Trance Channeling begins

You have all been avidly discussing the date October 14, and the possibilities of seeing and meeting your Universal Friends.

First, stop waiting to SEE your friends. Are you going to simply rely on your eyes? Have you not learnt, after all these years, to trust your energetic sensitivity, the inner rhythms of your beingness? We would be doing you a disservice if we only appeared visually and we refuse to do that. Yes, there will be actual visual sightings but YOU will be able to connect better if you trust your own beingness. Exercise those inner muscles now.

During the last two weeks, a series of Universal Friends have been seeded on planet Earth. Now this particular battalion, this contingent is not in physical form at all. Were you able to see them, you would only see wisps of smoke and light or perhaps shimmering vibrations. But nevertheless, these friends have been seeded all around your planet for specific purposes and more and more will appear and energetically bond with your planet and all of you, at the appropriate time.

The first wave: The Money Market

This first wave is working intensively with the money market. Oh yes, much more is going on with the money market than you are aware of. All you can sense at the moment is fear and trepidation. Go beyond that, friends. Go into the money market and examine what is happening.

First of all, you already know that Earth has chosen money as a medium of energetic exchange. Earth is now re-evaluating her perspective of energetic exchange and so are all of you. The money market has to be shaken up completely; not only as a collective but as a series of individuals that contribute to the collective. Each of you represents a money individual.

Your personal energies are currently merging with the energies of money. You are feeding into the energies of money; new aspects that you wish to create through this exchange scheme in the future. You are, therefore, feeding into the money market your knowledge, your awareness, your desires, your thought processes, your aspirations for self and for the collective, your growth, your expansion, and your beingness.

As you feed this into the collective money market, there has to be, shall we say, 'an erratic heartbeat', till the collective reaches critical mass and decides where and how it wishes to take this money market.

Group Member 'N': It's not only money; it's everything.

Of course, everything is connected. But we are speaking specifically of money and the appropriate universal seedlings who are working exclusively with the money market. These universal seedlings or friends have taken root, and have, at your bidding and with your energies, shaken up the money energies of the planet. They are working very, very strongly with all those who are in money imbalance. Some of you are in money imbalance. Many, many of your politicians and leaders are in money imbalance and many of the illuminati are also in money imbalance.

Money is not a dirty word; it is a magnificent word!

You want to change the market? Here's what you must do. Find out what you really think and feel about money. Ask yourself: 'What are my belief systems? What is my conditioning? What have I been taught about money? What is my attitude towards money? How do I spend? How do I save? Do I see it as a medium of fluid motion or do I see it as areas that require hoarding, saving, blocks?'

Be truthful! Change those aspects of self that do not resonate with you any more. But to do that you must examine what you feel about money. Most of you have no idea.

Group Member 'D': Ultimately it will have to be one currency, one thought, one pattern; but it seems a very long way away. There are so many 'have-nots' and very few 'haves' and the 'haves' have to release to the 'have-nots.'

Universal Friends:: That is a long way away! What is interesting is that many of those you term the 'have-nots' are far more balanced with money than the 'haves.'

Those who are balanced with their perception of money will find it flowing in and out. Those who are imbalanced will find it flowing out. This will create even more imbalances, till such time when the critical mass begins to respect money for what it really is and for what you truly wish it to be. That is in question, at this moment in time.

Group Member 'D': So you are saying the Americans are not in balance?

Universal Friends: Completely imbalanced, as a collective.

Group Member 'D': They have allowed the illuminati which controls the Federal Reserve to do whatever they want with the money. How does this come in?

Do not point a finger at the American people alone. The Illuminati is a creation of the WORLDWIDE imbalance. They just happen to exist primarily in a space where there is a high level of imbalance with perception to money. Other areas that are currently highly imbalanced are Peru, South Africa, Norway, Slovakia, certain areas in the Far East and portions of Australia. It is not essential for us to go into this today. But each one of these areas mentioned has a different form of imbalance with money. And there are many others as well.

Your own country has a beautiful 'buffet' of various imbalances but at the same time, your own country has a deep-rooted understanding of the energies of money.

Therefore, in India, there tends to be a 'see-saw' effect, as various balances and imbalances keep counter-balancing each other. You will find the markets cresting and troughing for a while. Over the next three to four years, these sudden rises will give you false hope, and it is likely that the markets will drop again.

Group Member 'D': Be explicit about balance.

The first step is to be honest with yourself and check what your perceptions of money really are. Go into details. Go into your family history: what did your grandparents feel? Specifically your parents: what was your mother's perception, your father's perception? Check your siblings. Examine how this dovetails with the country in which you exist and the perceptions of money in India. Examine every aspect, dear friends; not just book knowledge. What does India, for example, say about money and spirituality? What does India say about money and the arts? What does India say about money and the sciences? What does India say about money and poverty? What does India say about excess? What does India say about frugality?

Go into every aspect that you can bring up and see where you fit in. Examine those areas in your life where you are fully abundant. Understand we are talking specifically about money. Of course abundance extends outward but we are looking at money right now, so examine where you are financially abundant and secure and examine where you are financially completely depleted. Start to shift these aspects. Then and only then do you have the right to look around you and examine the external markets.

Look at the new energy of money. Your new seeded friends are filling money with a new energy. The notes you hold in your hand, your bank account, your jewelry, your assets, your home all translates to money, to tangible assets. All is being infused with a new energy. What is it? Find out! Why do we say find out for yourselves? Because each of you, being responsible for linking with the energy of money, is creating slightly different aspects with your own money. So your money and her money is slightly different. Find out, with your power, what you have imbued your money with and work with that energy.

Group Member 'D': Money is a great form of communication; not just with people of this nation but internationally.

Universal Friends: A wonderful observation. So then you need to ask yourself, "Is that what I am doing with my money?"

Your friend, Bill Gates, uses money as communication. Your friend, Osama Bin Laden, also uses money as communication. The financing of terrorism and the financing of altruism is communication of money. So it depends on what you wish to communicate with your money.

Group Member 'N': First contact vis a vis the illuminati?

The illuminati, whom you have all condemned quite freely, are a group of very high masters who are working diligently to shake up all aspects of life, not just its financial aspects. It is through the illuminati that the consciousness of people grows.

If you did not have the 'evil' school teacher, you would not find the courage to stand up in life to a figure of imbalanced authority. So they are doing what they must do and you must learn what you must learn. You have the right and the power and the ability to shift what they are doing, if you so choose, as a collective, by empowering self and righting your own imbalances.

The Second Wave: Bodily Energies

The 2nd wave of seedlings that have entered this planet during the last two weeks are those who are now working specifically with your bodily energies. Each person, in this world, has declared to the universe how they wish to upgrade their personal bodies. Some have chosen very high upgrades, throughout the physical body, some have chosen selective upgrades in various areas and yet others have chosen to remain exactly as they were.

The 2nd waves of seedlings are infiltrating the physical body (with your permission, of course) and are rapidly increasing the vibrations of various body parts. Many of you are undergoing physical problems right now, ranging from mild aches and headaches to the appearance of flu and coughs and colds and more serious ailments. Much of this is a new level of vibration, demanded by you and facilitated with the help of these Universal friends.

For the most part, the upgrades are concentrated on the brain and the upper torso. Some are deliberately changing the vibration of their etheric and/or physical wombs, in order to give birth, either physically or to self, at a higher and more vibrated level of self. Many are working with new fluids in the body, beyond your natural plasma and blood, which are now coursing through you, changing the energetic quotient of the various organs.

Ask yourselves, what have I chosen to upgrade in self? What other choices do I wish to make? But first, find out what you have already demanded.

Third Wave: Liaison between beingnesses

The 3rd wave are working as a liaison between the human beingness and the other beingnesses that are now ready to arrive. Friends, like you, are already aware and open to the possibility of harmonious interaction between humans and universal friends. But as you are quite aware, most of your planet lives in fear and trepidation, erroneously assuming that the appearance of universal friends signals 'attack'.

The 3rd wave seedlings are working joyously with humankind to prepare them, energetically, so that when more and more information comes in, they are not sent spiraling into hysteria, panic or fear.

These 3rd level friends you can also work with and in fact, they would appreciate your efforts, as if you permit them to work through your human energies, they can reach other human beings around you, in a smoother and more expanded manner. Open yourself to the 3rd wave, welcome them and permit them to work through you.

Let us now have your questions.

Group Member 'N': Will October 14th be the sighting?

You are, once again, limiting yourselves with the need for a date and a visual appearance!

Group Member 'N': The energies.

The energies have already arrived, dear friend. Why are you fixating upon one particular day? However, if you choose to fixate upon that day, use it productively to open your energies to such an extent, that you are able to fully sense and vibrate with your friends. By all means use the date but do not wait for that date and negate all that is happening as we speak. This room is filled right now with your friends. Why do you wait? Why do you not welcome them now? What have we trained you for all these years? Open, open, open!

Yes, you may choose to use October 14th as a very high frequency day. The energies flowing around Planet Earth, on that particular day, will be of a very high frequency and they will permit the average person upon Planet Earth to open to the possibility and to the existence of other friends. You do not need that, dear one.

Group Member 'N': I don't need it but people who don't believe in it need it. That's why I wanted to know.

Universal Friends: Yes! You are already sharing your bed with many interesting bedfellows. Don't kick them out.
(Much laughter)

Group Member 'S': (Inaudible)

First of all, dear friend, universal friends have been interacting with all those on Earth for millennia. This is not a special event in that perspective. What is special, this time around, is that the collective consciousness of Earth is now ready to acknowledge their existence.

(...) they were in my house.

They ARE in your house. They are in this room, as we speak. They are merged with Sohrab, as he speaks. They are merged with you right now. They are merged with the furniture and the walls and the flowers here. Why wait till October 14th?

Trust yourselves. Yes, go out and look up in the sky any night you wish and perhaps you will see a blinking light or two. But why wait for that? Use your own energies and communicate with the aspects of self that are universal. Who are these universal friends, as a collective? They are all parts of you. Just as you have understood that everyone sitting in this room is part of you because you are merged with their energetic fields and they are you and you are them, so are the universal friends.

Those who resist them are only fearing the unknown aspects of self; those aspects of self that are so deeply buried that they don't wish to examine them and the appearance of an external universal friend only reminds you of that hidden part of self that you don't want to acknowledge and it brings up fear and resistance.

Welcome Wave 1, 2 and 3. There are many others also present but we will not speak of them today.

BLESSINGS, LOVE AND LIGHT FROM YOUR UNIVERSAL FRIENDS.
