

8th October, 2009
UNKNOWN ENERGY
Channeled by Sohrab

Energy Portals Opening

Trance Channeling begins

Portals: you have all heard so much talk of portals lately, and you have already been made aware that many portals are going to open in the next calendar year. Well, let us inform you that the portals are already opening up. Let us help you understand these portals better.

First of all, a portal is not an actual fixed doorway: that is but an Earthly image given to you, to help you understand the concept.

In your homes, when you go through a doorway, you do move from one room to another; and you are surrounded by a new vista each time: different furniture, decoration and utilities. Even different energies.

Energy portals, however, and not fixed, are not necessarily in sequence, and do not always lead each person to exactly the same energetic space.

Many of you have seen films in which a spacecraft, moving at discernable speed, suddenly accelerates to 'warp speed', and is gone in a flash of light. That is similar to what happens to your energies when you enter a portal.

When you are ready to move through a portal, your energies are beginning to birth themselves into a new level of vibration, frequency and inter-dimensionality; and the moment you assess that you are ready, the portal opens up for you. So even if we were to walk this group through a portal right now, each of you would enter it at a slightly different moment in time, and would exit it at a place and vibrational level appropriate to you.

Now what happens to your energies when you enter a portal?

It does not mean that every single part of your energetic structure is ready for that leap: but when a portion, a part, or an area within your structure is ready for the leap, because you have gone through the debris clearance, because you are now ready to expand and grow, that portion of your energies is literally sucked through the portal, causing a vibration in the rest of the energy structure that is not ready for that portal, urging it to 'hurry up' and achieve the same level of new vibration.

Then when another portion of you is ready, it may not choose the same portal that the first portion chose, so it may enter another portal and once again a vibration is sent through to the rest of your structure, urging it now, with 2 different energetic streams and consciousnesses, to begin to vibrate with yet another leap in mind and so on. Bit by bit you choose to be sucked through energetic portals where you are literally taken apart structurally and reassembled in a new time/space and dimension, still holding what you know of as yourselves, but you are not yourself, you are not yourself.

Group Member: Why does this only occur in the unconscious...and not in the conscious?

🌈 You are being taught now to bring it into the conscious...

Group Member: Will we be aware of the quotient of light in us?

🌈 Absolutely....if you so choose...not perhaps to the degree that is possible, but to a greater degree than you were aware of before....Let us take a simple example: a few years ago he was sitting here and talking to most in this room about energies and vibrations and the 'vibe of a city', and most in the room used to say, "I don't feel that, I can't understand that." Now most in this room acknowledge that they can sense the energies in a room, in a city, in a person with whom they are interacting.

What is that, but an acknowledgement in the consciousness of the light quotient within them and around them?

Group Member: (inaudible)rapid assimilation....

🌈 Very much so.... But at the same time...(laughing)....the perverseness of the human mind comes into play.

The faster you grow and expand, the more you tend to hold back and limit yourselves, as you are more familiar with, and more comfortable with limited energies.

So when a part of your energies move through a portal, you sometimes attempt to pull them back, and this causes an energetic tug-of-war within self. This can lead to depression, feelings of detachment, disconnection, and not being whole and complete. Not Who you Are.

Just as when a child has to graduate from one class to the next, he sometimes feels apprehensive and resists this...he wants to remain in the familiar, with old friends, old teachers, and old books. And yet he must move on, to grow and develop.

So to reiterate: the portals are drawn by self, to self, not in a linear manner, not come 'one after another', but at a moment in time when a certain quotient of your energies are ready to enter them, and take a quantum leap.

Now you may wonder, "How can a part of my energies move into one dimension, and another part into another dimension? Can I do this and still remain 'whole'?"

Indeed you can! Let us explain this with yet another earthly visual: Imagine yourselves holding several balloons on several strings. They are all bobbing above you, each in its own space, some slightly higher, others lower, but all attached to you by individual strings.

Your energies, your vibration, your light quotient, your glory is all around you; and yet all are 'held in the grasp' of the current body you inhabit.

Group Member:....(?)...not ready to embrace your own Divinity?

🌈 The Rahu clearance that has just been spoken of is, in energetic terms, a system of spring cleaning the old energies, to facilitate these leaps through these various hundreds of thousands of portals that you are now ready to enter, if you wish, over the course of the next few years.

Now, when a portion of your energies enter a portal, they begin vibrating at a very high frequency, urging the rest of your energies to follow suit. But you tend to resist this, out of fear, as the lower frequency is simply what you are familiar with, and are therefore more comfortable with.

Yet the 'urging' becomes more and more insistent. You begin the tug-of-war that we spoke of, and sometimes, if you keep resisting, your energies become somewhat schizophrenic.

If you continue to resist, this schizophrenia can cause physical, mental, emotional and spiritual turmoil, in the form of diseases, paranoia, depression, and so on. That is why it is so vital to work on Rahu clearance: face yourselves now! You need to know "Who am I NOW".

It is the era of re-invention of Self: Re-creation is a long term goal, in Earth terms, you wish to change your body pattern, so you spend 6 months exercising and dieting, that is a process of re-creation of Self.

Re-invention of Self is taking power into your hands, moment to moment and choosing in the NOW, what you wish to be NOW.

It is immediate and it requires total energetic focus.

I CHOOSE!!!

I CHOOSE TO BE THIS NOW.

So it is the gift of a greatest level of power you are giving yourself in the NOW, because you know you can!

Let us have your questions.

Group Member: I travel inter-dimensionally, and many, many times I don't want to come back and yet this cord holds me, can I not get rid of this cord....

🌈 Absolutely not! Because you have to be the 'balloon holder' for the moment: you are not ready to release the body and fly away with the various balloons that you are holding.

You still want the experience, dear friend, of holding these millions of balloons. This is being done by you, not only for self, but for many around you, as your joyous service to humankind. In doing this, on an energetic level, you are teaching others around you how to hold more and more balloons!

Group Member: Would I intentionally create for myself situations....

🌈 YES!!!

Group Member: Where I would complete powerless, so that I can then choose to be....

🌈 Let us explain this...but the answer is YES! Most human beings choose extremes from which to learn. This is not the only way to learn, but it is the most common method the human race uses.

Group Member: Polar opposite...

🌈 Polar opposites...so to experience power, you tend to take yourself into situations where you experience complete powerlessness. It does not have to be, if you find yourself wobbling in power and you address it at that instant, you do not need to go to the lowest end of the spectrum to rise up again and touch your power.

That is your personal choice and that is where the moment to moment re-invention 'I CHOOSE' comes in.

Group Member: What's happening to memory? I am experiencing complete loss of memory...

🌈 Many are experiencing a loss of memory, memory lapses, and even tangled, disjointed memory patterns. Your fixed, rigid memory must now become more fluid.

You have a basic memory of people, events, situations and experiences you have undergone from childhood onwards.

You also have a cellular memory of a great vastness that spans lifetimes of experiences, emotions and events.

You are now even beginning to activate your 'memory' of simultaneous realities and parallel existences.

In some of these existences, there is no reality as it is here, there is no physical structure, there is no evolution of the species, and there is no time and space. They are unfathomable to you, but yet these energies are beginning to seep in and become hazy parts in your memory.

They are a part of you because you have moved there, but paradoxically they are not a part of you, because you are still anchored on Earth at this moment in time and your own brain cannot process them fully, because it does not have the ability to understand them.

This process is causing some of what you are all going through. Relax into the process, and ride it out. Embrace it, and you will find your mental faculties, memory and brain power increasing beyond belief! Above all, allow yourself to embrace inner fluidity.

Many of you will shortly find within self (at first in the dream state, and later in the waking state) new and unfamiliar memories, concepts and ideas. Your logical brain will be tempted to reject them outright. Embrace them! You are simply evolving.

Group Member: What about sleeplessness? I keep getting woken up in the middle of the night, I get messages, and when I finally awake in the morning, I can't remember what they were.

🌈 Many are experiencing this. You may choose to have a pen and notepad handy at night, to write them down, if you so wish. But for the most part, you will find them, at this moment in time, unintelligible. Most of this is for higher level assimilation.

Group Member: Can you describe to us the higher dimensions?

🌈 (laughing) How can we begin to put this into words, dear one? Our answer, in the spoken word, would be woefully incomplete!

The higher dimensions, when you attempt to touch them in this Earthly life, become visual, sensory and vibratory because these are 3 very powerful senses on planet Earth.

Yet they are so, so much more than this! They contain vibrations, colours, sound, liquid light (pure consciousness) and pure experience, at levels beyond your comprehension.

The closest we can come to describing them is to explain that, to you, it would be like living in a state of unending orgasm. A mental, physical, emotional, vibrational and spiritual orgasm! Unending!

Group Member : Does that mean I am the unmanifested source?

🌈 The quest of all within this Universe is to return to the source. You work at it all the time. Yet you will always keep a portion of self separate and unmanifested, as a tool for future growth and development.

At a time when you choose to shed any vestige of manifested vibration, you will just merge with the Godhead, never, never to return. But no one, not even the highest Master in your consciousness awareness, has done that yet. If he had, he would be unable to access or contact any incarnated existence or lifeform.

Group Member: This is why the Masters are at 98.9% light?

🌈 Exactly...and can you begin to understand the energetic trauma that they experience? For you it is not so traumatic, but for them, when they are at 99.9% merger, the temptation to fully merge is almost irresistible.

Their whole Beingness is urging them merge, but they say 'No, I am holding out because I CHOOSE to do so.

It is like offering a person who is dying of thirst a cool glass of water, which they then choose not to drink.

THAT is their power, that is their strength, and that is their commitment, not to Self, but to the evolution of All That Is!

Group Member: Which portal is opening up now?

🌈 Dear Friend, hundreds of thousands of portals are opening up. Remember, they are not contained by physical time and space. Several could be in the same space, and yet different people could use that same space and move through different ones, depending on their readiness.

Group Member: Who creates these portals?

🌈 They are created by the consciousness of Planet earth and all her inhabitants. Each area or society around the Universe creates their own, in keeping with their readiness.

Once upon a time, your thinkers created the wheel. Now they create an entire aircraft. As the consciousness rises, so must the intensity of the portals.

Group Member: So our only desire, our only goal, is to go back to Source?

🌈 Yes, but not quite in the way you view it. The source is not static. It is ever-growing, ever-changing, and ever-creating Itself. So you do not want to go back to 'where you came from', but to where Source is NOW. As recreated by the entire Collective.

Group Member: The entire collective Universe.

🌈 Yes!

Group Member: Is this the desire of every beingness, every part of the Universe?

🌈 Everybody and everything, in every Universe. This is a multi-Universal law; it extends to all Universes in existences. That is the one law that ties together every Universe in existence.

Group Member: Could you speak to us of 'death' as we know it?

🌈 Dear friend, we have offered this group several sessions in the past on this subject. We urge you to read those transcripts.

But to touch upon this very briefly: many fear 'death', because, from their perspective, this life, this incarnation, is the only reality they can acknowledge.

If they could only pull back and 'look at the bigger picture', they would understand that this earthly incarnation is but a second long, in their actual existence. And that returning to the spirit state is the most natural, the most freeing, and the most welcoming experience that they could ever have.

Now, the 'tunnel of light' that you have all heard of is not God-light. They are YOUR OWN HIGHER ENERGIES, welcoming you back home! What better way to be welcomed home, but by a cradle of your own making?

So, to carry the earlier analogy forward, many of you are currently resisting the portals for the very same reasons. Welcome them, dear friends, and plunge into them! You will feel an inner exhilaration, a freedom, an expansion, that is only joyous!

BLESSINGS FROM THE COLLECTIVE