Old Customs and Traditions The Energies of Various Countries

Trance Channeling begins

🌈 The energies of India & China are currently at an extremely interesting state of evolution. We will touch upon this briefly, as you wished to know about them.

As you all are aware, there are various energy centers beneath your planet Earth that release vortexes; vibrations that reach the surface of your planet at different times. These vortexes do not remain fixed in one place, sometimes they will energize a place for many years & then move forward, sometimes only for a few months.

A new series have been triggered beneath India and China, specifically for these areas. The energies released by most vortexes arise through a particular area or country & then circle the globe. These particular vortexes, however, have been triggered by the collective consciousness of the two countries, and are for their own growth & development.

Both countries have now chosen to now begin the process of merging their past history with their current level of advancement, in all fields: technology, science, the arts, commerce and so on.

You are right (pointing to a group member) when you said that the peoples of your country tend to live in the past, holding on very tightly to structures, beliefs, and customs that have no energetic validity anymore.

Understand us: we are not urging you to reject every custom you follow, but these new vortex energies will help you bring a new energetic slant to your old customs, so that they come into energetic synchronicity with your current energies.

What happens when you practice an energetically outdated ritual, custom, structure or belief?

Your own energies may be expanded & vibrating at this (higher) level & the old structure may be a more contained one. Every time you link with an old energy that has no validity any more, you contract your energies. Remember: the density of the old structure is greater than your density & therefore when you interact with it, you shrink. Something that you don't want to do anymore.

Do not misunderstand our words. We are not asking you to discard every ritual, every practice & every tenet that you hold dear & sacred, not at all! But we are asking you to bring those into the modern energy structure & that is what is taking place right now, with these new energies being released.

The energies of the Solar & Lunar eclipses today are facilitating the release of these vortices & they will release other vortices in other parts of the planet, but those vortices will have other reasons for existence.

Group Member: (?).....poverty &(?)....

🌈 It will not alleviate any situation, but it will bring it so much 'in your face' that you will be forced to reconsider how you wish to deal with that issue. You will be provoked, as a people, to look at it, to study it, to view it anew, & to find new & valid solutions for such situations.

Group Member: 'Slumdog Millionaire' the movie....has helped the world view just this!

🌈 Precisely....the perfect example of a starting point. Now, what are some of the old customs and rituals that you think need reviewal?

Group Member: Child marriage....sati...the caste system...the slaughter of the girlchild....child labour.

🌈 Precisely! Now let us examine one that you have not mentioned...the dowry system...and through that, understand how a system needs to be restructured with your new energies, rather than just eradicated.

This system, per se, is not a bad one. But it needs to move from one where girls are bought, sold and harassed; to one where parents joyously offer the young couple any gifts that they so choose, in a celebration of their union.

Customs & Rituals of each religion are going through a vigorous upgrade. Joyously go to your churches or temples if you so choose, but you cannot anymore look at the 'murti' in the festival & worship the murti, without acknowledging the GOD WITHIN YOU. These shifts are taking place now.

Group Member: What about live-in relationships?

🌈 A good example to study. Live-in relationships have come about as you collectively wish to examine and shift the unnatural nature that marriage has now become.

Why the word 'unnatural'? Because marriage has now evolved into a tangled mass of energetic knots; and a true marriage has no knots, and no entanglements.

The two partners are meant to be unique individuals who come together equally, in joyous union. They are not meant to control one another, but to compliment one another. They are not meant to validate one another, but to help each other find their own inner validation. Their energies are not meant to get intertwined, but to grow parallel, in joyous support of each other.

The live-in relationship, whether it be partners of different sexes or the same sex, offer the couple the opportunity to explore all of this freely. The verbal energetic commitment allows them the freedom to explore without official ties. How can any external source declare you 'bound together for life'? That can only come from an inner commitment, first to self, and then to your partner.

Marriage, per se, is not irrelevant or outdated, but all humans now need to examine why they are choosing this state, and what they individually want from it. It cannot just be a 'socially acceptable custom' which urges them into the state of wedlock. Listen to the word itself: wedlock. Locked together? Is that what you really want?

Group Member: Will China eventually divide into small countries?

🌈 It is imminent....it is indeed imminent...we have not spoken of the energies of China....but yes, it is likely, as the vortex below China is releasing a very powerful vibration, not only for the same reason that cited in the case of India, but for other reasons as well.

The Chinese people are attempting to merge technological advancement with deep rooted, old-fashioned structure & through this process the entire country (cities, towns and villages) wish to energetically unify at a very rapid rate.

India is not working that speedily: India will retain the structure of the village, the small town, the city, and the metropolis, for a much longer time period than China will.

China wishes to become homogenous. To create that long term, it needs to first fragment & from total fragmentation, she will churn up & eventually unify; so yes, China is likely, in the next several years, to fragment further before she merges.

Group Member: Caste system...there's this book by 'Manu', not that I have read it, but....this book is relatively responsible for a lot of misconceptions...to look at it & maybe fragment the misconception....In what spirit was this book written? What did it mean?

🌈 Just as some teachers work with the rod of discipline & others work with encouragement, so does literature, so do the performing arts, and so on. The fact that this has provoked you to think about it, means that it has accomplished its task.

And talking of the caste system, there is not one in this room who does not practice it. There is not one in this room who does not practice it. Oh Yes! You may not think in terms of 'the Brahmin, the Kshatriya, the Vaisya, & the Sudra'; but have you not thought about others of a different social stratum with disdain? Have you not condemned someone from marrying outside their community? Have you not scorned another for entering into a same-sex relationship? Have you not condemned aspects of yourself that you consider 'unworthy' to have?

Group Member: China will have the same fate as Russia....will it be the next super-power?

🌈 Up to now, on planet Earth, there had been areas of energetic domination: certain countries or kingdoms have reigned supreme for an extended period of historical time, and then these have been surpassed by others that move into that position. This is now changing very rapidly, as the consciousness of earth wants to smoothen out and equalize every aspect of herself.

We have told you in the past that Earth is working towards an equitable climate: for this to take place, there first have to be heat-waves in certain areas, cold spells in others, polar icecaps have to melt, and other such ecological changes have to take place, till she eventually moves into one pleasant, uniform climate the world over.

This same pattern is now being followed in terms of Power. Countries are currently warring energetically; some will rise and fall in terms of 'world supremacy', and now all this will take place at a very rapid rate. You will observe that, unlike in the past, where countries reigned supreme for hundreds of years, now they may move up and down within a span of 15 years.

This is the movement towards a magnificent plan where no one country 'reigns supreme', but instead, where each part of the planet shines in its own magnificence, offering its unique resources, talent and bounty, to all other parts of the planet, in complete joy.

For example, it is likely that India will dominate the world in terms of finance, and China in terms of technology. Then both finance and technological domination will move to other parts of the world. In this manner, an energetic symphony will be created, with various parts rising up and shining, offering the planet its wealth and resources in turn.

Eventually you are working towards not individuating countries at all, but just seeing yourselves as parts of one whole: mother earth.

Group Member: It will be moment to moment.....

🌈 It will be moment to moment. These vortices will release energies that reflect the group consciousness, facilitating aspects that both India and China will to experience. These may be magnificent expansions, but at the same time, they may bring up to the surface debris that you first wish to rid yourselves of: corruption, greed, selfishness and so on. So there will be confusion and turmoil experienced as well.

Group Member: But inequality.....inequality is a natural state of consciousness of society...is it possible for anybody in this room to be completely free of judgment? That seems so impossible!

🌈 Inequality is the most unnatural state of Beingness! When we speak of equality, we do not refer to your concepts of socialism or communism. We refer to the perfect inner balance of the Masculine and the Feminine. With this, you would only experience, embrace, desire and radiate quality for all. Will you ever reach this complete state while in an embodied form? It is unlikely. But you are all working towards it! And, as you know, you can achieve the impossible!

Group Member: I was reading an article that states that the frequencies of our planet are not compatible with some of the frequencies of the Milky Way....which is why we are being (inaudible) & will this will go on till 2012?

🌈 (laughing).....Dear friends, we have spoken of this at an earlier session. Let us refresh your memories.

The Universe, as you know it, has no real boundary & therefore has no real center. However, she creates within self an 'energetic center', that shifts from time to time.

Planet Earth is currently at the energetic center of your Universe. And the Universe is using YOU to recreate herself. Energies that are now passing through earth are being radiated outwards towards ever part of her.

And as the Universe recreates every aspect of Self, Earth is receiving the maximum vibration at this point in time. All planetary bodies are undergoing a shift.

If you recall, we have urged you time and again NOT to hang onto predictions: the very planetary energies that your astrologers, numerologists and card readers use to formulate these predictions are changing and upgrading moment-to-moment, so how can any prediction remain certain? They are only probabilities.

The only way to live right now is moment-to-moment.

Group Member: How long will Earth remain at the center?

🌈 That itself is being decided moment-to-moment: and it will remain the center for as long as the collective consciousness of the Universe deems it appropriate for her overall growth.

Why do you think we have spent session after session, from the beginning of this year, talking to you of different energies? It is vital that you understand the significance of your being where you are, at this moment in time. Earth is the center of the Universe now, and you have all chosen to incarnate & be in existence at this time, to be a part of this magnificent, magnificent experience. YOU HAVE CHOSEN IT. ENJOY IT.

UNDERSTAND YOUR MAGNIFICENCE.....for having chosen that, or else you would not have incarnated on this planet at this time. WOW!

Group Member: Why are we not accelerating faster?

🌈 Because YOU RESIST.....because the old is familiar & comfortable, because abuse is more comfortable to most of you than pure joy. WAKE UP....WAKE UP....WAKE UP.....

You are all waiting for that moment where 2012 appears for the shifts. Even though 2012 has been earmarked for the shift, the shift energies have begun right now, therefore though you are technically in 2009, you are already in 2012. Much for what is happening in 2012 is occurring now. Energies are not bound by planetary years, but if we were to simplify this & give you an answer, we would say you have been vibrating with these energies for about a year and a half.

Group Member: is Earth going to tilt 3 degrees?

🌈 Earth's polar energies are changing...in fact they are in a slow process of complete reversal. Will the actual physical tilt take place? It is already happening, but not just in one direction. It is now constantly moving! But most of these movements are so gentle that they do not register on your current scientific instruments.

Group Member: Can you talk to us about Pakistan?

🌈 Pakistan! Remember our earlier discussion on the Caste system? Take a moment here, don't answer out aloud, but ask yourselves: What do I really feel about Pakistan? What do I feel about the average Pakistani? What do I feel about a Muslim Pakistani? What do I feel about a terrorist who is a Muslim Pakistani? (Amused) 'Caste systems' galore!!!!

The energies of Pakistan are going through the same mutation and upgrade as those of India. You have chosen to separate them from your country with a boundary, but energetically they are the same. However, there is a slight difference.

India now wishes to examine & bring to the surface her aspects of greed, corruption, separation, disparity, inequality, & her aspect of smug self-satisfaction, YES! Smug self-satisfaction! India has begun to examine all of these.

Pakistan, as an 'energetic area', is working with aspects of separation and suppression.

The same vortices are working for India and Pakistan, in the same manner, bringing these aspects up for examination and assimilation. If you think that you are having a hard time dealing with all that is coming up for your reviewal, they are having it much worse! Because suppression is their natural state. Their habit.

So if you wish, you may generously offer them your light, to facilitate this process.

Group Member: New Zealand recently had an earthquake.....7.5 on the Richter Scale. It has now apparently moved a bit towards Australia....does this mean that all the continents will eventually become one land mass?

🌈 When you say eventually, what do you mean? (all laugh)
Planet Earth is likely to move into a new phase of self, where 'eventually' all land masses remain flexible. They will join one another, separate, and rejoin others, almost like floating islands.

In this process, different energies will constantly merge and separate, time and again, over a long period of time, giving earth energetic homogeneity. Can you think of a better way of 'bringing the world together'? It is heartening to witness now how many people consider themselves world citizens, without first thinking of themselves as Indians, Americans, Hindus or Muslims. Through this comes energetic unity, which leads to a desire to share and equally distribute food, water, electricity and other such necessities.

Group Member: How much are you allowed to awaken us? Do you implant thoughts in our heads?

🌈 Let us say we often provoke you to think, to feel, & to experience. We are not permitted to interfere with your course: we do guide you through your chosen experiences, but were to you embark on a war with weapons that would, in all likelihood, destroy your entire planet, we would be permitted by your collective consciousness to 'step in' to a greater degree.

Our intervention has to come from the demand of your collective consciousness. So if you choose to annihilate a portion of your population, we would not interfere, but remember, the consciousness of Planet Earth herself overrides your consciousness.

Group Member: Some years ago I read a book which stated that the Ashtaar would not allow a nuclear weapon to destroy vast portions of the planet....does this still stand?

🌈 NOT ANYMORE, as your own energies are now sufficiently developed for you to guide yourselves. If you choose this, so be it. Live with the consequences. But if the weapon could destroy the entire planet, Mother Earth's consciousness would give us the permission to override this. But if you want to wipe out large portions of your population, food, water and other natural resources, go ahead. Your choice. But then, live with it.

Group Member: North Korea? Can you tell us about this area?

🌈 North Korea is currently the center of upheaval of the entire planet. It is acting like a conduit to release her violence. Violence that you have generated. Without a release valve, the planet would explode.

Therefore, all those who reside there currently, wish to both facilitate this release for Planet earth, as well as release these aspects very vigorously from self. So think carefully before you choose to visit this space.

Group Member: Could you speak to us of Africa? I feel it is very powerful right now.

🌈 Africa is indeed coming into her own glory. You may recall that when we spoke of Africa several months ago, we spoke of the chaos and confusion that she was undergoing at that time.

She has now come into an energy space where she is beginning to 'glow.' This 'glow' will now bring up from within her, new minerals and other untapped natural resources, offering her the opportunity to use these for self, and to trade them with other countries, thereby increasing her economic and social development.

Every single African has, within his cellular structure, a deep love and respect for Mother Earth and all her bounty. This will now start activating.

It is Africa that is likely to lead you into global harmony, into an appreciation of your natural resources, into investment to secure your homeland, into an understanding of how to embrace the modern & the natural together, in co-existent harmony. Follow its lead!

Group Member: I hear that in certain villages in Africa, they are in communication with star systems and extra-terrestrials?

🌈 Africa has one of the seeded colonies of Universal friends (what you call extra-terrestrials) on Earth. They have, over time, divided and formed other such groups as well.

At the same time, another group was seeded in South America. Those two predominant seeded groups have now spread their tentacles & are in physical existence all around planet Earth. But the vibrations that they contain from the energies of their ancestors is so powerful, that Africa & South America are still the most powerful energetic beacons for communication between planet Earth & star systems.

These two seeded groups and their offshoots contain, within their cellular structure, an innate understanding of Universal Joy.

Group Member: Do they have all the 12 DNA strands activated?

🌈 No, as they exist & reside on planet Earth; but many of them have more strands activated than the average human being.

Group Member: Iran?

🌈 Iran has new 'light vibration' energies emerging from within itself.

These, if you so choose to use them, help you gain clarity on any endeavor or in any issue with which you are involved. Any endeavor: what you may term 'good' or 'evil'. The light makes no such distinction: it just offers you the opportunity to be creative, expansive and to shine.

Group Member: How do we connect to this Iranian light?

🌈 Just by knowing it is there, and by calling for it. It's that simple.

America is in a process of rather dormant contemplation & reflection. Very little is being initiated right now through that country, she is in a space of re-evaluating her own collective consciousness, so there are pockets of instability, there are areas where they are erupting, and there are areas where they are being pulled down, but overall the peoples of America are in a space of contemplation. It is going to be dormant for awhile.

Group Member: (?)...India & Pakistan....

🌈 You have no idea, dear friend, how many Spirit Guides & friends are urging your consciousnesses to re-unite! The fervent wish of the Spirit World to see your consciousness evolve to a point where you wish to embrace one another, in joyous reunion.

Now this will not be provoked by us. You have to arrive at it yourselves.
One day this will occur: we have faith in you!

IN JOY, LOVE & LIGHT...BLESSINGS
