Trance Channeling begins

Several weeks ago (21st May 2009) we spoke of an upcoming event: One which would affect the consciousness of most around the world: Now you have witnessed it.

Group Member: The death of Michael Jackson?

THE MELCHIZEDEK: Precisely. Let us speak today of various prominent figures, their energies and how these affect humanity.

He (Sohrab) will have to work in a slightly different manner today & he will require your support. He must move from the 'channeled' word to the completely 'natural' word from time to time during this session & yet his link with Self & the energies working through him must, at all times, be the same. If he falters, you must help him.

Why is this being done? So that each & every one of you learn how to work precisely the same way yourselves. At times it is not appropriate for the appearance of a channeling & yet at those times you may have to pass on vital information to those with whom you are interacting.

Remember that information must be given in a manner it is best received, not in the manner you wish to give it; otherwise it is meaningless. You do not communicate with a child of 3 in the same way you do with an adult.

If you sense, during the course of the meeting, that he is losing track when he is 'speaking as himself', you have every right to point it out & he will take a moment & reconnect. Do not hesitate to speak up. Raise your hands & say 'I wish you to reconnect at this moment' & he will do so.

Now, how do public figures attain their position of renown and prominence?
Is the Shahrukh Khan, or a President, or a famous scientist, just a whim of the Universe?
Not at all. Each one is specifically chosen by the collective unconsciousness, to serve a widespread purpose. To facilitate growth or a shift in a large group of people, and sometimes in the whole of humanity.

Collective consciousness itself has layer upon layer within itself. There is, for example, an Arts consciousness, a science consciousness, a sports consciousness, and so on. And each of you are involved, to greater or lesser degrees, with all of them.

Obviously, those who are in the performing arts will contribute to the performing arts consciousness in a stronger manner than one who is simply a viewer, but no one is exempt from adding their energies to every aspect of consciousness.

Now you may laugh & say 'How could I be adding my energies to the consciousness of Astrophysics, when I have no knowledge of that in this lifetime?' But don't forget that you beingness has knowledge of astrophysics, and you will contribute that, to some degree, to that layer around planet earth.

[Sohrab pauses here and disengages with the energy]

Now I am speaking as Sohrab:

Bear with me a minute, guys, this is difficult. I am being asked to speak of the Performing Arts Consciousness, as an example.

What I am getting is this: within the performing arts consciousness, there are several levels: acting, music, drama, dance, art, and various other forms of creative expression & each of us contribute to it in an energetic level.

We release a vibration from our cellular structure, contributing to this layer.
Those actively involved with the performing arts will release a stronger vibration, whereas others, who may just be mildly interested in this field, still contribute a vibration from their cells, based on their past life involvement with this field.

As humanity evolves, so will this field, as it is always a reflection of what is taking place in society at a particular moment in its evolution.

For example, during the great depression in America in the 20's and 30's, films produced at that time generally portrayed the working class man's triumph over adverse circumstances, or else they were films completely removed from reality, with music, dance and love as their themes. Both these types of film gave humanity a direction, hope, and aspirations.

The 70's was a breakthrough era: flower-power, the hippie movement, anti-war sentiments, and breaking away from the establishment. The films simply reflected this. Now, do the films give rise to the consciousness or does the consciousness give rise to the films?

It is a bit of the 'chicken & the egg' syndrome. Each one fuels the other. And in doing so, film reaches the masses, which affects those who may not have previously been awoken. And then their cellular vibrations start adding to the overall consciousness.

The films of the 90's were rather disturbing: they reflected the growing violence in society. And yet, in the 2000's, a rise in the spiritual consciousness is suddenly reflected in cinema. An examination of the afterlife, and acknowledgment of Universal Friends and the presence of the spirit world is suddenly becoming a trend. Alternate realities are being examined. So there is again a shift.

Now I am being provoked to talk about various public figures, and why we have 'elected' them to be where they are. I have spoken of these three before, but I need to refresh your memory: Shahrukh Khan, Hritik Roshan and Amitabh Bachchan.

The Shahrukh Khan energy is just explosive power. His whole energy structure is like an atom bomb that keeps exploding over and over again. He helps you touch your power, explode & move forward.

If you are a fervent fan of his, the likelihood is that you really need his energies to provoke you own. You need to access and acknowledge your own power, and he helps you do this energetically. You need to be 'shaken up'.

If you are not a fan, but are simply aware of his existence, or even appreciate him mildly, you also need his energies, but in a lesser dose.

The Hrithik Roshan has an equally expanded structure, but his energies are delicate, sensitive, intricate, and more subtle. He helps you touch your energetic refinement, your sensitivity, and your emotions. He helps you sympathize, empathize, be caring, and yet be vibrant.

The Amitabh energy is just pure BIG. He's just like an elephant in the jungle. It's just big, vast and powerful. The Amitabh focus is absolute, total vastness. It's far bigger than the Shahrukh energy, but it's not as explosive.

The Amitabh energy teaches us to be the biggest we can be. To reign supreme in our own sphere, and to be accepting of our vastness without being scared of it. Without limiting self.

We, the energetic peoples of India, have 'elected' their energy structures, and may others as well, to serve us in this manner. That's why they are where they are. And that's why they serve us...because they can.

As souls, they naturally also have personal issues to resolve, and personal missions to accomplish, but we will not discuss that today. We are simply to examine their energetic public roles.

Group Member: I would like to know about the energies of the leading actresses? Aishwarya, Kareena, Priyanka?

Sohrab: I'd like to re-connect for this.

[Sohrab reconnects and re-commences channeling]

Sohrab: We will speak of two of the three, and then add another to the list.

The Aishwarya energies teach humanity to appreciate the earthly Self. Body, appearance, attitude, the 'glamour' of the self, and the 'I can do what I wish in life, and reach any pinnacle that I set my mind to'. But naturally, her energies also bring up your insecurities about self, those unassimilated aspects that still trouble you.

Many have strong feelings about her, condemn her for being a 'mediocre actress', for being a 'social climber'. They should indeed examine where they, personally, feel unworthy in life, relationships, position, and society. Have they made 'marriages of convenience' to aspects of their lives that they refuse to change or alter? Her energies are most certainly ones that teach through provocation.

The Kareena brings up all the conflict in you. Confusion, indecision, the ability to put on an external appearance that is pleasing, but to be in disarray & disharmony within. To constantly vacillate & shift, to change your mind, to be indecisive: she provokes you to examine those aspects of Self.

Now we shall speak of an older actress: the Zeenat. Her energies offered humanity the opportunity to examine their power from all its aspects.

She moves from zones in her life where she was all powerful, all controlling, all exuberant, all expansive, to areas where she moved completely away from her inner power & handed it over to all those around her, including the public. She helped you examine the gamut of power, from complete powerlessness to complete power, and all the shades in between.

Now examine her life, & those various events you are all aware of... where she literally could not see straight. Power & her lack of it was her greatest gift to the Indian public & the Indian public in particular only reflected her imbalances. Look around you at your own history, at times top of the world, at times in total chaos, at times in expansive spiritual balance, in times in abject greed, corruption, & self destruction, at times so aware of Self & others & at times so dismissive, & thoughtless of those around you.

Each public figure has series of roles they play in your lives in different forms. Now does this mean that they have to energetically affect every single human being in India?

Of course not, but their energies will affect you if you are even slightly aware of their existence, whether you watch their films or not, whether you have seen them or not, but the fact that you are aware of them means you are energetically connected & they are affecting you. If there is no reason for you to be affected by a public figure, you will not even have him/her in your consciousness. There are so many, for e.g. rulers in the middle of Africa, who you have never heard of consciously. They are not working for you. They are working for many others in different parts of the world.

Now let us talk of a few statesmen & help you understand their gifts to society.

The HITLER came predominantly for one reason alone, to awaken humanity to its judgment & criticism of those who were unlike them, unlike them mentally, unlike them physically, unlike them in attitude, belief & thought.

The Hitler was a perfect mirror to you of your intolerances & all he did was to magnify them to such a degree that you eventually had to wake up. Many have asked why the Hitler was permitted by the Masters to perform so many atrocities, & our question to you is why you let him? WHY DID YOU LET HIM? Why did you wait so many years before you stopped him? His whole mission was to come, work, & continually intensify bigotry, to awaken humanity. Do you think he suffered mortal trauma when he passed back into Spirit world? NOT AT ALL. He fulfilled his mission magnificently. The question you need to ask was why did you let him go so far?

Now ask yourselves, have we learnt our lesson? You have got a series of them in your own country, you are quite aware of who we mean, & they will work in their way as they must, till you work on a unified public consciousness. Now we are not speaking of the collective, we are speaking of the practical, physical consciousness that you all have. You all have the ability to speak, to communicate, to air your views, to stand up, to fight back, and to resist.

We are not suggesting that you become an army of fanatics, but we urge you to demand what is right, not just for self, but for society. You must, as most of the political figures in your country represent different aspects of the blockages that you have to overcome.

Now let us speak of the public figure you are all thinking about: MICHAEL JACKSON .

The focus should not be on why he died so young, but on what he gave humanity while he was in residence on your planet. There is so much conflict in this room about him! There is love, there is condemnation, there is confusion, there is judgment... do you see that he is bringing it all up in you?

First of all let us tell you that the one you call the Michael Jackson was not of planet Earth at all. He was 'pure alien consciousness' in a physical body; yes, he had taken a few earthly incarnations, but his essence was not of this world, and he was unable to acclimatize to the norms, standards, rules, & morals of your society. Can you imagine the difficulty of the task he set himself? Imagine transplanting yourselves from a modern city to a tiny tribal village in the wilds of a jungle, and staying there for a lifetime! Imagine you, as you know yourself now, suddenly having to adjust to their customs, beliefs, rituals, food habits, their language, attitudes and 'alien' practices.

The Michael Jackson energies served one major purpose: to facilitate the leap of planet Earth and her inhabitants from the 3rd to the 5th dimension.

He was one of the major facilitators of this energetic leap, as he contained in physical form, energies beyond your comprehension from across the Universe & through his music, public appearances and consciousness, he offered you the gift of his energies, which you could then use to leap forward. The very vibrations of his music communicated this to you.

His activities on planet Earth, his bizarre behavior, his strange fads, and his ...unusual lifestyle, were simply a reflection of an energy unable to 'contain' itself successfully in a physical body. Was his public mission a success? YES it was, but on a personal level he suffered hugely, by feeling 'out of time, out of place, and out of alignment' with everything around him.

He constantly used the earth analogy of Peter Pan and Never-Never land. Though humans equate this with 'never growing up', his association with it was the energetic aspect of being timeless and ageless. His energies have rarely associated with the processes of birth, adulthood and death. They just ARE.

The Michael energy structure is like a series of exploding fireworks. He has returned to Pure Spirit, to pure energy. He is not in trauma, he is not in sleep, he is not in kind of earthly tangle; he is back in his radiant, natural, and accustomed vibration. In fact his energies have already moved beyond planet Earth & are processing themselves elsewhere in the Universe.

Group Member: It is the correct time he has left...because after the solstice, it seems to me...Divine Chaos...(?)..

THE MELCHIZEDEK: Almost all of you are experiencing trauma of some form...

Group Member: Why?

THE MELCHIZEDEK: Divine Chaos...We will explain this only generally today as you are not ready as a collective to hear the details yet, but they will follow. What has happened post this particular solstice?

A new flood of inner energies have been released. You have heard, from the beginning of this year, the various Masters speak about the energies being received by Planet Earth. It is now time for you to internally begin to release a series of 'Michael Jackson-like' firework explosions, & once again he has led the way to help you follow suit. You will be emulating his explosion, except most of you will be doing it in physical form.

What is taking place now, in your energy structures, is a series of 'energetic explosions' removing from within Self not debris any more, but old, trapped, stuck behavioral patterns. Now when we say behavioral patterns, we are not talking about Earthly behavior. We are talking about 'cellular behavioral patterns'.

Each one of you has a cellular energetic pattern that you carry forward from life to life & it is all quite different. Some of you have cells that store information almost like a knowledge bank & carry it forward lifetime to lifetime, where you may reach a point where you need to 'de-fragment' from within. In that case, through the explosions taking place now, you will be removing useless excessive information within the cells, allowing it to enter in your energy fields, so it is still there, but it is not trapped in the cells of the physical body & making space within the cellular structure for new & upgraded information.

Some of you have a cellular pattern of storing pure emotion: you will not store the memory of various past lives, but you will store the trauma, pain, experience, emotion, sadness, happiness, tears, like you do (referring to two group members). You both work predominantly with storage of emotion in the cellular structure. Now this does not mean that you do not have knowledge, as cited in the first case: of course you do, but the predominance of the storage is emotion based, so you will start & many others in this room will now start to release emotion. How? By creating circumstances that bring up emotion.

Group Member: That is what happened all morning....divine chaos & I was feeling the emotion & then I was observing myself with dealing with the emotions...same pattern that is triggering you off & it was total chaos from morning till now....that is why I was late...

THE MELCHIZEDEK: Some of you store mental patterns in your cellular structure, you will be the ones who have very rigid thoughts: this is right, this is wrong, this can only be done this way, this mustn't be done this way, this should be done this way, how can you possibly choose to do it that way, it doesn't fit with me, and so on. You may be choosing now to use the explosions to dislodge these patterns.

So everybody around you will start behaving in a manner that you do not deem fit. So it will be on the mental level & you will not get emotional about it, but you will get irritable, because people are not functioning the way they should. Children are not behaving in a manner that is appropriate to you. Friends are not treating you in the way you like them to treat you. Bosses are not dealing with you or appreciating you for what you do.

These are but three of millions of patterns that are being exploded by you, from within self.

Group Member: What will these 3 eclipses do, during this time? How will it affect the energies?

THE MELCHIZEDEK: They are here to do many many things, but we will speak of that which is relevant to today's discussion.

. They will give you a 1, 2, 3, phase release; they will act again as an agent provocateur, as a catalyst, to initiate a series of minor explosions & each explosion will lead to a greater one, till you are a series of 'energetic fireworks'.

Strange releases are taking place among all of you: you are wondering why, on a certain day, you are short-tempered, and on another, you are very calm. Why you get so irritable with one person, and are so amazingly understanding with another. Why you are so confused about a certain issue, and yet have so much clarity with regard to another.

These are effects of the energy triggers that are taking place within you. There is very little for you to do with them, so understand why you have created the situation & release it.

Group Member: (?)...Michael Jackson...

THE MELCHIZEDEK: Dear One, he has predominantly led the way. His explosion is exactly the same as yours, but it is at a magnified level, perhaps 2 or 3 billion times the level of what your explosions are.

Most of the people who have just departed from planet earth, and are going to do so shortly, will do so in this explosive mode.

The Michael Jackson energies have been the fireworks in the sky for you to witness, enjoy, appreciate & emulate.

Group Member: You just said sometime back that these things are happening within us & that you just experience them. If someone is going through some pain of some sort, should they not seek the help of a professional?

THE MELCHIZEDEK: Each person must do what he feels inclined to. Of course, we are not asking you to suffer through the process. Every process is for growth, learning & understanding, so each person must follow his own course, be it professional help, be it asking advice of another, be it professional help, be it medical help, be it airing his views, be it self search & reflection. But whether he goes to a professional or not, he will not be able to stop the explosions. They are a matter of course now, in the cellular structure, in energy make up of every single human being on planet Earth.

Animals are also going through this, but in a slightly different manner. As are all other species on earth. They are all working towards upgrading their souls. It is a truly sacred time right now.

Group Member: What about the mineral kingdom?

THE MELCHIZEDEK: Most certainly! They are in the process of developing new levels of consciousness and communication. They are working with great rapidity on inter-personal and inter-dimensional communication. Talk to your crystals! And please, listen to them as well! Hold any mineral, a stone, a jewel, a clump of earth, a piece of mercury in your hand, & ask for communication: you will get it loud & clear.

Group Member: I feel the energies of Bombay has changed after the Sea Link has been opened? Any insight? I just know there has been some shift...I have no clue ...but there is some difference....

THE MELCHIZEDEK: The establishment and opening of the Sea link has unlocked the Pandora's Box of Divine Chaos for this city. You will now experience more trauma & confusion, & at the same time huge expansion economically, politically, spiritually & the two constantly will be balancing the other out. You will be unable to understand how a city of this magnitude and a city of this spiritual advancement & a city of this economic development can exist with the confused infra structure that you are all experiencing & this is the Divine Chaos of Bombay being unleashed till you wake up & start to fix it, bit by bit by bit.

Group Member: I feel no upliftment...I just feel chaos when I see that Sea link...

THE MELCHIZEDEK: Both exist within you & you are being asked to examine the divine chaos within you. The Sea Link has also facilitated a 'physical energetic divide' within the energies of Bombay, even though it is physically on the periphery of the city: it has formed an energetic slash through this city, allowing new & more vibrant energies to explode outwards, Michael Jackson-like, in a series of 'energetic fireworks.' This will, of course, be manifest in physical forms: in the form of groups protesting, rioting, voices being heard, trauma, exuberance, new possibilities, economic growth, and so on.

Each explosion of the fireworks has and released a different set of energies & your task, in Divine Chaos, is to sit in it, experience it & understand eventually that there is no chaos; there is only perfection.

BLESSINGS FROM THOSE ASPECTS OF SOHRAB & THE GROUP THAT ARE THE MELCHIZEDEK, THE GURU GOBIND SINGH, & THE JADEFIRE.
