The Energy of various Festivals Cosmic Astrology

Trance Channeling begins

🌈 Welcome.....Every single Earth festival that you celebrate around the globe is only a physical manifestation of an energy shift taking place in the cosmos and actually has very very little to do with your Earth history or mythology, The historical & mythological slant that is attributed to it, is only a 3rd dimensional twist to help you acknowledge and touch the energies released. We will talk about several festivals today. To help you understand this, we will have to touch upon 'cosmic astrology'.

The astrology that you are familiar with is extremely limited. It basically harnesses the energies of a few planets in the solar system & works with a one-dimensional aspect of how they affect your planet Earth.

Cosmic astrology is based on a science that involves every single celestial object throughout this Universe, their interaction with each other & their interaction with other aspects of Self in different dimensions. This gives you an idea of the complexity of cosmic astrology, which you could not begin to harness or work with on your planet, in your 3rd dimensional Beingness.

The Universe, as you know, is energy. And these energies constantly shift, move, and vibrate in a magnificent cosmic dance. These energies 'play' with each other, throughout this Universe and all parallel Universes.

From time to time, a certain energetic flow is accessed by the Spirit realm that is connected directly to planet Earth. They are the first level 'energetic receivers' of this particular strand of 'cosmic illumination'. So your Spirit guides, your Masters, your friends, your dear departed ones, your beloved celestial family, and your expanded selves work with accessing and harnessing these energies for their growth and development, for their illumination, for their vibrancy, for their ascension, and in turn, they direct these energies to planet Earth, through those on the planet who choose to participate in that particular 'festival'.

Let us take the example of Diwali...The Diwali is primarily a festival of illumination of Self...changing your inner frequency (not your light, your light is constant and magnificent)...but your inner illumination, your energetic frequency. These energies have been received by the Spirit realm, have been processed, accessed and used to illuminate and increase the power of all these magnificent Beingnesses, including every single one of your Masters and Guides, then they are channeled through these Beingnesses to all those on earth who actually actively celebrate this festival.

They, in turn, disseminate these energies, on a higher conscious level, to all those who wish to access the energies of illumination of self, even of those people have never heard of the festival itself. Now, you may ask, how can this be done by people who has never heard of this festival?

They will create in their physical lives, at this moment in time, an 'energy event' that raises their vibration. This could be any celebration of a personal nature, through which they would start 'feeling good'.

They instant they put out this 'illumination energy vibration', this 'signal' is picked up by all Indians who are celebrating this festival, and an 'energetic contact' is made. The energies will then flow freely from the ones celebrating, to the unknown beingnesses.

Obviously 'energetic festivals' in the Universe have no bearing on caste, creed or religion: every single Master and every single Beingness will participate in any aspect of illumination that they wish, if they so choose & in turn, you do exactly the same.

So for those of you, who actively celebrate any festival at home, please remember you are doing a tremendous amount of 'Earth global work' with your energies at that moment in time. You become BEACONS that receive and transmit this energy, and do magnificent service to your planet. You make a host of new, energetic friends, whom you will never physically meet.

Group Member:...Is this why, sometimes when you are alone, you just don't feel alone?

🌈: Yes and No....when you are alone and are feeling a union with all around you, it is not necessary because you have joined the energies of a festival, but it could be.

Often, it is because you have unconsciously put up your energetic antennae, and connected with like-minded beings from around the Universe. In that instant, you share your knowledge, wisdom and form a joyous connection with all that is.

The Universe responds with a flood of energies that cradle you, cocoon you in this warmth and vibration, which is pleasing to your physical body. Instantly you feel an inner rush and your vibrations start to increase, and as they increase, your 'the circle of friendship' increases, comes back into you.

You start to form a 'donut shaped' energy grid that keeps increasing in size. If viewed from the side, this is your symbol of infinity, the horizontal figure of 8.

Group Member: You talked about active participation in festivals around the world....However my question is...there are a lot of human beings nowadays, who participate in festivals, but participate in a passive way....without even knowing what they are celebrating...with no intent given to the festival, without even understanding it... how does that...auto pilot mode of celebrating affect the energies given out, as opposed to...(inaudible)

🌈 Energetic intent has nothing whatsoever to do with knowledge of a festival, active or passive participation, or even 'auto pilot' functioning. Each beingness puts out a call to the Universe, and the Universe instantly responds. So different people are connected to different festivals, depending on what call they have put out, and are energetically connected to the appropriate festival's energies.

From time to time, every single human being requires a very vigorous 'energetic shake up' or a jolt to move their energies not one step forward, but perhaps 5 or 6 steps forward...you have all experienced this.

Now, when this call is put out by individual human beings, the universe will respond by hooking them up with an appropriate festival. The festival may not be the Diwali or the Christmas but the festival maybe the movement of a loved one from the physical to the spirit realm, it may be having to move house and home. It may also be winning a lottery! All severe energetic jolts. And all energetic festivals.

Do not forget that, when you lose a loved one on this planet, there is a concurrent festival taking place in the Spirit World, welcoming the birth of an 'energetic soul' back into its natural form, and your mourning is 'equally vibrated' with joy and celebration in Spirit, so that is a festival.

Moving house or graduating from College and going into the unknown world of business may also be perceived as traumatic, but at the same time it is a vibrant manner of leaving behind old energies, and moving into new, fresh, vital areas.

Group Member: Do people wear black at funerals, because black contains a high vibration of all colours?

🌈 Let us talk briefly about this, since you have asked. There are four predominant colours worn at funerals around your planet: black, white, yellow (as used by the Chinese) and vibrant multi-colours (as worn by many island cultures).

Black, as you have been told only last week, is the highest color imaginable: It contains billions of colours, which your limited 3rd dimensional spectrum converts to 'black', as you cannot see, comprehend or acknowledge them.

White acts exactly the same way: it is a reflector, and therefore it reflects every single color that everything around you is emanating. So once again, it is a symphony of colour.

Yellow... has a slightly different connotation. If you were to equate a color with energetic connection, from your limited spectrum, yellow would be the color that facilitates communication between the physical & the Spirit in the smoothest possible manner for you. It is almost like a bridge, giving you smooth and easy passage across.

Multi-coloured vibrational hues once again shake up the energies of all around and create a symphony of color.

Every single funeral you attend is actually embraced in vibrant colour vibrations: Now that you know this, go to a funeral and check the colors around you. For those of you who see and read auras, do it visually, and for those of you who don't, just close your eyes, while you are chanting prayers and pick up the energy.

Funerals have the highest level of energetic vibration of any festival you attend, because the two worlds are very, very closely intertwined at that moment. Not only are there many physical beings in attendance, but they are attended tenfold by spirit beings in celebration.

So if you attend a funeral of anyone, a loved one, or be it a distant work acquaintance, be open to the energies of a plethora of friends, who have come to visit you, who have come to stroke you, to touch you, to communicate with you, to hug you, to be there for you.

The Chinese have understood this. Ancient races understood this, the Inca race understood this, the Mayans understood this, and the Mesopotamians understood this: it has simply got lost over time. Funerals are a place of great rejoicing.

Let us now come back to the festival under discussion: let us examine what has taken place this year, before the energies physically manifested on planet Earth.

It may interest you to know that this year, a series of 7 new celestial suns have been born in a parallel universe. These suns, if were to equate them in size, would be over 100,000 times the size of the sun you are familiar with, and that would be the smallest of the 7.

Their power is of a completely different stream to yours....they do not work with matter, they work with anti-matter. The effects of 7 anti-matter suns being born in a parallel Universe is affecting all Universes, including yours. If it was able to touch your Universe directly, your entire universe would explode, and therefore that is not permitted, but energetically, there is vibration coming into your Universe, which is bringing with it new streams of anti-matter, which can be accessed by Beings who have matter....

Group Member: Now.....there are new experiments being done by our scientists right now....in Europe right now in a laboratory Berne in Switzerland, where anti matter is actually being created and contained. The scientists don't know yet how to hold it or use it, but they know that if they succeed, it will break new paths for us....you name it...space travel, unlimited fuel and energy, and so much more.

🌈: So as you see, the effects of the 7 suns have already begun to manifest physically on Earth and you will find now a huge shift in the illumination or consciousness on Earth in all fields of study. New and cutting-edge medical and scientific methods are imminent. New approaches will be considered. People will now, more and more, think 'out of the box'.

Artistically, shifts are taking place; new forms of creativity are coming into the consciousness of human mind and all of this is dovetailing with the merger of the left and the right brain, where creativity and initiation must take place at the same moment. You see the energies of Diwali, tracing from the birth of 7 suns in another Universe coming through as illumination at every step, these energies are being filtered into your Universe and are being accessed by the entire Universe, but let us now speak about the Spirit realms around Earth.

All your personal guides, your Masters, your dear departed ones, your friends, your guides, your family from previous lives who are in spirit, all of them, are choosing to access this new illumination to change their vibration, their frequency and are speeding up their growth.

As their growth increases, the growth and development of new scientific ideas in the Spirit realm are now increasing. Even those in the Spirit realm are working at an accelerated pace, and this is naturally percolating into and onto your planet and all its aspects. This is the wonderful energetic chain that is taking place this Diwali.

Group Member: The word Diwali.....DIW and then ALII often tell people that Ali is associated with Diwali...that's how the word is formed, so maybe when people go beyond religion, they willi don't know if this is making any sense.....

🌈 This is making full sense, as no festival actually has any energetic connection with the religion, or the caste, or the culture, which it originates from, it is simply a peg used to disseminate that energy.

So Diwali does not belong to the Hindus, it is a peg used by your 3rd consciousness mind to create a portal on Earth...if you did not have a peg upon which to hang it, you would lose interest, you would get bored, you would get slipshod, and you would not do it, and so different energies use the peg of different religions, to permit a smooth and easy flow from the Universe to earth. So Diwali for the Hindus, Muharram for the Muslims, and Christmas for the Catholics is only a doorway.

Christmas is a portal for inner illumination; Christmas is portal for what you term 'Christ Consciousness' which is to access newer and newer levels of your own consciousness, on Earth. It facilitates your merger with more of YOU. To connect you to with more and more of who you really are...that is the one and only real reason for Christmas & all the trappings that you go through, the lighting of the candles, and the celebrations of the Jesus Christ, are very important because they bring you to new levels of your own consciousness.

Every time you touch Jesus Christ with a thought, in return the Universe gives you a new layer of your own consciousness.

And if you do not know the name Jesus Christ and have not connected with him and if you still wish to tap into this festival, you will do so, even if you are a tribal in the middle of Africa, and do not know even the existence of Jesus Christ or of the concept of Christianity. So no festival is exclusive to its own culture or religion, but it is the culture and religion that acts as a portal, through which the energy flows for all around. Which other festivals would you like to speak of?

Group Member: Zoroastrianism.....

🌈 The essence of your festival matches your energetic tenets: Good thoughts, Good Words, & Good Deeds. But the word "Good" does not mean good vs. bad. It is an energetic flow from the Universe, not asking you to be good or bad, but helping you align to what is perfect for YOU. It facilitates a link between self and the soul mission.

So if you have contracted to function as a murderer or con-man, these energies will help you align so successfully with your mission, that you will become the best at your chosen plan. Or a saint. Or a businessman. Or a teacher.

We sense your reaction to this statement. Are you not judging now?

Group Member: No right or wrong

🌈 Of Course...What is good to you may be bad to her.

Let us look at the world GOOD. G stands for God. The two O's are the OM multiplied into the symbol of infinity. The D is the Divine within you.

So you are connecting to God, through energetic experience of the Infinity, to the Divine within you. So God is acknowledging the God within.

Holi.....What is the significance of Holi to you?

Group Member: Joyous...abandon...

🌈 ...WONDERFUL! That is all it is.....joyous abandon, the color in Holi is secondary to Joyous Abandon...the color facilitates the abandonment of Self to Self, exploring every facet & every dimension and every color within Self.

Glorious Abandon it is the full embrace of every aspect of Self. Self says, "I have a thousand, no, ten thousand, no, one hundred thousand aspects of Self, and I want to touch them all, embrace them all, acknowledge them all, and assimilate them ALL.

I want to visit the multi colored tapestry that I AM, I am not red or blue, but I am green, red, pink purple, lilac and violet. The purple is my spiritual, and the red is my temper, the green is my love and the yellow is my disdain of life...every aspect: good, bad or indifferent, is being visited by you, when you tap into the Holi energies in joyous abandon, which means don't hold on to them: experience them and assimilate them....abandon them into your essence.

Group Member: Good Friday...?

🌈 First tell them what you know of Good Friday.....specifically....as it is an aspect of Christianity.....

Group Member: We celebrate the crucifixion; celebrate the moment of his death & the sacrifice he made by offering himself on the cross.....he offered himself for the sins of humanity, they say.....

🌈 This has been explained in the past to your group, in great detail, dear friend. But we shall reiterate aspects of that meeting for the benefit of this group, sitting here today.

Let us start with what may be considered a blasphemous statement by some sitting here today. The Jesus Christ, when on Earth, had he lived today, would be considered by you a schizophrenic.....Why?

The Jesus Christ, in physical form, existed in two perfectly divided parts of Self:

The first part was the God realized aspect, where he accessed Divine energy and was able to harness it and convey it at will: by touch healing, by inspiring others with his sacred words, by helping groups of people search within and effect a change. Perfect divinity on earth. A living Master.

The other aspect of self, with which he constantly warred, were his aspects of 'human-ness'. His ability to be angry, to get irritable, to be annoyed, to feel desire, to feel lust, to feel and experience everything that a human being does.

He just could not accept these parts of Self, and tried to cut them out, to overcome them...and constantly failed.

At the point of the physical crucifixion, due to his position on the cross, his chakras all merged at the crown. At that moment there was 'unification of Self'.

He understood that, instead of rejecting aspect of self, he needed to embrace it all, as that was the WHO I AM. He understood that "If I do not understand and experience lust and anger and irritability, how can I be of benefit to mankind? I needed the human experience in every aspect, to fulfill my life's mission. And to also work it out for myself."

At that instant he assimilated it all, embracing it totally into his scheme of 'divine abandon.'

The words 'Forgive them lord, for they know not what they do' did not refer to humanity, it referred to Self.

Forgive me for I knew not what I did, I now understand it all and in forgiving Self, I forgive humanity. The holy trinity was complete. Father, Son, & The Holy Ghost. Body, Mind & Spirit merged, he was REALIZED in one micro-second and he returned then to spirit.

So the celebration of Good Friday, and Easter Sunday, is an acknowledgment of the embrace of every aspect of Self, very much like the Holi, but with a slight difference.

It facilitates acknowledgment and assimilation of all aspects of self. It helps you see that all is perfection. It teaches you that only when you have fully accepted every aspect of WHO YOU ARE.....that you can then move to the next level, WHERE YOU CAN CHOOSE, if you so desire, to shift.

But till you have acknowledged and assimilated what you consider the seamier sides of your life, you cannot shift. YOU CANNOT CHOOSE TO CUT OFF THOSE PORTIONS OF YOU. Instead, you are learning to allow them to be a part of who you are, of your experiences. To view their magnificence. Only then can you assimilate them and possibly CHOOSE not to exercise those aspects of self anymore.

I CHOOSE NOW WITH MY POWER NOT TO EXERCISE THIS ASPECT OF SELF IN THIS CURRENT INCARNATION.....

Group Member: Please explain Muharram.

🌈 Let us first hear the group's opinion of this festival.

Group Member; I cannot understand why they have to beat themselves!

Zafar: Can I explain what the...the religious, how should I put it.. the legend of Muharram is that basically...2 very holy sons of the Islamic religions Hasan & Hussein were tortured by their captors over a period of 30 days with their families and were then eventually killed and they martyred themselves....for their beliefs and it is in remembrance that the Muslims beat themselves, wound themselves... to feel the physical manifestation of pain...very much like the Christ, like the thorns that were put on his head... and to go beyond physical pain....and that is the significance of the festival of Muharram...again like every religion...should I be bold and say bastardized & people use it for different things now.....but that is the original....

🌈 Let us speak of these 2 together. First of all it may interest you to know that the energy portal that opens during Muharram & Ramzaan, is one of the strongest energetic portals received by planet Earth. You can actually access a complete & veritable thrust of energies if you choose to align with these festivals, not by practicing the rituals that are distasteful to you, but by simply understanding it, and by choosing to connect with its energies.

The physical manifestation of the whipping is very appropriate for some. It is not the act you must question, but the intent behind the act, for the individual. If you are in alignment with any act, it is perfect for you. If you are not in alignment with the act, however wonderful or noble it appears to be, it is not perfect for you. And this refers to what would you would term a positive act or a negative act.

Let us take what you would consider a positive act: the act of giving a large amount of money to charity.

If this is done in balance and joy, without being considered charity at all, but being done as the inevitable cycle of abundance that must flow in and out, then you will create joy for self, and for all those whom you touch. Abundance will then flow and multiply.

But if you give the same amount of money to 'charity' out of arrogance, out of the desire for recognition and gratitude, out of the need for fame or to receive 'love', then this act only causes more imbalances for all.

Yet it is the same act, with the same amount of money.

For those who use the whip in alignment with Self, they are ones who are energetically very, very strongly blocked, not only with energies, but with issues, and belief systems. The physical lashing, the physical pain, and the physical jolts their energetic structure receives, is the most appropriate FOR THEM, to free up self.

But there are those who use it as a ritual, because 'they must', or because society says that they should. They cause lacerations to their energetic bodies, and often further fragment their already-fragmented selves.

Similarly the diet, what you may term starvation, the deprivation to the physical body, if used in alignment with Self, because there is a genuine inner vibrational need to do so, stimulates their spirit growth, and raises their vibrations, giving them deeper and deeper insights into self. These beings leap energetically; often recreating self, shattering old structures, beliefs and comforts zones, and emerge from the process new and vibrant human beings.

Those who do it because they follow the system blindly, or because society once again deems that they must, only cause, in self, 'energetic depravation'. They feel totally depleted, irritable and irrational, and in an attempt to raise their level of energy, they become energy vampires, and try to suck energy from those around them, depleting those people & then comes an 'energetic war'.

These people often come through this experience feeling depleted, angry, irritable with life, suicidal and very, very angry with humanity in general.

Now to understand the overall energy coming through the portals at this time: It is the energy of RECREATION OF SELF.

The Prophet Mohammed has within self, huge levels of extra-terrestrial, Universal energies. He is more cosmic than he is Earthly, and his energies as such were to facilitate the bridging of the gap between the limited consciousness of Earth & all Universal energies, allowing a smooth passage into Earth, to help her raise herself from time to time, to the appropriate level. Never to flood her, but to offer her the next opportunity of growth, and in doing this for planet Earth, naturally it implies all upon planet Earth.

So if you, as light workers, in your quest of Self, wish to grow and become truly 'multidimensional' Beings, connect with these energies every year. You don't have to wait for the festival, you can do it anytime, any place, with any festival, as time is not linear.

Let us now end on the last one for today: the Celebration of your Birthday. When you enter planet Earth, through the physical passage of the womb, you are being fed multi-dimensional energies beyond belief.

It is the singularly most energetically potent point in your entire human existence, where you receive the largest dose in the shortest amount of time. And yes, to answer your unspoken question, even if you have a caesarian birth, you still receive the energy jolt through the slit.

But the tunnel of the woman is constructed to hold tremendous levels of energy for a short burst, while the child is passing through it.

When you celebrate your birthday, every year, you are reminding yourself of those energies that you were flooded with and as you grow you are able to access a vast amount of them directly from the Universe, during the period of one week before your birthday to one week after.

That 2 week period sandwiching your physical birthday is a period of very, very high level access of energies. Now that you know this, USE IT, use it consciously, open to these energies, & you can do it in meditation, or you can do it just joyously in full consciousness. Bathe in the energies you are receiving every time your birthday is approaching.

At the same time, you are connecting on an energetic level, with every single human being, and animal and other Beingness on your planet, who has been birthed on the same day and at the same moment and there is an 'energetic recognition' taking place where you all say an 'energetic hello' to one another. You experience a tremendous sense of unity at this moment.

There is no one in your family as 'energetically close' to you as another Beingness who has been born on the same day, at exactly the same moment. Twins come close to this, but you will be still closer to another Beingness who has been born at exactly that moment, than to your own identical twin who has been born a few second before or after you.

Group Member: My Dad is 21st December, I am 21st Dec, and my son is 21st Dec.....

🌈 And she (Group member 'S') is 21st December.....but what is the time? A very close energetic pattern has been established for certain growth purposes, you needed to understand the alignment of each other, to be able to go through your differences with a tremendous amount of commonality, but the time, as you will find, will have differed, and as you all know, the time listed on your birth certificates is generally inaccurate, as there are very few nurses who are that specific, at that instant when you entering the birth canal.

Group Member 'S': If the date is the same and the year is different, does it make any difference?

🌈 It is not that the year that is important, though a similar year will add a level of energy to the connection, but it's the date and the actual time that is important, when it comes to 'Earth energetics'

BLESSINGS JOY, LOVE & LIGHT FROM THOSE ASPECTS OF SOHRAB THAT ARE THE ST GERMAIN, THE SAI BABA, THE MEHER BABA & THE ASHTAR.
