Earth's New Magnetic Grid

Trance Channeling begins

There is a new magnetic grid being established on Planet Earth. Very soon your scientists will report this. They are already finding new aspects that they cannot understand in the Earth's magnetism. The tides are changing, the ebb and flow of the seas has now shifted and of course all the liquids in your own bodies, in your cells, are churning.

This new magnetic grid is affecting you in many ways. Many of you are having restless, sleepless nights. Others are being awakened at strange moments, wide awake, for no apparent reason. You may have noticed sudden 'attacks' taking place around you. Physical attacks, energy attacks, emotional attacks. Have you not noticed tempers flaring very suddenly? Arguments and fights that seem to just erupt? Normalcy one moment and a violent dispute the next?

Others are feeling physically drained, listless, tossed upon stormy seas...all part of an acclimatization process that is taking place right now. And there is very little you can do, except to attempt to align with this new magnetic grid.

Your physical magnets will now start functioning differently. The seas which used to ebb and flow in a certain manner, now have displaced energies within them, and new eddies and currents are beginning to appear and even the physical tide will change in its direction. Sometimes it may flow transversely across a beach, sometimes in a different direction. New spiral currents will be observed. Your Earth compasses are going to haywire right now. Navigational instruments on ships and aircrafts are also shifting and behaving inexplicably. Your own moods are puzzling and confusing you.

This new structure is vital for the growth and development, not only of planet Earth and all her inhabitants, but of your entire solar system as a collective.

Right now Earth is releasing a magnetic pulse: this, too, will be reported in your newspapers shortly. Earth is releasing a magnetic pulse that is vibrating other planetary bodies and creating a 12 dimensional grid within your solar system. She has become the temporary heart centre of the solar system. It is a joyous task that she has undertaken and this will benefit all of you immensely....immensely...align with it.

Each and every human being is suddenly being provoked to explore aspects of themselves they didn't know they had, or to attempt hobbies and inclinations that they were never drawn to before. Your entire creative field is being shaken up, vibrated and released.

Some will be strongly drawn to spiritual work; others will be drawn to aspects of their lives in which they wish to expand. For example, a woman who has not been very involved with her family may suddenly feel the need to be a nurturer and caretaker. A businessman who has never explored the artistic side of himself, may suddenly be drawn by impulse to some form of Self- Expression and creativity. Some are being specifically 'called upon' by their own bodies, to give self a cleansing and overhaul. The energies are working upon your personal creative centre: vibrating it, expanding it and showing you that you have no limits.

Physically, the best way to align with these energies are first to acknowledge that they exist and then to attempt to align with them. We will explain what is happening in your physical bodies right now with these new magnetic energies.

You are all used to a system that has been on Earth and has evolved very gradually. A system of influence from the tides, from the moon, the sun, the other planetary bodies; and the structures in your cells, particularly the fluids, move in a certain rhythmic pattern, in a certain rhythmic vibration with which they are familiar. These have evolved naturally over the years, but so gradually and gently that your cells have been able upgrade and adjust, without any trauma on your part.

The new magnetic grid is working at a very rapid rate. The cells feel like they are being pulled, pushed, crushed and expanded at all times. This is causing an energetic release from within you which naturally will bring up emotional debris. As the emotional debris comes up, you are suddenly faced externally with circumstances that mirror this debris to you, so that you can deal with it. For example, the quintessential 'victim' will suddenly find all the 'tyrants' appearing around him or her. And yet you are now understanding that you are physically creating this, by the cellular 'chaos', though it is not chaos.

The best way to align with this, is to energetically open the cells, particularly when you are at rest. Lie down for a few moments at night, before you fall asleep, and visualize every cell in your body opening up. Now you cannot go through every cell, but you demand a collective 'open', and at the same time visualize the energies that are flowing around you at that instant, because the energies are changing moment to moment. If you hook into alignment at that moment, your sleep will become more restful, as your cells will then flow harmoniously with the energetic changes through the course of the night.

In the day, when you are awake and very cognizant what you might do, welcome anything 'situation' that arises and say to the Universe 'Bring it on, bring it on, here and now! I am not scared; my cells do not know fear right now.'

Remember, your cells are reacting as strongly as the cells of the person who is standing in front of you. Possibly his or hers are reacting even more vigorously, and therefore he or she is vibrating at a higher level, causing him to have aggressive tendencies, the need to attack, the need to decimate, the need to enter into conflict. But the instant you say 'bring it on', you are instantly aligning your cellular structure with the energies around, and you cannot fail. You cannot fail. Questions, before we move further.

Group Member: You said that present...magnetic surge...if it was taken away human beings would go absolutely crazy, so what now is this new magnetic surge?

Sohrab: Yes, you are correct. By virtue of the fact that you are 3rd dimensional beings, if all magnetism on planet Earth were miraculously removed, you would, first of all, disintegrate and those portions of you that had not disintegrated would simply float off the planet.

This new magnetic grid (and we use the term magnetic, dear friend, though it is not specifically magnetic as you understand magnetism) contains very high levels of cosmic energy. This new magnetic field is working not upon your emotions, but upon your 'creative centers'. Each human being has within self a creative center that is unique to him. Let us understand what a creative center is...

Group Member: ....Creativity is Divinity....

Sohrab: Of course...of course.....BUT NOW YOU HAVE TO LEARN TO EXERCISE YOUR DIVINITY AT EVERY LEVEL OF CONSCIOUSNESS. Divinity in practical day-to-day life; divinity in every action, thought and word; divinity in your interaction with others, divinity in your interaction with self! You are merging your holy trinity: mind, body and soul. And you are learning to acknowledge that you HAVE NO BOUNDARIES TO YOUR ENERGIES. You are acknowledging that you are ALL THAT IS.

Are you aware that even parts of your fully expanded consciousness, sometimes resist Divinity? You have always thought, "I only resist it here; I don't resist it in my expanded Self. But even your Expanded Self, though it has far less resistance than you have here, f resists a certain element of Divinity and it MUST, otherwise you would loose any semblance of individuality, even in your vastness. That, too, is being upgraded.

Group Member: That means even in the Supra consciousness there is an element of Ego?

Sohrab: OF COURSE!

Group Member: Ouch!

Sohrab: Yes ...and why is that a dirty word? Yes, it must be and it is beautiful. But the Universe now, as a totality, is changing its perception and choice of level of ego at the supra-conscious level and that is filtering down to your creative centers, within you.

The creative center within your physical body is not a space, it is not a chakra, it is not even an energy. There are no words to describe the creative space. It is divinity, it is force...

Group Member: Possibility....

Sohrab: Force that resides within the Realm of Infinite Possibilities...Let us look at this very practically. There are many you know, who have never taken no for an answer. We have spoken of them before, Your Bill Gates, your Mahatma Gandhi; yes, even your President Bush, Oh yes, no judgments here, your Hitler. These are magnificent beings, in their own way, who have accessed their own creative centers and acknowledged the light that they emanate, who are you to question I, when they don't? You only have the right and the ability to question your own light.

They access from this creative space deep within them such certainty, that they are able to manifest whatever they choose, as they are in full alignment with their own creative space. This creative space, which of course is what you would call Divinity, influences every aspect of your life. It is Who You Are. It is your rhythm, your essence, your vibration. It is what makes you unique. It cannot be defined, it cannot be quantified, it cannot be pinned down in the physical body, it is simply a force.

Group Member: Today when I woke up...life force....

Sohrab: The life force is a part of this.

(Sohrab now refers to the pre-meeting discussion about the world joining together at a certain time at night to empower earth) Access your own creative center, right here and now, and join with the creative centers of all those around the world, who are doing the light work that has just been spoken off. And you don't have to wait a second, you have done it already. You are already joined with the collective energy of all those on Earth and within Earth, who are choosing to support this process. You are linked, you are part of it. It is done.

For those of you who do choose to physically be awake, do so. If your Beingness is urging you, for personal reasons, to link with this at the appropriate moment in physical time, please do so. And for those of you who are comfortable with your creative space right now and have already linked, it is done. Questions, before we proceed?

Group Member: Just need to clarify something...20 days ago, I started getting up at 4 in the morning...and I have just been experiencing a certain blank...there is no direction...there is no...being without a thought...what is the...

Sohrab: You are very correctly attempting to align with the new magnetic grid...

Group Member: Its happening...I am not attempting anything...

Sohrab: Of course you are...

Group Member: I am???....oh okay...

Sohrab: Otherwise you would not be awakening at those moments; you would not be experiencing the blankness

Group Member: Blankness...listlessness...all symptoms that you mentioned...

Sohrab: It is happening; open to it further, in your particular case, dear friend, there is still great resistance in the solar plexus. That is one area of your physical body that is still holding out. Open here (Sohrab patting his stomach area)...every time, this thought crosses your mind, just open. ...

Group Member: That is why birds that are flying are going haywire....????

Sohrab: Of course...of course....weather patterns are changing, bird' flight patterns are changing; there will be from time to time, displacement of aircraft, ships, and cars. This does not mean tragedies, it means displacement. People's personal sense of radar is changing. Some of you are suddenly becoming far more intuitive, knowledgeable, wise, all knowing. And some of you are finding yourself going astray, forgetting things, forgetting appointments; both are aspects of the internal radar being adjusted. Neither is good or bad, it is just re- calibration of your personal systems.

Group Member: ...What about those with .pacemakers?

Sohrab: A wonderful question....what about people who are reliant on external devices, such as pacemakers, which support their life systems?

The machines and the humans are both evolving, though not necessarily at the same rate. If the creative center of the human chooses to be in alignment with the machine, he will, and all will be well. But if he chooses, from his creative center, to cause a misalignment through which to grow, he will do so and he will exit. There is no fixed rule, but nothing will happen randomly, that we will assure you. Nothing is happening randomly right now.

Group Member:...Will the poles flip?

Sohrab: Not physically, but energetically they will....and at the same time, for those few human beings, who still work with the basic chakric system, the chakric system will flip. That does not mean that the human beings will stand on their heads!

Group Member: Does it mean that the crown chakra....goes into...the mooldhara...

Sohrab: This will start taking place after a certain period of time. It has already commenced in certain human beings. It is not a rule, but certain human beings are now choosing to displace, replace, re-adjust and merge aspects of their Chakric system.

Group Member: A unified chakra?

Sohrab: The Unified chakra sits in a different dimension in your physical body, the Unified chakra will not change in this manner, but it will upgrade. The physical chakric system, that you all hold to different degrees, as some of you do not use this physical chakric system very actively and some do, these are being re-positioned within the body as we speak.

Group Member: Can you elaborate and describe a person whose chakra system has changed.

Group Member: Crown and Mooldhara...

Sohrab: This has been happening for years. Let us take a very obvious example: that of a person you would consider a very high level saint or sage, or yogi, or swami, or monk. For many years, many of these highly advanced Beings, who are in full attunement with the Universe and with Sel,f have chose to re-position the chakras at will, in different parts of their body and in different sequences, depending on the work at hand.

A Yogi, for example, who has chosen to be buried under the Earth for an extended period of time, has done this not to prove a point, or to draw attention to his own prowess, but has done this as he knew he needed a physical incubation space to make the necessary adjustments on his physical body. What he could have done are a series of infinite possibilities, but let us speak of a few:

By moving the Crown chakra into the heart center, the person then expands the heart to a level beyond human comprehension, where the heart becomes All That Is in Knowingness. And the level of love that is then emanated is beyond what is emanated when the Crown and the Heart are separate.

If you move the Crown chakra and super-impose it on the Root, you are forming a perfect loop, the Infinity sign, the figure of 8 sideways with Earth Consciousness and the Divine.

The fact that the Root and the Crown are at opposite ends of the chakric system is to permit a normal human being to be connected to the earth and the Universe, and all the other chakras sandwiched in between these two points permits all earthly experiences, with the opportunity of imbuing them with whatever combination of the two the individual desires.

When the two are super-imposed, they can be no experience on Earth, as there is perfect Unity. The person is actually physically ready to leave the Earth planet at that instant. But some advanced beings choose to experience this briefly and NOT LEAVE. True trauma, for that Yogi. It is like jumping of a cliff and saying, " I will not fall."

Group Member: Rebirthing....

Sohrab: Now, when the Hara is raised up as you are already aware of, in the rising of the Kundalini, but when the Hara is specifically attached, shall we say to the 3rd eye, there is a perfect union of spiritual energy and physical energy, at that moment the person performs miracles. Passing through matter, producing vibhuti, spontaneous bleeding, touch healing, that is what occurs when the 2 merge instantaneously.

Some do not do this merger, but deliberately change the rhythms of their body and their patterns by simply replacing the chakric systems in different points to only experiment with Self.

What would happen, for example, if the Hara and Crown chakras were interchanged? Sexually, one would be highly activated, and the sexual function would become the primary driving force and focus. Many nymphomaniacs and prostitutes do this.

Group Member: Easter...resurrection of all these energies, the equinox, Earth day today, inaudible...so many things together

Sohrab: (Amused)...It is the resurrection, in the sense that it is you are acknowledging your Creative Center, not only acknowledging it, but trusting that it flows within you and it is a force you can choose to access at will. You are the Resurrection.

Why have all these festivals occurred at one period of time?

Because of the new magnetic grid. Energies are now shifting so quickly, you cannot have separation between different energies. They are consciously being merged with one another. You will find, in very practical terms, more and more of these confluences taking place. Even in your personal lives, you will find children and grandchildren being born on the same day you were born, on the same day you were married, on the same day a relative has died, these will start to overlap and you will see them as coincidences, but there are no coincidences, they are energetic layers that have been consciously placed one on top of another for your personal growth and development

Group Member: So have we pre-poned 2012 to 2008?

Sohrab: 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012 are sandwiched together. 2012 is occurring NOW and we are talking in linear time, we are not even talking in spiritual time. Aspects of 2012, as you have already been made aware of, are happening concurrently, and much of the work that was going to take place physically in 2012 is being drawn into 2008.

Group Member: So has the critical mass of Earth invited this or...

Sohrab: It is part of the Cosmic Experiment we spoke of before. Even Earth, even Earth's consciousness, even the people of Earth don't quite know how it's going to turn out. But it is a joyous call. You are all on this beautiful expedition into uncharted territories of a jungle, where you are choosing to explore, because you wish to. If you knew the outcome it would be boring, and you are all adventurers.

Ishdeep: 2 days ago I had a sudden surge of depression and actually walked out of the house and decided to go read a book at the bookstore. I went to the local Crossword and I saw this book with a brilliant cover. The book's name was the 'Time Traveler's Wife'. I did not know what it was about. I started reading; I figured it was about some guy to whom it was natural according to his genes, his DNA. I thought I'd read it later. I switched on the TV, there was a movie "The Time Machine" and in my dreams, I am going as present Self to my childhood, having conversations with the understanding that I have now and its all been mixed up.

Sohrab: A very accurate explanation of what is really taking place right now. Let us leave you with this last concept as we are aware that we may have over burdened you today and we do not wish you to run away, particularly from your own knowledge bank.

All of you, due to this new magnetic grid, are time travelers right now. All of you. How are you doing this? A lot of memories are coming up for most of you. Childhood, little glimpses of the future, sudden thoughts and pulls to past lives. You may not consciously see them as past lives. But you may, for e.g. be planning a summer vacation and get a real desire to go to a certain country or space. It is a pull that you are not consciously acknowledging, is possibly a time exploration into an aspect of the past, or the future. You are doing this very very deliberately to raise issues and examine aspects of Self that have not fully been resolved or to examine aspects of Self that are so magnificent, you wish to incorporate them now in your conscious Beingness.

You are all flirting with your own glory and you are all rejecting it from time to time, saying 'I cannot be so magnificent.' The glory that exists within each one of you is so potent and so powerful and your stupid, limited consciousness, yes, your stupid, limited consciousness forces you to reject those aspects of Self.

This may sound dismissive of Who You Are. But we are bringing it to your attention as it is no longer a part of Who You Are. Your Consciousness today, here and now, is beyond that limited framework that you have all existed in for many years and yet you keep seeing it as such, but it is a ghost, a hologram. It is not even Who You Are even in conscious intellect. Don't go back there.

Think and IT IS.

Close your eyes. Right now, experience yourselves in your glory. You can choose a visual if you want or you may just choose an energetic experience and acknowledge that this is part of Who You Are and yet it is glorious. DO IT NOW.

Think Big, Bigger. Still Bigger.

You Are Beauty.

Blessings From that aspect of Sohrab that is The Omikron Collective.
