New aspects of Astrology and the Planets

Trance Channeling begins

How many in this room have a basic knowledge of astrology or at least an interest in the subject? (Several hands were raised) Thank you...may we request you ('Gl' & 'Nar') to change seats? We require your ('Nan' and 'Nar') assistance for this meeting.

We will discuss, today, the effect planet Earth has on other planetary bodies. All of you have always focused on the effects the planets have on earth and her inhabitants. Now understand how you serve them...

(To 'Nar' and 'Nan') Take each planet, one by one, starting with the first, and give a brief description of its energies, and its effect on the earth.

MERCURY

Nar: Mercury—is the smallest of the planets, its very close to the sun, it is almost never far away, 27deg. away from the sun, which means that it conjuncts or comes close to the sun very frequently. Has the impact of, stands for communication and it is the lord of the 3rd house, it's a planet that controls your speech...

☀: Continue...is it only for communication...?

Nar: No...mercury will motivate you into certain kinds of action, which sometimes may be negative...it is mischievous and a young planet...terms of playfulness it can create...am I right?

☀: Absolutely.... continue (to nandinie)

Nan: Its to do with expression, thinking, intellect, to do with ...ummm...quicksilver...

☀: Does it include aspects of anger?

Nan: Yes with an aspect of mars...mars it will do with anger...but it is thinking and communicating planet...it's a very young planet...

☀: Communication...How does Mercury effect the communication on earth? ...effect not affect...

Nar: It's like all the communication tools that we have, wether it is Internet or it is the telephone or the radio, or these are under Mercury and Uranus...It's a messenger...*

☀: So you are aware this planet facilitates communication. It permits newer and newer tools of communication and vibration, and it has an element of the red of the anger, as you perceive it. How does Earth affect this planet?

Nar: The earth will steady it. . Compared to Mercury the earth is sluggish .....which will be steadying the planet as I see it.*

☀: (amused). Quicksilver...what happens between Mercury and Earth? The communication energies generated on planet Earth are of two predominant kinds...perfect, harmonious, clear communication; and complete lack of or miscommunication.

These two contrary aspects, together form an extremely powerful energy strand , which intertwine very much like a corded rope, and send out energy pulsations to Mercury's core. Now remember we are talking only about how the Earth affects Mercury...the network will extend when you understand how each other planet affects Mercury as well...are you now beginning to see the grid that is forming?...but we will not complicate the issue today...

So let us first take the powerful streams of communication that already exists on planet Earth. Every time you harmoniously communicate with a friend, with a relative across the world, with a group of people sitting in front of you, with your own family and children; each time you successfully communicate through words, thoughts, actions or vibrations; a very powerful, positive, sturdy, secure strand is formed above planet Earth and this is fed and strengthened by all those who are successfully communicating around the planet.

At the same time ( and equally important) are the strands of miscommunication, where you have spoken words in anger and they are not heeded, or they are interpreted wrongly, where you have not been able to speak out your truth, where you have suppressed the truth, for whatever your personal reasons are, where you have spoken out words that have no meaning, but have now generated a new energy that is not appropriate: all of this which seems to be on the rise right now, forms a parallel strand above the Earth, Yes, we use the word above, because it is above your North Pole.

From there, these 2 strands of energies begin to intertwine, and they form a corded rope which fuels and feeds the core center of the Mercury. This causes a molecular reaction within the core center of Mercury, which actually contains certain elements including what you (nandinie) call 'quicksilver.' Mercury then releases beams of pure communication.

This comes back to planet Earth and fuels the minds of the scientists, the doctors, the mathematicians, the physicists, and all others.

If you look at your own generation, as a collective, you will find that you are far more articulate than your grandparents were. You can now express how you feel, what you think, what you wish to say. What is the rise of 'therapy'? You are now better able to communicate with self, and therefore better equipped to communicate with others.

VENUS

Nan: Venus is the planet of luxury, sensuality, love, wealth, clothes, diamonds, and jewelry.... feminine aspect

Nar: Venus is a nurturing planet, stands for love as we all know, a motherly planet, it will be kind, beneficial planet. Venus controls the blood stream, some bodily fluids, and it is something it is harmonious...creates peace.

: Thank you...it is the core center love of Mother Earth that fuels Venus directly.

From the core center of Mother Earth, pulsations are released. Just as your own physical body has a vibration, a pulse, a rhythm that is unique to you; so does your planet Earth. This is released in a rhythmic manner into the universe. Venus is able to access this pulse, and reflect back to you, in a magnified manner, those aspects that are appropriate for the earth, at any given moment in time. Therefore Venus will not affect planet Earth in the same way as it affects the other planets.

The Mother, the core that you ('Nar') spoke of is extremely accurate. The opulence that you ('Nan') spoke of is the Mother's abundance. It refers to every aspect of the Mother's abundance, abundance of physical wealth, abundance of love and joy, abundance of a healthy physical body, abundance of a healthy life, every aspect of abundance of the Mother., the feminine aspect, not the masculine...the Venus directly affects your feminine, bringing it into balance and offering it an opportunity to expand, grow, develop.

Venus works energetically very much like your Moon does. You are affected by Venus much as you are affected by the moon. The pull is so strong, that there are periods where the Venus has to affect, vibrate, and activate your feminine side, whether you wish it or not, but the Venus will not work upon the Masculine: there is a residual spillover, but there is no direct work upon the masculine.

Nar: I thought that if Venus is sending out such wonderful...is there any negativity that Venus can send out... in terms of over-indulgence, or over sensuality?

☀: As we said earlier, Venus picks up that aspect that is required by the earth to be reflected back, so the abundance comes in a pure stream. How you individually or a group chooses to interpret or use this, is your choice. Some will go into imbalance of the feminine; others will find the most powerful feminine balance...their choice...

Nan: I need to ask this...do all the planets work in a combination?

☀: Of Course...we are trying to make it simple for the group, not all of whom are 'astrologically savvy'. At a future date, we will take all those who are interested, and offer them a view of complex astrology, where you will study the effect that each planet has upon the other: it will change your astrological perceptions and turn them inside-out!

Nan: I think planet Earth needs a new way of using the planets...

☀: Of course...you are still working with a relatively two-dimensional view of the planets...

Nan: .... the planets are working right now...I yet feel...when the retrogrades take place, I am observing it

☀: Of course they are working, but when you understand a 6 dimensional figure rather than 2, your own knowledge will help you tap into aspects that you have blocked out...

Gl: Do Venus and Mercury have their own moons?

Nar: I don't think Venus has a moon...

☀: Both have similar bodies that orbit their structure, causing an effect similar to the moon, but they are not physical moons. Venus has 3 separate asteroid-like bodies that function together, sometimes as a trio, and sometimes individually.

Nan: Are you talking about Eros? That's another asteroid...

Shr: (inaudible)...does it reflect a negative on another...

🌅: Each planet demands a certain level of energies to be directed back at them. For example, at a certain point in time, Mother Earth may put out a certain quotient of 'motherly' energies, but may require double the amount to be reflected back to her.

Venus will do just that, but she does not have the right to change or restructure that energy, as it would take planet Earth into a new level of evolution that may not be appropriate, so she must reflect back the same energy, but at the required magnitude. This varies from time to time during your calendar year, and is also determined by other factors, such as the energetic evolution of the planet, and your collective desire to grow and evolve.

MARS

Nar: Mars- the masculine, the power, the force, sometimes anger, but also achievement and strength, and rashness to some extent, something that is so vital, for human beings, as vital as what Venus is....

Nan: It's the masculine principle, the aggression, sexuality, blood, energy...lust, drive...

🌅: Wonderful! This works in a direct manner: all the negativity, the fury, the anger, the disharmony, the imbalance that you put out is PURE FUEL for this planet. Do you now understand why, when some of you have expressed guilt about cleansing out your bodies and shedding your debris into the Universe, we have told you not to worry?

The negativity that you remove when you are working upon self, or another human being is pure fuel to Mars. It is the most beautiful fuel for this planet, who takes your negativity, your anger, your lust, your fury, your imbalance, and your aggressive masculine tendencies, and allows all of this to be absorbed by the beingness of the entire planet, and feeds off this, creating within the planet a vibration that is so powerful, it is perfectly balanced masculine energy.

Yes, the planet itself is perfectly balanced masculine energy, and unlike Venus, who reflects it back to you, and to the other planetary bodies, this forms a power-storehouse which is accessible by anyone and anything in the Universe.

How does it come back to Earth? Every time you feel weak, unstable, insignificant, all you need to do is harness a single strand from this planet: it will fuel you, balance you and energize you.

Other Beings from around the Universe use this as a great power source, some of them use this to power vehicles, to power communication devices, to facilitate inter- galactic transport. Use this power and balance your Masculine

Now, if you use it in imbalance, you will only draw imbalance to Self and you will go out of whack. The, your anger levels will increase, your imbalances will increase, and your masculinity will go into further disruption.....questions....

Gl: you immediately answered my question...is this why Earth has been positioned between these two...

☀: Yes...yes...if we were to give you the full chart, as we will in the future, you would then understand why each planet is positioned exactly between the 2 other planets and not only the 2 other, but why the next one is there and the next one here, and the next one there, and the next one here, all have a grid-like effects.

Shr: Because of the ...Venus the planet of love.... was that planet chosen when Christ as born...for guiding...

☀: (to 'Nan')...Explain...

Nan:...At that moment in time, Venus and Jupiter were conjunct in the heavens...that's why there was a bright star...Venus is the planet of love and Jupiter is the planet of wisdom, spirituality and expansion, so both of them came in conjunction when Jesus was born....

☀: Would you like to describe other conjunctions, at times when other Prophets were born?

Nan:...No, I don't know the others...I....

Nus: Maybe I should have asked this earlier.... but it just came to my mind...I did a very interesting course on healing recently...and we were told that each chakra of ours has got a connection to each of the planets, Venus is connected to Hara (womb and creation) and Mars is your Solar plexus, Saturn is your root chakra, and Heart is the Sun, throat is the Jupiter, 3rd eye is mercury, and crown chakra is associated with the moon.... when we meditate on these chakras, knowing the elements and the influences...can we not be more in control, when the retrogrades...and the conjunctions...whatever...

☀: Rather than use the word 'control', use the words 'grounded in Self'...Yes, you can be more in alignment with Self, because within Self is that planet ...now do not look outward: within Self is the effect and therefore is that planet. Yes, you can change the structures if you are at an energy quotient strong enough to do so and believe it, or else you will not be able to...and that belief must come from within Self; then you can throw out the effect of all the planets and live without a horoscope...and there are a few who do just that...

Nan: Is that happening....

■: We have spoken in the past of the Unified Cosmic Chakra, have we not? The Unified Cosmic Chakra implies that the chakric system, as you know it, now does not have that strong a hold and if you change focus and dimension within Self, you are working with a unified energy center, which includes the influence of all the planets at the same point. When all the planets affect one chakra, at the same point, the level of power that you harness of Self, is immeasurable, because you are then the entire solar system, you are then the entire galaxy, and you are then the entire Universe...

Nan: You are the Cosmic Self. We haven't yet come to that...we are floundering....

Gl: Are there any planets, which the scientists have not discovered as yet?

■: (laughing heartily)...are you speaking of your own solar system, are you speaking of your galaxy, or are you speaking of the Universe? How many planets do you know of...in your solar system? (to Nargis)...what do you think, dear friend?

Nar: I think there are other planets, they may be not visible, but there are energy planets...but there are energy planets and they of course impact us as well...visitations of just energy from a particular planet. And that has been there...billions of years..

Nan: I think human beings are limited only to that much...and there are other unlimited aspects of the Cosmos...there are fixed stars and asteroids, ■: Absolutely...

Del: I don't know if it was Uranus or Neptune, but one of them was discovered because there was an energy...they calculated that the energy between Pluto and Uranus had to have something between them, because it was deflected, that's how they discovered Neptune..

■: This is a hard question to answer, as your definition of a planet and our definition of a planet is different; you perceive planets to be vast physical bodies of a certain quotient of mass and matter. There are over 144 planets in your own solar system...

Nan: I am giving up astrology...

■: Over 144 planets in your own solar system. This does not take into account asteroids, stars and other universal bodies that you are not even aware of yet; we are talking about planetary structures, over 144 in your own solar system!

These planets have different quotients of energy mass and material: some of them are similar to your Earth, in terms of physical density; others have a higher level of vibration, which you would still be able to see with the naked eye, but they would appear to be clouds of dust. Their molecules vibrate at a much higher level, and would seem like solidified clouds of dust.

And there are yet others, which have a matter and density beyond your spectrum: you cannot see them, but your scientists can pick them up on your instruments; and beyond this there are yet other planetary bodies that cannot be picked up by you and will not for many years to come, but they are still planetary bodies that inhabit your solar system.

Some are much larger than your Earth planet, and some are perhaps just ten to fifteen feet in diameter: but do not consider these powerless. Many of these are far more powerful than your Earth planet...

Nar: Small...dense...and so they are...*

☀: Shall we now tease and challenge you? Some of these planets have been birthed by black holes ...

Nan: I need to ask a question on this one... this black hole that we were told about 2-3 weeks back, I want to know how the energies are affecting the energies of the planet...more to us than the Earth..*

☀: We will speak of this separately to you... black holes continue to absorb matter, just as you know they do, and become denser and denser. From time to time, a certain offshoot takes place, very much like a wart on your skin, which will start to develop at the periphery of the black hole. If the density and the energy quotient of that 'wart' begins to change from that of the black hole, it breaks off and forms a planet-like body. Some of these are also in your solar system.

Now these when they break off from the black hole, they do not perform the same function of constantly absorbing matter. They gain a density and sentience of their own, very much like a child growing up. This 'little child' begins to experiment with the cosmos, with the energies around and decides for itself what it wishes to do.

You give birth to your children, but never know what profession they are going to pursue in adulthood, or how they are going to develop in terms of personality. These planets are generated and develop into children of the Universe, with full free-will...Yes, free- will...beyond your concepts of free-will

☀: Of course.... AND THAT HIS WHY CREATION DOES NOT KNOW WHERE CREATION IS GOING, BECAUSE CREATION IS CREATING CREATION. .... creation does not create a finite entity, so the universe is rediscovering itself at every moment.

Sur: What is a comet?

☀️: Dear one, that would lead us off onto another track, but we will answer this briefly. The spiritual function of a comet is to literally be a 'trail-blazer'. The energy that it expends is limited. The comet flares, moves for a certain period of time through a certain arc of space and finally burns out.

Now, some of these comets burn out after hundreds of years, others after a few hours, but each one has its own responsibility: that of being a trail-blazer. What it does is acts as an energy pathway, breaking ground for other softer energies to follow, just as you would use a drill to go through a concrete wall, so that you can create a hole. The comet functions in exactly the same way and once the hole is created and is completely void of any kind of energy, the appropriate energies find this the passageway they need. What these energies are we cannot go into today.

Nar: Saturn

Nan: Jupiter comes between Mars and Saturn...

☀️: Why are you fixated on order? Go where you are led.

JUPITER

Nar: The novelist, wise, guru, and giver of benefits, it facilitates, so in my thinking, if you want to do something wrong and if you have Jupiter it will facilitate you to do something wrong...it's a facilitator.... benevolent planet...imparts wisdom, knowledge on one hand...it allows travel.... considered to be the planet to allow people to go overseas and explore and widen their horizons...

Nan: Expansion, joyous, wisdom, and joyful planet

Del: Wisdom, and in pictorial representation its an old man with long flowing white hair and along flowing white beard...Dumbledore...old being...wise

☀️: Thank you...how wonderfully accurate our friends are!

Energetically, this planet works like A UNIVERSAL LIBRARY. Imagine a vast library, a storehouse of knowledge and wisdom...remember knowledge is not wisdom...knowledge and wisdom.

Earth does not have to feed this planet, Jupiter just IS. It contains the knowledge and wisdom of every event, every scenario, every possibility and probability and certainty of the entire Universe, in the form of ENERGY MEMORY.

Each time you take a voyage, as you ('Nar') very correctly mentioned, if the voyage coincides with an aspect of growth of knowledge and wisdom, then you tap into these energies, otherwise you do not. Now do not judge the voyage as being frivolous if you are only going on a holiday: that is not the criteria. The criteria is, are you a searcher from within? You may only be going to the Dubai shopping festival, and nowhere else, but you can still harness the energies of wisdom and knowledge in that singular trip, if there is an inner desire within you to experience new environments, new textures, new fabrics, new objects, new business and marketing strategies... that may be your search.

To use this planet, you have to extend yourself to it; you cannot wait for it to just affect you. Each time there is a rise in the search for wisdom or knowledge, as is going through all of you right now, you are connecting with this planet. The instant you walk into this room, energetically you put up a 'feeler' into this planet; you do not have conscious knowledge of this, but you do it and instantly the appropriate knowledge that you wish comes back to you. That is why, after a session such as this, if each person is asked individually to narrate the contents of the session, each would have a different 'take' on it, and each one would remember different information. That must be.

You are all, right now, connecting to this planet and to this (Sohrab) friend; and it is through this connection that you are receiving the appropriate amounts you require today. No more, no less...

Ruk: The masters viz a viz Jupiter...

☀️: Master energy in general find this a very soothing space in which to reside, it is like a haven. It really and literally is like an energetic refuge where the Masters can spend time with Self...Yes...even they need to spend time with Self...to rejuvenate, refresh, access new aspects of wisdom, draw and research what they need for their growth and the growth of those under them.

An afternoon in this wonderful library is like having an energy massage –it is pampering Self in the best possible manner.

Sur: (inaudible)...how does this planet help...like you said...knowledge, wisdom, does it mean that the person in that sphere is wiser...how do you apply it, in the Spiritual sense?

☀️: First let us understand why you choose your Birth date...the exact moment, the time, day and year is chosen very very carefully by all of you. This you already know.

When you are in spirit form, and with the help of your Guides and Masters, you actually use 12-dimensional astrology, where you are not examining only the point of your birth; you are examining EVERY POINT THROUGHOUT YOUR EARTHLY EXISTANCE.

Not one moment, but billions of moments: where you are going to be at 3 am on a certain night at the age of 50, when you are going to be fast asleep, so that that instant in time is the most appropriate for your growth and development, as predicted by you before you are even born. Moment to moment throughout your lifetime.

Now do you understand why we say Live in the Now??? The Now is as perfect as your point of birth. You have all understood the importance of the point of birth, but you have not understood the importance of the NOW. It is as valid and potent because in this moment of NOW, there is growth, there are new streams of development, there is new wisdom, there is new knowledge, there is new understanding: you have planned all this by placing the appropriate set of planets, not only in your charts, but physically where you are located. You are meant to be in Bandra at this moment of time, not at Colaba, even that changes the effect the planets have on you!

GI: The red spot on Jupiter?

: Let us say it is a storm; it is a collection of energies, working differently, helping anchor the other surrounding energies of the planet. It has a very high technical and mathematical reason that we do not wish to explore today. It will always be there but it will change from time to time, not only its location but also its size and intensity.

Nan: Do astrologers miss out on a lot of points....I mean ..

: Now don't belittle your own magnificent abilities. The two of you ('Nan' and 'Nar') are knowledgeable and wise. Sometimes misguided, but for the most part very, very accurate. You are growing at the natural level that is appropriate for you. How can you possibly work with 12 dimensional astrology in the physical form? It is not possible. We just wish you to be aware of this, so that you can permit it to seep into your consciousness.

Let us move on...

SATURN

Nan: Restrictive, discipline, slow, cold, lead...asexual..

Nar: I would say it is a teacher, not a guru, but a teacher...who teaches you lessons, who doesn't hide things in a nice smooth way as Jupiter would do...it just brings out, throws out all the things, that you need to see in your face, hence learn lessons so it's a teacher of that kind, ...a harsh teacher perhaps it's the only one that allows you to progress, assimilate and move on ...Saturn is one of the most important fulcrums, in any ones growth, in terms of learning, understanding, experiences, it is cold planet, and it is constrictive, very asexual.. ..(Inaudible)

Del: Saturn has the most colors...3 rings of Saturn...

☀️: (laughing) Saturn functions very much like a magnet: the energies from Earth that effect Saturn are all these aspects that you spoke of... what you term positive and negative, both these aspects.

Whatever is released from Earth: the sexuality or lack thereof, the coldness, the sharpness, the teacher, the firmness, all of these and more, send up energies into Saturn, which are harnessed by Saturn and are formulated by her, into what is called an ENERGETIC MAGNET.

Yes, from time to time, Saturn has a build up and these energetic magnets are sent out through out the Universe, but we will talk about your planet. They will hover around your physical planet, in the form of energy magnets, and will instantly respond to the call of those who wish to grow, through cleansing of old issues and acute clarity.

These magnets will attach themselves to your energetic beingness, force out your debris, and at the same time, will offer you to examine the aspect that has come up with acute clarity.

Now whether you choose to use that clarity, or whether you choose to once again get caught in your tangles, is your free will choice. But the instant the magnet attracts this aspect and draws it out, you are flooded instantly with clarity, and that is why we say "don't think', but use the first thought that comes to mind, that first thought (snapping fingers) is the clarity that this magnet gives you.

Nan: (inaudible) Venus and Saturn are considered friends... one is a cold planet, one a warm planet...

☀️: Use your own earth example of the mother to understand this: your mother loves you, nurtures and hugs you, but at the same time disciplines you and teaches you right from wrong.

Next planet...

NEPTUNE

Nar: Neptune is considered the planet of society, large numbers of peoples and humans, very sympathetic and compassionate plane on one hand, but it also has the reputation of being sly, and manipulative, it has got 2 sides to it, but by and large it is socially conscious as a activity..

Nan: Very psychic planet, dreamy planet, illusory, illusions, deals with drugs, and a very hazy planet..

🌅: (to 'Nar') Let us use two of your words: 'social consciousness'. That epitomizes its energies.

Social: A collective.

Consciousness: Awareness, knowledge, wisdom, growth and expansion.

As the social consciousness of Earth increases (and in this case, we refer to the social consciousness of humans, animals, plants, minerals: every aspect of Earth), energy waves are sent to this planet, where they are stored. They are stored and they are intermingle with the energy waves of other planets' social consciousness, and they are then fed back to Earth, with new, upgraded ideas that the planet deems Earth is ready to receive. This is how you received the information to start the Internet.

The social consciousness of Earth placed an awareness in this planet, explaining that it had now reached a level of spiritual readiness for a new level of communication. There was a need for a new level of sharing of information, thoughts, ideas and promoting social consciousness beyond existing boundaries. This 'call' was answered by the awareness of the Internet.

URANUS

Nan: Shocking, electrical, Inventions

Nar: Yes inventive...and a little unpredictable because, it is something that puts a new thought, a new impetus into the consciousness of human ...

🌅: A three-way energy grid exists between this planet and the scientific, mathematical, and creative minds in the Spirit Realm and those on earth, who are simultaneously experimenting and creating new thoughts, ideas and concepts. This planet acts as the go-between. Energies flow from the spirit realm through this planet, to the appropriate minds on earth, and back again from earth through this planet to the spirit world.

Let us discuss your famous Stephen Hawking. As we mentioned in an earlier session, he chose to do two things:

1. He chose to cut off his physical senses, so that he could fully shift focus to the brain and his divine connection. He did not want the complication of human physical desires, needs and wants to detract self from his mission.

2. He chose to shift his energy center from his core center to the brain. By doing this, he chose to BYPASS the three-way connection with this planet, and use a direct channel between self and the scientific/creative spirit brains.

A very brave and courageous choice to make, as the outcome would not be a certainty. He could have failed miserably and short-circuited self, causing a burn-out. Yet he succeeded.

PLUTO

Nar: Hidden desires, minerals, Hades. Why do you refer to Saturn as 'her'?

: The planets change energetic sex from time to time: they do not all remain forever with a masculine or a feminine predominance. At this instant of the NOW, the Saturn is in feminine; this does not correspond to your astrological knowledge of this. It is an internal energy shift that takes place, you are not even aware of it as yet, but you are sensing it. You are beginning to sense these changes.

When they change energetically from Masculine to Feminine, they do so to realign self, to maintain the perfect balance for their tasks. If they did not do this from time to time, they could get trapped in their own issues: even planets can get trapped in their own issues, just as humans do.

Do you see the paradox of the Pluto? The hidden part that exposes all. It is the beautiful paradoxical aspect of that which is most hidden within us. Within, not us as humans, but as beings without Time and Space. The True Unconscious.

Past lives, present lives, future lives, other aspects when we weren't even lives. All that is hidden from us, which now wishes to surface, not as exposure to the public, but as revelations to Self.

It is one of your greatest friends and every time you indulge in the occult ,as you are doing right now on planet Earth, and every time you explore parts of who you are that have never seen before, you are feeling this beautiful planet, and he or she...he or she acts as this beautiful mirror, sending those vibrations back to humankind in general, so if even one person upon Earth is searching, the effects are felt by all on Earth, giving you the opportunity to look within Self, way beyond your limited concepts of Self, way beyond the limited aspects of emotions, thoughts, feelings and desires, but to help you discover the Who Am I.

BLESSINGS, LOVE AND LIGHT
