

25th June, 2009
THE GATEKEEPER
Channeled by Sohrab

A Workshop for a Pregnant Group Members: the energetic womb Universal Reconstructors

Trance Channeling begins

[As the meeting started, a Group Member 'G', who is almost full term pregnant was asked to lie down in the center of the room]

The Gatekeeper: I'd like us all to direct our energies into this group member; not into the child. Please continue and then I will direct you further. Group member (T), I would like you to link with the baby; tell our group member what the child wants to communicate to her.

Group Member (T): The child is already connected to Jesus so the message is: 'I am taken care of. You need to take care of yourself.'

The Gatekeeper: What does she need to do, to take care of herself?

Group Member (T): She has the knowledge. She needs to take a lot of energy into her heart chakra so maybe we could energize her heart chakra, to begin with.

The Gatekeeper: Let's begin by energizing her heart chakra. Group Member(S), I would like you to place your hand upon her heart chakra and represent the group when doing this. 'G', open up. There is huge emotion coming through you; let it come up. Breathe and let it come up. Don't judge it. (S), facilitate her energy release. (Sh), I'd like you to scan G's energy body and speak out intuitively.

Group member(Sh): I'm seeing her aura. The auric field is orange.

The Gatekeeper: You're right on track; don't doubt it.

Group member(Sh): All I'm getting is that the information that is being brought through us is going to help G with the baby.

The Gatekeeper: (Sh), You are being asked here: would you volunteer to be 'G's child's energy godmother?

Group member(Sh): Of course!

The Gatekeeper: 'G', this has been accepted. This has been asked by you on a higher level and Group member(Sh) has offered her services to your child. You will understand, in time, what it means.

Group member(G): I'm thrilled! Thank you.

The Gatekeeper: (S), whenever you feel your work is done, you may return to your seat. Group member(N), now you are to connect with your own angelic self and give 'G' a little information.

Group member(N): 'G', you have to be in a place which is comfortable to you. Pick out a place which is conducive to happiness and keep yourself surrounded by positive light; the White Angel is always there for you, whenever you need her help.

The Gatekeeper: (GT);, please speak to 'G'.

Group member(GT): The child is a beautiful, vibrant soul; deeply joyous, full of love and light. A lot of what may be happening to you, which may be difficult, is just a process of shedding that which is no longer required in your life, for you to embrace this new energy which is entering your life. With this degree of energy which is coming in, the old has to go. This is just a process of shedding; don't hold on to anything like attachments or issues; just let it go, be free and it will be a wonderful, flowing experience, if you allow it and choose it to be so.

The Gatekeeper: (Z), I need you to go to 'G', place your hands upon the child and use the master energies that are within you: those which you have been denying for so long and wield them now. You may pass energy and speak, if you wish, or just pass energy.

Group member(Z) Transfer the energy.

The Gatekeeper: Would each person in this room, give 'G', her child a small blessing of their own?

Group member: I already feel the child talking: it is so happy to have so many godmothers! Now you need to be joyous with it.

G: I feel very, very joyous.

Group member(N): I'm seeing a blessing of gold-white light coming through for the mother and the baby. Joy, love and wisdom.

Group member(N): 'G', you are enveloped in a beautiful cocoon of love and light. Please take care of your physical body.

Group member(R): I see, sitting next to Gayatri, a soul in a sari and she's very protective of 'G'. She's sitting with her hands on her stomach. I don't know who she is; whether a high soul or a member of the family, very close to you. She's sitting next to you. She is in a white sari and she's kneeling and earlier she had her hands on her stomach. She's a very happy soul.

Group member(Sh): The orange that I saw in your auric field was actually symbolic of a glow of joy that the baby is going to bring you.

Group member(Av): Just be grounded till you finish the last weeks of your pregnancy. Don't get the high or lows. Just flow evenly with the energies that are surrounding you and everything will be perfect.

Group member(K): I've got a message from Baba. He says: just you and me.

Group member(T): This old soul has chosen to take birth in you. Together, there are many lessons to be learnt, but energetically there should be no problem because the 2 of you will be good together.

Group member(S): It's a relationship where it's a very evolved soul, but so are you. The baby's soul may be a little more evolved than you are; but you are, this time, the mother and you are going to have to teach the old, evolved soul. It's going to be a slight exchange of roles here.

The Group member: (S), You are being asked, within the next 24 hours, to write a detailed note for 'G'.

Group member(S): The child is connected so beautifully to her and knowing the dynamics they have between them, is right now guiding her. You are to know the love that is around you, all the time.

Group member(N): The child will bring peace and harmony into your life. Allow it to be the one who spreads love to the family. Listen to your child.

Group member(GT): May you and your baby experience life as the most joyous dance ever. May you be protected and guided, in every way, by all the masters and energies, at all moments of time.

Group member(Z): I've got a message from Meherwan. Meherwan says: 'G' is my baby, therefore her baby is my baby and I am a great-great-great-grand father!

The Gatekeeper: 'G', I want you to now get up gently. Silla's message is in the form of energy. Place your head on her lap and let her bless you.

Group member: Mother Mary says: this child is mine and is always smiling. God bless you!

'G': Thank you, everyone. We both feel very blessed and you are our family.

The Gatekeeper: 'G', I promise to be an energy guide to you and the soul, in any manner that you both choose. I offer my services joyously, willingly, as a gift. My love, my blessings and my personal energies are with you forever.

'G': Thank you.

Sohrab continues channeling the Gatekeeper

Welcome! I will serve as a guide and interpreter for the beingnesses who wish to speak today. You must welcome news friends, from across time and space, who have now been drawn to Planet Earth by her evolving consciousness. But these friends are still unable to interact directly, either with Planet Earth herself or with her inhabitants, as their pure energies are completely incompatible with yours. However, these friends are here and have selected, from the spirit realm of Earth, various 'interpreters'; not verbal interpreters, but energetic interpreters who are able to contain their energies and convert them into a frequency with which you can merge.

These friends wish to be known to you and to other groups like yours, as they will not let their presence be felt worldwide. They will specifically target and work with small, select, esoteric groups from around your planet and they will also work closely, through interpreters, with the appropriate animal energies, such as the whales and the dolphins.

These friends have no form, have no shape and do not have any kind of DNA. They are clusters of pure sacred geometry, but they are not room clusters of sacred geometry; they are, in effect, entities, but entities of such high vibration and knowledge, wisdom, capability, etc, that they choose to work, from time-to-time, at lightening speed, with different aspects of the universe you inhabit, as well as other universes.

Unlike the universal friends you are accustomed to, they are able to traverse dimensions, time, space, realities and move, by choice and at will, wherever and however they wish. Their complexity is so vast it is almost impossible to describe them in any lucid terms to you. But you have now the opportunity to work with these friends, through us, if you so choose.

Do you have questions?

Group member: What is the work they have come to do?

The Gatekeeper: They have come to do energetic work of such high level that it would not involve the human consciousness; not even involve the human super-consciousness. It is energetic work based on a universal scale, where Earth is a tiny, tiny fragment in the tapestry they are re-working.

These friends can be called 'Universal Reconstructors'. To use an Earth analogy for your comprehension: they would not be home-decorators or even town-planners; but beings who would work for the reconstruction of your entire planet. Working for the Universe, as they do, entails juggling and balancing harmonies and vibrations needed for all aspects of all existences.

They have recently moved across time, space and dimension and have answered the call of the Universe, to aid in her reconstruction.

You may wonder why, if their task is so vast, that they are choosing to communicate with you now, as you are but a drop in their ocean. Yet it is not so: they have the ability to communicate with all beingnesses, energies consciousnesses simultaneously.

In this process, they pass on the appropriate amount of their resonance to the entities they work with.

You do not have to work with them directly. This information is being given to you for your awareness. However, you may call upon their energies, if you so choose, to support you through your personal journey of the reconstruction of self.

But be warned. If you do so, they will aid you with the best interests of the entire species, the entire Universe, in mind. The outcome, then, may not be what you quite desired with your conscious mind. So use them responsibly.

Group member: Is there any particular way to call them?

The Gatekeeper: No. Their consciousness is so vast, that by the time you 'think' you want to call them, you have already done so with the higher mind, they have already responded to the call.

Group member: What do we call them by?

The Gatekeeper: They have no name or label. Call them whatever you wish to.

Group member: Can we use them for health issues and all other issues?

The Gatekeeper: For anything you wish. But remember, when summoned, they will examine facilitate what is best for you as a complete being, which may not necessarily be what you want in this lifetime.

But in general, it is appropriate for you to call upon them in almost any case. However, if You encounter resistance or reluctance from self when you ask for their support in a particular area of your life, take that as a warning from self that you do not really wish it. Use your own intuitive abilities at all times.

Group member: Can their energies be directed by us to anyone else?

The Gatekeeper: This is a complex question. They can be summoned by you for another, but you have to be in perfect alignment with the other person's energies before you wield these powers externally. For the most part, if the other person's energies do not require them, they will reject these energies. But if they reject them and you have directed them to that person, they will rebound on you and align you in that issue.

Group member: There has just been some reconstruction done on this group. Can you elaborate on that?

The Gatekeeper: Let us have your views on this before we explain the situation. What has happened to all of you since this meeting began?

Group member: The whole group rose energetically. There was a huge beam, which I perceived as an ashofarohar, which took us to a soul group. We were souls together. We have now fragmented into smaller groups but we have met again for reconstruction. there was this b of pink light.

The Gatekeeper: Well done! Would anyone else like to share what they picked up?

Group member: This very strong energy I saw is as if we are one unit; just one.

Group member: When you asked me to hold her heart chakra, I was already told to do that and connect to everybody, like one group and not as separate individuals.

Group member: With all the energies coming in, I felt the oneness, like we are just one family. It has nothing to do with blood or relationships in our conscious conditioned mind of what relationships should be. This goes way beyond to a bond that's so deep, at the heart level, at the soul level. We truly are one family.

Group member: I feel a lot of us are personally going through a lot of reconstruction in our lives. The same sacred geometry that you spoke of: these beings. It's almost like a reconstruction of our sacred geometry. So I think we've already done a lot of work of having reconstructed ourselves, which is why we are here today, we have to go to another level. So it all talks about our personal commitment to our growth and work.

Group member: I feel there is complete work going on inside me. Ever since you mentioned their presence, I have been feeling, not turmoil, but... a reconstruction.

The Gatekeeper: Let us explain. First of all, as you well know, this group has not been formerly brought together; each one, each one, in this room required this and called for it. What has taken place has been an energetic exchange of self with everyone else in this room, in a rather unique manner.

Let us use an earthly visual to help you understand this. You are all familiar with the tool called the Rubik's Cube: a series of small compartments within one larger box. Now, assuming you are all sectioned like a Rubik's Cube, you have begun to interchange energetic sections with each other in this room, on a constant and rotational basis.

(Pointing to different group members) So you exchanged a 'cube' of yourself you her, she with another, so on. In doing this, you have familiarized yourselves with the various cubes offered to you of another's energies. You did this in energetic chunks, not energetic strands, which you are already familiar with.

If you take a moment right here and check your bodies, will find strange sensations taking place within self: acidic sensations, slight cramps discomfort, unfamiliar vibrations. Relax your bodies: you will then be able to sense this. You have done this to form a homogenous 'oneness' for the purposes of growth of self and of the group. Through this process, you have permitted in the energies of the 'reconstructing universal friends' filtered through us, to you.

When you eventually leave this room, you will all be familiar with huge energetic aspects of each other that you never had been familiar with before. In other words, you will now be capable of understanding and empathizing with each other, to a much greater degree than you ever could before. Your levels of understanding, acceptance, tolerance and oneness with the others, in this particular group, will now increase one-thousand-fold. One-thousand-fold.

Now, how is this happening in the universe? In a very similar manner. But to understand this, we need you to understand these universal friends even better. They have no planet, they have no space to call their own but if you were, in your consciousness, to quantify the universe as a large sphere (which it is not), they would inhabit the underbelly or the thin layer within the skin, surrounding the entire universe. In other words, they are everywhere and they contain everything. Their vibration would be extremely close to what you call All There Is, the God, Universal Power, Divinity, or Unified Consciousness. So they are truly omnipotent, omniscient, are able to transverse time, space and dimensions, by just being where they wish to be.

This is perhaps the highest level of energy you will and can ever touch (using us as filters) while you are in physical form. It is unlikely that you will ever touch this level again, in your conscious existences, on Planet Earth. If you were allowed to touch them directly, your 'yearning to return', not only to spirit, but to them, would be so great, you would all shed your bodies now, without thought; hence the filtration process.

Having understood, in a limited manner, that these beingnesses are so vast, why is reconstruction taking place through them? Because they are the highest level beingnesses, if you wish to call them that, who could ideate and create what the universe could be. It is like the topmost architect redesigning a building, rather than a small clerk in the office. But the input of the clerk is as valuable and must be there, as is the input of the workman and the construction worker and all those involved with the re-creation of the building.

Your entire universe, as you know it, is about to leap ahead. You have never experienced this before, in physical form; you have all experienced certain upgrades and leaps while in spirit, but never in the physical form. It is a great honour that you have given yourselves, not only to be in physical form, but to be aware of this in physical form. Now understand why.

The leap is about to take place. Those on Earth who are in physical form, but are not conscious of this leap, will not experience it. Those on Earth who are in physical form and are conscious of it now will experience the effects. This is perhaps the most dynamic event you have or ever will go through in physical form, in any lifetime.

Though the leap will take place, at a certain moment of what you call time, it will not affect all of you 'at the same time'. You will experience it when you determine that your energies are ready to share in it: hence she may be aware of the leap in a month, she (indicating another group member) may be aware of it only after a year. Yet it is taking place at the same time.

Group member: I'm feeling something.

The Gatekeeper: You are all feeling the preparation, the undertow, the current that is building up for the tidal wave to occur. The tidal wave has not occurred yet. Now this leap, when you add your energies to it fully, will take you into the highest level of self where you can be a resident of Planet Earth in physical form, going about your daily activities and yet be, at the same time, the highest and most evolved that you can possibly be for yourself. For yourself! No comparisons with others; no comparisons with others. For yourself!

If when you join your energies to the leap, your psychic powers will flow smoothly and freely, without effort on your part: your ability to intuit, sense and understand others will be such an ordinary occurrence you will not even question it, leave alone try and struggle for it.

Your understanding of who you are, weaknesses strengths, will be in full embrace; assimilation will not even be a part of your vocabulary, as you will be assimilated. When you touch that aspect, it does not mean you will necessarily exit instantly, some of you will remain in physical form for various tasks, either for self or others that you wish to experience. In other words, when you join your energies to this leap, you will become the most glorious, best, magnificent aspect of you that is possible. It is so vast, it is almost incomprehensible to you and yet it is.

Group member: Is this leap a move away from the separation to oneness we have been hoping to move into? Is the baby's soul also here because it wants to be part of it?

The Gatekeeper: Let us answer your second question first: most definitely! Else you and the child would not be in this room today. It may interest you to know that energetically it is your womb that we are working in today. Your energetic womb has encircled this room and has facilitated the energy process. You may wonder how this is possible. It is possible.

You have projected your womb energies into the walls of this physical room, expanding the womb to hold this group, and to facilitate this meeting. Why? Because, it is the most appropriate energetic space in which to hold these energies. Does this mean your womb is superior to hers? Of course not! It is just more appropriate for the moment. So you are all babies in utero. Enjoy it!

Why is the universe re-creating itself? Your question is going to be: surely it re-creates itself moment-to-moment? Of course it does. The universe is pure creation; and pure creation does nothing else but create; constantly and steadily.

But there comes a time, even in pure creation, where creation desires a leap and at that moment, creation takes self forward so many steps, it sometimes leaves itself breathless. Your entire universe (now we're not speaking of your planet or your solar system) is experiencing a certain level of stagnation. There is a sense of stagnation throughout the universe and the universe, being pure creation, has decided: let us not only change this stagnation but let us move so quickly that we excite ourselves for a good long period of time. In doing this, your consciousness feels the same way, as you are only a reflector of Universal Consciousness.

So if may now ask: are we out of alignment with the universe? You can never be out of alignment, as you are only a reflection of what the universe desires, feels and experiences. So you are all ready for this.

Today's information is not for general dissemination. However, you may use it responsibly and share elements of it with those whom you intuit would understand or appreciate it.

Group member: What I'm getting is: this group, with its positive energy, can influence the critical mass and have a very big impact on the critical mass. Each one of us can represent a million people, so we must use this power to bring about a positive change.

The Gatekeeper: You are doing so! None of this, by the way, needs to be worked with, in the conscious mind. For once, you can sit back and heave a sigh of relief and not worry about homework. You do not have to consciously think it. You are all doing this already. In fact, you have moved into the future and you are affecting the future consciousness of Planet Earth and directing the energies backward, in a circular loop, so that the current energies are being shifted. In other words, others are moving towards this understanding from some deep inherent space within themselves. Not all need to hear this consciously.

Group member: Have these beings experienced the eternal paradox that we have?

The Gatekeeper: They are the eternal paradox.

Group member: What do you mean by the eternal paradox?

The Gatekeeper: Why don't you begin by describing what your understanding of this statement is?

Group member: There is there light and the darkness in everything. We have been told they are opposites but actually they are not opposites; they are 2 sides of the same coin. But to see the light (that is my understanding), the Creator made a point outside of Himself to be able to see Himself better. It is only when it is dark that you see the magnificence of the light.

The Gatekeeper: Darkness and Light. Two sides of the same coin....now look beyond this. When you breathe, you have an in-breath and an out-breath. They are not two parts of breath: it is one single breath moving in a circular motion, a circulation of Prana.

Darkness and light is actually the same vibration, energy, call it anything you wish, viewed from different perspectives. The pure energy of evil and the pure energy of good is exactly the same. You could not and will not ever be able to distinguish it, if you were to see it in physical form, in front of you, to taste it, to touch it, to feel it. It is your perceptions, based on your personal issues that make it darker or lighter.

An animal that kills another to eat, does not see this act as dark. It is part of his nature: to him it is pure light. Yet from the perspective of the one being killed, it is evil.

'One man's meat is another man's poison'. It is all about perspective; it is not about good or evil, light or dark; both are exactly the same.

So there are no '2 sides of a coin'; the coin is metal. It is what you imprint on either side (your perspective) that changes the metal, but the metal is simply metal on both sides. If the coin was not imprinted, you would not be able to distinguish heads from tails.

Group member: May I ask 2 questions? 1) Is this a quantum leap? 2) What do you mean by: 'aligning with these new energies'?

The Gatekeeper: Let us answer the second question first: you don't really have to 'do anything' with these energies. As we said before, if you have a conscious thought that you would like to use, for an aspect of your life: you have actually already done so.

Group member: When you say 'consciously', you look for the change, so you welcome the change consciously as well.

The Gatekeeper: Exactly! That is the only reason you say it consciously. Exactly! Now, what do you mean by a quantum leap?

Group member: A quantum leap is a leap into a higher vibration?

The Gatekeeper: Now here is another paradox: is this a leap into higher vibrations? Actually, no! Because the space and creating that the Universe is now moving into does not feature 'vibration' as much as it did before.

Up to now, your entire universe has been based upon vibration: the resonance, the frequency and the intricacies of the AUM sound. The universe is experimenting and taking itself into an anti-AUM. Non-vibration!

Group member: Pure space.

The Gatekeeper: But even your concept of pure space is vibration because the instant you conceptualize space, even if it is a blank canvas, you have put the vibration of your thoughts into that space. So even deep space, the moment you think of it, has a vibration. So you are moving into a non-space of non-vibration and non-thought.

Group member: God! Beyond, beyond God! Baba says the beyond, beyond God. He doesn't even know he's God. We're going there? Consciously?

The Gatekeeper: We cannot say more as it would confuse all in this room; just know this much, so far.

Group member: This would mean a total revolution in the way we experience life on Earth. No issues, oneness, just pure beingness.

The Gatekeeper: You are all moving towards that. Now the exciting part is: it will not happen in an instant because you hold on to the vibration of a time-line. But in your time-line, the faster you acknowledge this and appreciate it, the faster you get to the end. So you are not moving at a gradual rate; you are moving at an exponential rate towards this.

Group member: Can you compare this 'no space' to a womb?

The Gatekeeper: The shape of the womb is actually a concentric series of circles of differing circumferences. It is not a sphere, but a malleable sphere. A malleable sphere has tremendous potency: the instant any aspect of the sphere is depressed, it sends out a vibration throughout the other circles, affecting them all. In an instant, all the concentric circles change, and each holds a different frequency.

When the energies of all the circles change, instantly and exponentially, new sacred geometry is created; created, mind you, not reconstructed. It is this creation of new sacred geometry, in the space that is malleable, that facilitates a new life-form being created and coming into beingness.

Every time the womb moves, even the slightest bit, a new aspect of consciousness is brought into the physical form of the child and implanted in his or her DNA. So every contraction, every movement, every physical vibration you put into the womb, while you are pregnant, affects the child. That is why laborers, who work till the last moment in the fields, are actually facilitating the highest level of energies in their children. Not all children take that level of energy, but the laborers body would be the most appropriate body to give birth to a genius. Now this does not mean that you have to run and exercise frantically while you are pregnant, but natural physical movement is vital.

You are all aware of the power of a pyramid. You have heard of experiments where dulled metal objects are placed in a precise manner inside a pyramid, and they emerge sharpened and rust-free.

Now we tell you: if your scientists were able to create a soft, rubbery replica of the womb, and vibrate it with a certain energetic frequency with an external current, objects placed inside this structure would not simply get sharpened or rust-free; they would transmute!

Group member: The Law of Attraction would completely change. How would manifestation work then, if there was no space, vibration or thought?

The Gatekeeper: You would not be manifesting. You would be the manifested. We cannot explain this in detail yet, as your consciousness cannot grasp it. But as of now, with vibration, creation and a time-line that you live in, your focus and goal is to manifest at some point in the future, an event that pleases you or an outcome that you wish for, in the conscious mind. But without time, space, dimension and vibration, you turn the manifestation inward where you become the manifested. So there is no external desire; it is all inward, complete containment.

Group member: This merging with these energies: the philosophy has always been about obtaining sainthood, like a pope or Sai Baba. Many of us are not feeling the need to lead that kind of life. Does it mean we have not reached that level or can we believe, as we do, that we are also energetically like them?

The Gatekeeper: Without vibration, the only focus (if there is even such a thing like focus, which again implies a future event; because focus is very rarely in the now; it is generally for a minute in the future or a year in the future), the only desire that you will have is not to be a Sai Baba or a God but to be you. You will be then the ultimate IT. You will not try to be bigger because even 'bigger' and 'smaller' are concepts of vibration. You will just want to be the point that is you.

The training we have been giving you: 'live in the moment', is precisely this. Right now, your lives are like a moving film. But when you live in the moment, you suddenly realize that that film is made up of thousands and thousands of frames and each frame is a certain aspect of you. By living in the moment, you are imbuing each frame with the energy and the vibration and the flow of the entire film. So rather than live one continuous motion of life, we are asking you to take it apart and appreciate the flow within each and every frame.

So suddenly, if you are able to live in the moment, the joy, the magnificence, the orgasmic experience of the moment gets multiplied millions of times. That is truly living in the moment. It is not about being silent and still; it is about experiencing everything in this one second, as you do when you are at a point of physical sexual orgasm. In that one moment, you are experiencing all that is. Moment-to-moment-to-moment.

We must leave or we will damage his physical.

We have no name to offer you.

Just call us: the Gatekeeper.
