' heavy channeling', found your bodies to be in a state of turmoil, with after-effects like headaches, body pains, nausea or dizziness? Beings such as us help facilitate a smooth flow of conjoined energies. Yes, on rare occasions, when there are two intergalactic species who do not agree on a Universal aspect, we do function as negotiators. But this is rare. Remember, most species work for and with the light!

You have seen how we function in a couple of areas of peacekeeping. There are many others from our homeland, who are in liquid, gaseous or oil-like form, and do the same throughout the Universe for other compatible species or substances. In fact many of our own kind, in liquid form, have been working with your oceans (which have a consciousness of their own!), helping them combat all the toxins you have put into them, and helping them de-pollute.

We hear your thoughts. Why have we not been successful? Dear friends, had we not aided your planet, your oceans would have been destroyed long ago, and your marine life would have, by this time, vanished. We are permitted to peace keep and help, but we are not permitted to change the blueprint of the planet, nor interfere with your processes of free will. We must permit a certain amount of polluting to take place for your own learning. However, we have been given the Divine right (by YOUR masters, not ours), to intervene to a certain extent. You have to be nourished to a certain degree by your oceans, but at the same time, you have to learn and grow from what you are doing.

This is but one example. There have been other planets that have come into contact with comets or asteroids, which have instantly removed all liquids from that planet. At times like that, we are permitted to re-introduce an appropriate amount of liquids.. if that action has not been part of the blueprint of that planet.

Yet other friends from our homeland are in energy or gaseous form, and they work to regulate the balance and the flow of cosmic energy throughout the Universe. Let us once again illustrate this point with an example pertaining to your planet. At this given instant of now, you are being allowed access to higher level cosmic energies on a regular basis. You have been given instructions through classes and channelings. And yet each person on this planet is permitted a different level of these energies, based on their own structures, their development, and their affinity for this.

We use giant cosmic reflectors to direct this energy to your planet at the appropriate intensity, and at the appropriate intervals of time. This gives you access to 'blasts' of cosmic energy, which is required not only for your own growth, but for the evolution of the planet. Would you like to question us at this point?

Group Member: Would you work with warring nations on earth itself?

We wish to answer this without offending your earthly sensibilities. Let us answer this in a roundabout manner. Please do not take offence.

Many of your own Naturalists move about in your jungles, observing the behavior of animal and plant species that exist there. At times, the naturalists interfere with what is happening, and change the course of events; at other times, they just stand back and watch. Is this not correct? It is the same with us.

When there are what we consider petty quarrels (which may not seem petty to the actual warring nations), we simply stand back and watch the game play out. At times, when there are going to be repercussions that are not warranted, either for your development or for the growth of Mother Earth, we are then permitted to step in, only after having received the permission of your guides and Masters, not ours. Understand that each realm has its own hierarchy of Masters. We MUST take the permission of your Masters and Guides, and only then are we permitted to play the role of peacekeepers.

On occasion we have stepped in and actually stopped battles, by altering brainwave patterns of certain key personnel, to change the outcome. This may sound to you like complete interference, but remember that it is always done carefully and with the total acceptance and blessings of not only the guides and Masters. but also of the higher souls of those involved.

This has happened on rare occasions in earth's history, where there were certain experiments that took place (without your conscience knowledge), misusing nuclear power. These have been well-hidden by your governments. But there was a point in the 1960s, when we were allowed total and complete interference. One of the strong possible outcomes was the total annihilation of your planet, and all those on it. This would have occurred by 1967. This was over-ridden. An actual breach took place spiritually, blueprint-wise. It was not intended at all, and yet could have happened. We were permitted to step in. Thanks to our 'interference you are still in existence.

Group Member: Right now the earth is moving into the 4th & 5th dimensions. What role are you playing in this?

We were about to explain this. We have now surrounded earth, once again, in our role as peacekeepers. Earth, and all those inhabitants of the planet who are choosing to stay in physical existence, are in the process of moving through the 4th dimension. You may call this a tunnel, a process, whatever you wish.

We are simply here to form the walls of the tunnel. Do not take this literally. You are all now, energetically, between two dimensions, in 'no-man's land', Here, there are no rules! There is no order, everything is changing. What you knew to be the truth in the 3rd dimension does not hold good, and yet, what will be the truth in the 5 dimension you do not quite know yet. You have not experienced it fully for self. So many of you are floundering, and wondering, "Why is all this happening to me? Why do I feel so confused? Why is everything around me falling apart?"

It is simply that your own structure, not only physical but mental, emotional, spiritual etc is acclimatizing to this passageway. We, as peacekeepers, help you work through your issues and move into the 5th dimension. We try to minimize the trauma and upheavals. But we don't take the experiences away from you. We literally cradle you in our energies and help you gather strength to move to the next step. But we don't push you.

So if you choose to remain at a certain level, we simply hold you energetically, keeping you together' at times of great stress or confusion, giving you that little 'nudge' to help you find what you now need to know or believe. Many of you have sensed the presence of Angels, guides and Masters during this trying time. Now acknowledge our presence as well. We are with you all the time...

It may interest you to know that there are a group of peacekeepers who are working specifically with your own spiritual group right now. We attend every single session that you hold, not only in the two primary locations, but everywhere there are sessions at all, even if there are only two people working at a time. It is our joy, our duty and our task to work with you, and urge you towards the right direction. (To Farz) You have felt our presence many a time, dear friend, but you have not know who we were.

It is friends like us who have brought you, inexplicably, into balance at moments of great stress: Remember us. We do not ask for your gratitude. We ask for your acknowledgement, so that YOU can now bring yourself into alignment with our energies. Serving you is our joy.

Group Member: How should we visualize your energies and use them?

Visualize us however you wish. But visualize us supporting you, cradling you, nurturing and guiding you. Call upon us joyously. We WILL help you. Remember, we are not permitted to work out issues for you, but we are there to provide the energy armchair for you to rest upon, recuperate and move forward!

Group Member: So if there was an unpleasant situation could we use your energies and shower them upon the opposite person in the situation? May we diffuse the situation with your Group Member: Energies?

No. But you may use our energies to enhance your own, so that YOU may do the work.

Group Member: (an unclear question about cleansing the earth)

But we minimize it. Always understand that in anyone's healing process, be it Mother Earth's or an individual's, it may be a part of the experience to undergo a certain amount of pain and discomfort. But it is ALWAYS permitted to have someone to soothe one's brow, hold one's hand and help one through the experience with sage guidance. At times, on rare occasions, when we are allowed to change a certain course of events or to remove the pain for a brief period of time, we do..., but we don't take away the cancer.

Group Member: So for a brief moment of time you can change the blueprint?

Ah...she plays with words! No, the blueprint is never changed by US.

Group Member: When the 4" dimensional energies become shaky and (inaudible)

That is a line we would never cross. We have your Master's permission to help, nurture and soothe you but we cannot change your pattern. That is a growth path you must go through. But here is an interesting aspect about the 4th dimension, Blueprints are shaky. They can be re-written by you. That is the power you now wield! At this point in the given now, you can change your outcome if you choose. This has never before happened on earth. An exciting time to live in!

Group Member: How do you regulate the cosmic energies coming to earth at this moment in time?

Let us explain this in simple terminology. We have certain tools at our disposal which are used as reflectors to direct cosmic energy throughout the universe. We also use energy meshes of different quotients. Each mesh has a different formation of geometry in it. and by manipulating various combinations of these meshes, we permit the appropriate levels of energies through to earth and its inhabitants.

Were we to unleash pure cosmic energy to you without these safeguards, you would be instantly incinerated, But we assess, instant to instant, the growth and evolution of EVERY SINGLE human beings and living creature. as an individual and as a collective, and taking all these factors into account, we permit the energies to permeate you.

Once they have come through the various meshes and have been refined or strained (in your terminology), we then surround EACH EARTH BEING with a different mesh, which permits the appropriate amount of energy to enter their grid structure.

As you grow energetically, the mesh has to be upgraded. Were we not to do that, your growth would be stunted. That too is not permitted.

Group Member: What is the power of Cosmic Energy? And why do we connect with it?

Cosmic energy is the basis of the Universe. It is the structure, the power, the vibration, the essence of everything that is, and everything that is not. It simply is. It is the foundation upon which sacred geometry is based.

Group Member: Do you work with the higher violet flame at all?

It is an essential part of the cosmic energy that we are releasing into planet earth. It is the core center. The violet flame is now a higher collection of strands of energies and vibrations. A different frequency is being passed through it, so to you it seems to be a different colour. It is simply more complex sacred geometry.

Each and every lightworker on your planet now has an individual upgraded violet flame symbol that hovers about a foot above your crown chakra and is exactly the shape of a flame. It has no colour and no energy; it is simply an upgraded cosmic energy structure containing complex sacred geometry. This is the 'key' through which complex energies are being passed into your bodies. This works with the mesh we have placed around your bodies. This is the trigger point. Simply be aware of it. You do not need to do anything with it.

Group Member: Is it due to this cosmic energy bombardment of our bodies that I and many others feel so sleepy, have headaches and other bodily upheavals?

When new energies are passed into your physical bodies, the individual atoms and molecules start vibrating and a different frequency. Not necessarily higher, but different.

It takes a while for the cells to accept this 'upgrade'. The cells fight and resist the change. Remember, your cells have a mind of their own, which is different from your brain 'mind'. So though you may be consciously inviting in the new energies, the cells work at their own pace, and often resist.

Start getting in touch with your cell 'mind', and aligning that with your body mind. This will ease the process.
