Elected Governments: Energies of a Nation

Trance Channeling begins

A world event is about to take place. The collective consciousness has not yet quite decided in what manner to manifest this event. It is assessing its own growth and development, and is choosing whether a 'disturbing' event or a pleasing event will be more beneficial for the upliftment of consciousness as a whole, and which of the two will better serve humanity.

Here is a chance for all of you, before an event has taken place, to consciously contribute to it. Do not attempt to direct the outcome; just add your energies to it, willing that the most appropriate event take place, which will benefit the collective.

This event is likely to manifest within 3 to 4 weeks and you will know when it has taken place.

Group Member: Will this be a worldwide event?

The Ashtaar: Let us say it will be an event which many around the planet will be made aware of.

Group Member: (inaudible)...about the elected government?

The Ashtaar: You have practically answered your own question...and quite correctly! Let us help you understand group consciousness a little better: take this particular group as an example.

When you all enter this room on a certain Thursday, each of you has individual expectations. Some of you come because you really want scientific information. Others come because they want answers to personal questions. Yet others come with an open mind, to just receive whatever is given. Some may come out of pure curiosity, others may arrive in a belligerent mood, saying "Let's see if this even works for me", and so on.

When you assemble here, all these energies start to merge. You do not lose what you have come in with, but it starts to seamlessly merge with all the other energies in the room.

From this 'mixture' begins to arise energetic lumps. (We are using this imagery only to help you conceptualize the process). So perhaps 20 individuated thoughts start to become 2 or 3 large energetic lumps of a shared desire. These 2 or 3 also start to intermingle and merge, till they build a single energetic peak.

It is this peak, which is a distillation of the group's collective thoughts, feelings, desires, and energetic strands, which decides the content of the meeting. Sometimes the peak changes during the course of the meeting: then the subject matter disseminated also changes course.

The energies, the content, and the direction of the meeting is being conducted by you, moment to moment. That is the level of the NOW-NESS, the living in the moment, that you are doing.

It worked exactly the same way with your recent elections: Initially, there were conflicting political emotions, desires, courses and views held by most in your country. Not only by individuals, but by corporations and other such groups. (It may interest you to know that a company has an energy of its own, which may be separate from the energy of the person or the board members in charge of it, at any given moment of time).

Then there were differing energies being released by different areas within your city. For example, the area of Bandra is currently releasing very vibrant energies. You may have noticed how the youngsters of your city, in particular, have suddenly started 'hanging out' in Bandra.

The energies of the further suburbs like Andheri and Sakinaka have also radiated energies that have attracted the business community. The business center of your city has now moved there, from South Bombay.

So all of these aspects have to be taken into account when a 'unified consciousness' comes together to create an outcome. And this unified consciousness took into account all the differing aspects, and processed them through the energetic lumps, till you collectively decided that a political central 'rock' was needed...a sturdy rock projecting upwards out of a sea of confusion.

Now this does not mean the Congress party will be this rock, but the collective consciousness chose to create the rock upon the energies of the Congress, so a rock was created, a relatively stable government was created and as you can see, the stock market also found within itself a new level of stability. Please remember: The government is working for you; you are not working for the government.

Group Member: So if I hold my ideology, which is a cohesive government...a 2 party governmentwill the morphogenic fields progress into everybody else?

The Ashtaar: Not necessarily. Understand that different ‘lumps’ are formed. Many want a corrupt government, as it serves their own ends. Others want a stable and caring one. Yet others want total control from the center. And so on. These small lumps start merging, till the group consciousness decided what it collectively desires for the country.

Each country has a focus of its own, which may differ from the individual conscious thoughts and desires of its populace.

Every country has its own course of energetic changes and growth, and the people who inhabit it have chosen to incarnate there, at that period of time, to benefit from this, and also to facilitate it.

China, for example, chose to experience an economic and evolutionary burst during the last 20 years. Those souls who wished to participate in this event chose to incarnate in the country of China during this energetic time period.

Now when a certain soul incarnates in that country, he may not recall this contract, and may say to himself, “No, I do not like this rapid economic growth spurt. I prefer things to remain the way they always have.”

If this feeling persists and grows, he will then do one of two things: he will either conform to the energies of the country, or will emigrate to another place more appropriate to his feelings and desires. Humans do have a free-will choice, and even planned patterns and contracts do shift.

India has chosen to work on her spiritual growth and development. She is doing this by exploring various sides of herself: her economic, social, political and humanitarian aspects, to name but a few. And within this, she is consciously bringing up for examination the corruption, greed, selfishness and separation that is rampant within these areas.

Those who have incarnated in the city of Bombay, have done so to work on their personal spiritual growth and development, and also to conquer their personal demons.

These ‘emotional demons’ are rigid patterns, structures, belief systems, and thought processes that you have carried forward over lifetimes, and have been unable to assimilate.

The energies of Bombay are releasing very high vibrational energies, that help all its inhabitants to touch their spiritual sides, in any manner they so choose.

The Universal energies pouring onto earth during the current and the last year are also helping you, but forcing up the emotional demons that you have hidden from, for so long. They are now in plain sight.

So you have all served yourselves in your mission by incarnating here at this particular period in time and at the same time you are provoking the energies to take India in the direction she wishes to go. She wishes to reclaim her Glory!

When we use the term Glory, we do not refer to her historical past or her previous dynasties. We are talking about her spiritual glory: that which has been forgotten, diluted, suppressed, buried and perverted over millennia. And India wishes to reclaim this glory over the next century.

She wishes to reclaim her integrity, her focus, her love, her appreciation of self and of others, her totality, her enterprise, and her achievement. But to get to this, she must first, along with all her inhabitants, experience and assimilate her greed, corruption, dishonesty, separation, lack and confusion.

Group Member: Is that why she is Ray 4?

The Ashtaar: Precisely...Ray 4....Harmony through Conflict.....Art and Beauty as well...

Group Member: But it is so individual...we are not collective in any way at all?

The Ashtaar: As you are well aware, the root issue of India is separation and till you change the root issue by dealing with the separation within Self, the country has a whole cannot move. She is dependant on you, you are dependant on her. It is completely interlinked.

Yes, you have all been told about separation as a root issue. But what are you doing about the separation within Self ? You are Her, and She is You!

Group Member: So we have the victim and the tyrant?

The Ashtaar: So you are the victim and the tyrant. So you are the rapist and the victim.

Now we wish to introduce you to a wonderful friend today. (Ranjit Singh) Come and face this wonderful group.

This great soul has come in your midst and will continue to do so, as long as you need his energies. He has come to give, not to receive. Connect with his soul now and you will see what we mean.

Our words are unimportant for him.....We thank you, O Master, for being in our midst and for offering to our group the energies and the benefit of your expansion, your wisdom, your knowledge, and your power. We thank you.

What did you (T- a group member) touch? Speak up.

Group Member: When he stood up, I tried to look at him.....there was this huge huge light...I cannot explain it....tremendous energy for the whole group.

The Ashtaar: Thank You....

Today we welcome your questions on the Universe. You (S – a group member) called for us, now we are here!

Group Member: We are glad to have you, tell us whatever you can.....

The Ashtaar: We spoke briefly, in a previous session, of the new Ashtaar energies and we will speak more of them today, to help you understand who we are. For the benefit of those in this room who have not heard us before: we are a Universal Collective made up of many species from around the Universe, and we work for the light and with the light, throughout the Universe. One of our many tasks is to aid planets, such as yours, that are in a process of upgrading.

There is now a new hybrid species amongst us, and we welcome them joyously. We have, from within our group, successfully united beings of matter and of anti-matter. Being of a higher vibration than you, we have managed to contain both in one beingness. These new hybrid friends will now serve as a liaison for you, in your similar earth experiments

We have already facilitated your early earth experiments with this. Though you have been unsuccessful so far, do not lose heart. It will happen. You will eventually be able to contain matter and anti-matter together for brief periods of time.

This new energy, when successfully harnessed, will be of a potency you cannot imagine. A micro-fraction of this energy, which could technically be placed on a pin-head, would be enough to electrify your entire planet for decades. And this same energy, if used in greed and selfishness, would destroy your planet in an instant.

Group Member: The Collider will be successful?

The Ashtaar: No, not as you know it now. It is too primitive. But when suitably upgraded and modified, it will be successful. And work on this has already begun in secret.

The information and energies being force-fed into your scientists' minds is so high in energetic content and purity that it must be used with energetic responsibility. If it falls into the hands of the greedy or the unscrupulous, it will either fail or backfire. And through this destruction you will awaken. But the Ashtaar are confident that earth has now reached a point where responsibility will be exercised.

During the next ten years, expect new and advanced methods of transport and fuel that will not drain or deplete planet earth. Expect new and advanced means of communication, which will not once again drain planet Earth of her energetic resources. Expect a new form of crystalline energy that will empower your physical tools and implements beyond your imagination.

The minds of earth scientists, doctors and educationists have been pre-activated by the Ashtaar, with the permission of Earth's collective consciousness. So welcome magnificent changes, upgrades and shifts in these three areas.

Group Member: I have a question about the black hole that is supposed to be in the centre of our galaxy...why is that we are not getting sucked into it? How about the stars and planets around it? Is it stable?

The Ashtaar: Black Holes, as you now know, are a combination of matter and anti-matter, and are tended by beings who reside in the space between the black hole and the surrounding white hole (we have spoken of this in detail before).

This particular black hole does not reside entirely in your galaxy. It exists partly here, and partly in a parallel galaxy, in a parallel dimension. This is why the surrounding objects are not getting absorbed into it. And it is being adjusted and vibrated to benefit both dimensions simultaneously.

Group Member: It is said that the Andromeda Galaxy is rushing towards the Milky Way at 270,000 miles per second....what will happen to the Milky Way?

The Ashtaar: It will not touch it. It will get diverted along the way into different energetic channels. A fusion is not yet appropriate. So it is highly unlikely that those energies will merge fully with the secondary energies. A diversion is most likely going to happen.

Group Member: Could you stop it?

The Ashtar: Could we? Of course. Would we? Only if that was the collective desire of all planets, beings and energies involved in the event.

Group Member: How would you stop it?

The Ashtaar: To explain this would be difficult.

Group Member: Try us...

The Ashtaar: Dear friends, we do not mean to belittle you. Your communication and vocabulary is limited. Some concepts cannot be described; they have to be energetically experienced.

However, we would use a combination of 3 predominant forces:

- 1) Thought Energy
- 2) Pure Vibration and
- 3) Liquid Light

Thought energy would be used by us in harnessing all the energies (the thought energies of all the Beingnesses, all the planetary and celestial bodies involved in this process) to form a unified consensus.

Vibration would then be used by us to either facilitate or to divert the event. We have a technique of harnessing vibration from the body or object itself, never from an external sources. For example, you use an external power source (fuel) to propel your craft. We would use the inherent vibration of the craft itself, which is limitless.

Liquid Light would be infused into the event. Liquid light is Pure Consciousness. Consciousness the exists across time, space and dimension. God Consciousness, if you would like to call it that.

Now let us talk only of your Solar system. The energies of every single planet in your solar system are changing extremely rapidly right now. Each planet, including planet Earth, is in a 'tunnel process' where they are not quite what they used to be, and are not yet what they wish to evolve into.

We therefore warn you, once again, that astrological predictions are rather inaccurate right now. How can they be, when the very energy that feeds them is mutating?

So each planet is upgrading at such a rapid process that every moment must be lived IN THE NOW. If you try to live in the energies of the past, you are outdated, obsolete and inaccurate. YOU HAVE TO LIVE MOMENT TO MOMENT.

Let us give you a practical example. You may have walked into this meeting in a bad mood. Your mood has to have changed in some way by now. But you are accustomed to hanging onto what you know of yourself. So you may still tell yourself, "I am in a foul mood today". But that is inaccurate. That energy is dead. You must find out and live in the mood you are in at this instant.

Please remember this, dear friends, and do not hang onto long term plans for the future as well. Things are changing so fast...YOU are changing so fast...that life courses keep taking new and unexpected turns.

Group Member: Most people need a reference from the past to go on. So if we live in the moment, what happens to that reference?

The Ashtaar: We understand and appreciate your question.

You are all on a rollercoaster. The only way you can enjoy the ride is to throw yourself into the speed and motion and flow with the twists and turns that the rollercoaster takes. It is even more enjoyable and fulfilling when you let out a loud, energetic scream!

If you try to resist the speed or motion, wishing that you hadn't got onto it, you will feel physically sick, and will be miserable.

Life is exactly like that right now. Go with the flow, live only in the moment, and express from deep within the exhilarating scream of Self, and you will touch your power and your glory. Resist, and nothing will feel right to you.

You cannot view any of your friends or loved ones as you knew them a year or a month or even a day ago: see them as they are NOW.

Group Member: Is there any energetic exercise that we can do, to make life easier for ourselves?

The Ashtaar: No exercise, no methodology, no procedure....just do it! The joy of living in the moment, dear friends, is that life takes on a new color; it becomes multi-hued and multi-faceted, it suddenly expands into a fragrant blossom with all its petals unfurled, and suddenly you are aware of the sweetness of its perfume.

Everything must move. If you move with it, joyously, you experience and live life vibrantly and if you hang on to the past or the future, you are living in the realm that does not belong to you. Of course you may visit the past or explore the possibilities of the future, but you cannot live there. Live NOW.

Group Member: I need to ask a question on plastic. It upsets me completely. What are we, the collective consciousness, going to do about plastic? Are we going to wake up and stop polluting our planet with this?

The Ashtaar: Now let us speak of consciousness, not of the collective consciousness. The consciousness pendulum has swung from enamor and appreciation of this product to distaste and anger towards it. It has to first come to a level of balance, where it can appreciate the advantages of plastic, and yet weigh them against the disadvantages that you have now come to realize.

When plastic was first mass-produced, it was a revolutionary breakthrough. Humanity was unable, at that time, to foresee what its effects would be, several years down the line. Now you have.

So rather than living in the past and condemning those who ideated its mass use, live in the now and decide what could be a balanced way of using it responsibly. Perhaps then, in balance, you will all come to understand that it does not need to be 'wiped off the face of planet earth', but instead used much more responsibly, and perhaps upgraded to a level of bio-degradability.

Similarly, the consciousness of humanity (once again, we do not speak of the collective unconscious) has to learn to joyously use oil, wood, water, minerals and all of nature's bounty, but not to rape Mother Earth.

Humankind, being intelligent, and having the facility to grow and learn from experience, needs to wake up. You are not mindless. You have no excuse.

Group Member: Are we going to be helped in removing the excess waste by the Ashtaar?

The Ashtaar: No! And remember, if you continue to pollute deep space, like you have polluted your own Mother, she will respond much quicker, as she has far less tolerance for you than your own beloved Mother, who excuses and accepts much of Humanity's carelessness. Mother earth is highly forgiving.

Deep space is not going to 'get you'. But it will work at a much quicker pace, righting any imbalance created within it.

So if you physically continue to pollute deep space, as you are doing so well right now, there will come a time when she will draw powerful Universal energies to destroy the unwanted mess. But along with the mess, you may be destroyed as well.

(Pointing to two group members) We welcome you to our fold. We ask you specifically to connect with us, the new us, the Hybrids. We now joyously return to our own space and time.

JOY, LOVE AND LIGHT FROM THOSE ASPECTS OF THE SOHRAB THAT ARE THE ASHTAAR.
