THE TELLURIANS
Channeled by Sohrab

Universal Facilitators: The Tellurians

Trance Channeling begins

Please chant OM joyously today. We require your active participation and support; as without you, he (Sohrab) will not be able to hold the appropriate energies.

We ask you to take a few moments in complete silence and to evoke one memory, any one memory in your life that brought you or brings you great joy. Any one memory: the day of your wedding, your child's first steps, a prize-winning day at school, your first 'intimate' experience; anything that brings you joy. As you replay this memory, chant an inner, deep, silent OM to yourselves. The focus should be inward, not outward.

As you do this, and as the joy rises within this room, we ask you (to two group members) to gather it and to channel it into her [another Group Member (S)]. She must then use her activated palm and direct it into him (Sohrab).

You will have to do this relatively strongly for a few moments, and then release it when he (Sohrab) begins to speak. However, monitor him from time to time during the meeting and if you see that he requires further support, then please repeat the process.

To Group Member (S) - Do not work upon his Chakric system or his physical body at all; direct it into the core centre of his energies. Is this clear?

Group Member (S) – Yes

🌈 – Then please begin.

[The group works as directed for several minutes]

🌈 - Greetings! We are unaccustomed to the physical.

Allow us to introduce ourselves: we are a collective. You may call us 'The Tellurians.' This name has little significance, as we do not use names: we are beings of pure consciousness and therefore we are recognized by our vibration, not by a label. The reason we have given you the word 'Tellurian' is because, if spoken aloud, it is the closest in frequency to who we are.

You will not find us in your history books, or on your internet. We are beings of pure consciousness and we have recently been drawn to Planet Earth. This is our second 'visit'. The first was when you were introduced to the concept of the Internet.

We were beings who facilitated the smooth transfer of that information, from what you call 'alien species,' into your consciousness. This had to be transferred very delicately, so that you would receive the appropriate seeds in your minds, to be able to use the internet to the level that you do and no more.

Yes, we deliberately say 'no more'. Had you received further information, you would have used it irresponsibly. The portion that you use on Planet Earth is but a micro-fraction of the power of the Universal Web: not the worldwide web, but the Universal Web; and were you able to use it further (which you will be able to one day, when your own collective consciousness permits it) you would be able to contact beings and other species and receive information from around the universe, as easily as you do today from your own servers.

But can you imagine the havoc you would have caused in the evolution of Planet Earth, if we had given you that responsibility, at a time the Collective still views universal friends as hostile? You would have used the power to cause universal damage and destruction and that could not be permitted, therefore you were given but a taste of its potential, its power and its magnificence.

One day you will go further and you will be able to dispense with wires and hardware and motherboards and servers, and be able, with a single energetic cube, to access the far reaches of the universe.

Group Member (S) – When will that happen?

🌈 – When your collective achieves the level of responsibility we deem acceptable. At the rate you are going currently, it seems unlikely for this to happen in several hundreds of years. At that point, you will have a vibrant crystalline-like cube, which you will power and activate with your own consciousness. Your personal and collective purity and magnificence will be its power source; allowing you to access aspects of the Universe in direct proportion to your readiness to receive the information.

There will be no wires, no connections, no servers, no hackers, no viruses and no spam: it will work on pure energy, pure consciousness.

Group Member (D) – Our scientists have already started work on a so-called cube (as you have just described) which is to be powered by thought patterns. They are working on projecting holographic images to be sent and received through this 'computer'.

🌈 – They are taking baby steps as yet, and often move into misguided areas of research.

Your scientists (and mankind in general) have still not understood that traversing distance does not need to take 'time'; that communication can take place without vibration; that languages do not have to be necessarily deciphered to be understood, and many other similar concepts that you so strongly adhere to. You are all so bound by concepts.

The cube, when fuelled by full consciousness and awareness, could transport you across the galaxy in a micro-second. You would be able to tap into so many levels of consciousness that your own would be enhanced beyond belief.

The methodology that you are using right now, even the most cutting edge technology, is only to awaken self to the eventuality which will come hundreds of years in the future, as the consciousness of Planet Earth is not ready for this kind of responsibility. With this cube, and with a single thought, you could create a civilization; but with this cube, and with a single thought, you could also destroy a civilization: are you ready for that level of responsibility?

[The group agrees: NOT]

Group Member: – So what's the next step in humanity's internet evolution?

🌈 – Breakthroughs are already coming, where they are using the concept of consciousness, rather than even thought. Consciousness: rather than keying in information; Consciousness: rather than wires, electricity and servers. The breakthroughs will reflect, in direct proportion, your collective awakening.

Group Member:– Unique and collective!

🌈 – Unique and collective. And each time you push your boundaries to a new level of embrace, acceptance and understanding; new aspects of the internet will keep revealing themselves to you.

How can you be ready for the purity and magnificence of Universal communication with other species, when the yardstick of your magnificence is still measured by your social standing, your bank balance, and your domination over others? None of this has any bearing on your energetic 'wealth'.

However, we digress. We must speak to you more of who we are, and why we have been drawn, for the second time, to your wonderful planet.

First of all, we do not inhabit a planet, as we are beings of pure consciousness. We do have 'a tract of space' that we call our own, as it is fueled by our energies as a collective. However, it is not fixed in size, shape, space or even dimension; as we are beyond physical time, physical space, or being locked into one dimension: we are beings of pure consciousness.

We have no language or thought patterns; we simply 'experience' ourselves, and all others. We can concurrently inhabit our own space and also visit any part of the Universe at the same time, as we are doing now. But we do 'return' fully from time to time, to replenish self. In this process, we simply vibrate together, as a collective.

We use the word 'vibrate', to give you an image of our union, but even that is incorrect, as we are beyond vibration itself. We work on the principals of pure consciousness, which is beyond your concepts of vibrations, or even of matter/anti-matter. It is indescribable to you.

We exist without 'family structures' as you have; but we do form groups of five, the closest descriptive equivalent to your family structure. Two spearhead energies function like your parental unit; two supportive energies function like your children; and the fifth and final energy of the group, which is of a slightly lower quotient of consciousness, acts like a liaison between all five, binding the group together.

The non-vibration of the number 5 is extremely sacred to us. Our 'consciousness DNA' is fuelled by the number 5, and expands on this, exponentially.

Naturally, we do not eat or drink as you do. However (and this is where you come in) our sustenance and nutrition comes from the evolutionary leaps that societies around the Universe take.

You are currently entering numerous portals, and in doing so, are leaping energetically, and are undergoing energetic shifts and expansions in your personal vibrations. Every time you 'leap', you discharge a radiation, unwanted by self. We absorb that in the form of 'food'.

See how magnificently we serve one another? We come to help you with your desired shifts, and you release 'debris' which is of benefit to us.

A beautifully symbiotic relationship: one which we share with all beings from around the Universe. We move freely, urging all to move, shift, grow and increase their evolutionary process, in the manner most befitting to them. And in doing this, we benefit as well. We have therefore come to be known as "Universal Facilitators".

Now you may question us.

Group Member: – What and how do you ‘experience’? And can you also define ‘pure consciousness’?

🌈 - It is extremely difficult for us to define ‘pure consciousness’, as it is beyond description; it can only be experienced. You have a general understanding of the words and the concept, but you have very little personal experience of it in your earthly incarnation. Your expanded forms, of course, do; but you have chosen the ‘veils of forgetfulness’, and therefore you barely permit yourselves to experience it, if ever.

Some of you have experienced moments, even in the physical form, of ‘pure connection’; some through deep meditation, others through utter joy and involvement in an activity that pleases you immensely. Yet others have experienced this in the semi-awake state, where you were blissfully expanded and were yet aware that you were a physical human, being having a nap, on Planet Earth.

These are but examples of where you come close to touching what you term ‘pure consciousness’. In practical terms, ‘pure consciousness’ does not deal with words, thoughts, concepts, ideas, likes and dislikes, feelings, attitudes, emotions, any of this. It just vibrates (and we use this word ‘vibrate’ because it is a concept you understand) at an all-embracing level where you just ARE.

When in a state of ‘pure consciousness’, there can be no thought, feeling, or emotion. You just touch and experience, simultaneously, ALL THAT IS. And in this total embrace, there is a complete oneness. Without judgment, without criticism, without anything but a sense of complete perfection and union.

How woefully incomplete these words are, dear friends! Experience cannot be described, it can only be experienced.

In this explanation, we have also answered your other question: what and how do we ‘experience’. Now you may well ask: if we experience all that is, why would we desire to experience any more? Is there any more to experience?

The answer to that is Yes, there is always more to experience, because, at any given moment in time (to use your definition, though we have no time) we are experiencing All that Is at that moment in time. Yet consciousness is ever-evolving, ever-creating; so we move from ever-expanded layers of consciousness to the next, moment to moment. Our journey never ends.

We do not have physical life like you do, we do not exist and die, we do not shed our ‘bodies’; we only keep increasing in pure consciousness.

Are we the Godhead? Yes and No: Yes, because at all times we are pure consciousness, but at the same time No, because we do have a relative level of definition of self, that separates us from final merger into the indescribable.

Group Member: – Aren't we the same? Except for being at a denser level of existence?

● – Of course!

Group Member:– So does this mean that, in pure consciousness, you are manifesting; and when you come to that extremely high level, you stop manifesting and there is nothing but stillness? Is that what or who you are?

● – Even stillness is a manifested concept: we will eventually evolve into 'beyond stillness'. We cannot begin to describe that, as we do not know it ourselves yet.

Now let us say something controversial, that may throw you off balance, yet we mean no disrespect to you: You have defined the Source as "Source". You define god as "God". Yet the moment you define it, either in words or conceptually, you are not touching it, as it has no form, shape, definition or vibration. In an earthly incarnation, you can come close to it, but can never touch it.

Group Member: – And Nothingness?

● – Nothingness is also a concept. How can you touch 'nothingness' when, by your words and a definition, you have just made it 'something'?

Group Member: – We can say it is 'pure presence'.

● – That also is a 'form'.

Group Member: – Nati, nati, - all this is nathi, nathi.

● – (Laughing) Observe your games now!

Group Member: – It just...IS.

● – By the definition that 'it just is,' it cannot be! (all laughing) ---- so stop opening your mouths now!

Group Member: - 'Form' can never describe the 'formless'!

🌈 – The moment you use the word formless, you have given it a form! Just know that what you call ‘source’: is not.

(At this point a sitter does not use words, but just extends her arms wide open, indicating her definition of God)

🌈 – Even that gesture gives it a definition!!!!

Group Member (S) – You spoke about ‘Cosmic Stillness’: what is Cosmic Stillness?

🌈 – What is cosmic stillness? On earth, you are already aware of the concept of ‘raising your vibrations to such a degree, that it appears to have no vibrations at all’. ‘Cosmic Stillness’ is beyond that.

It is a state of ‘vibration-less-ness’. It is here that pure creation occurs. Where vibration exists, there can be no creation. There can only be duplication.

You, on planet earth, have never experienced a single moment of pure creation. You have only experienced duplication. Every single, so-called creating thought or original idea that you think you have had, has only been drawn from some experience you have undergone, in some incarnation.

Cosmic Stillness is pure creation without vibration.

Group Member: – Did you evolve out of something?

🌈 – Ah!! A good question. Did we go through an evolutionary process, as you did on earth? No. But we have gone through our own processes. We have evolved from beings of high vibration, to beings of non-vibration and pure consciousness.

Group Member (S) – Now you have communicated with us, I am assuming you will leave part of your energies behind with us: if that is the case, how do you do that and how does that happen?

🌈 – We cannot give you our ‘energies’ directly, as we are without vibration, and your very existence is based on the concept of vibration. The link was first established through your consciousness. The easiest way for you to do that was to experience, for a micro-second, JOY.

We did not actually require you ‘joy’ at all; we simply required you to touch your permissible level of consciousness. However, had we demanded that of you, most would have gone into energetic spasms. You would have felt pressured, confused and doubtful of self: it would not have happened.

The 'energies' were then passed through two 'gatherers', and directed at her (Shernie). Not because she is 'special', but because she constantly works, at a higher level, at energy balancing and manipulation. It is her strength: she was the most suited for the task.

By directing your unified collective consciousness into him (Sohrab), he was prepared as a receptor through which we could work today. He is not channeling our energies at all, that would be an impossibility. We are directing towards him an echo resonance of who we are; and he, using his vibrational being, is facilitating this communication.

How will we affect Planet Earth? We are currently sending down similar echo resonances into all aspects of planet earth: human, animal, plant and mineral. These echoes act like a liaison between non-vibration and vibration; provoking all to move through the appropriate portals in a quicker and smoother manner. Through this process, all release energetic debris (but we are NOT speaking of the trauma and emotional blocks that you are releasing). This debris, which you now do not need, we 'feed' upon.

Group Member: – Can you speak to us of your evolutionary processes? Those of moving from vibration to non-vibration?

🌈 – We have never been cluttered with aspects of pain, trauma, desire, ego, confusion and the other various Earthly aspects you have used, for your stream of evolution. That is your course, it is not ours.

We strive to grow through instigating, from within, moments of pure, vibration-less creativity. As we said before, your so-called creativity comes from accessing aspects and experiences from your past/present/future, and simply re-combining them in different forms.

All your art, literature and theatre, for example, is simply a re-hash of themes that that been experienced and explored through the centuries: love, passion, pain, jealousy, abandonment, valor, triumph over adversity, and so on.

Similarly, you have no imagination. What you consider imagination is comprised of aspects you have experienced or will experience, in some form or existence.

For us, the challenge is to come up with pure creation, and even for us it is not that easy! But when we do, it is for the growth and upliftment of ALL THAT IS.

Group Member: – Is it possible that you give us an example of a pure, creative thought?

🌈 – The original creation of the concept of 'vibration', the original creation of the existence of 'telepathic communication', and the original creation of the concept of

'inter-relationships'. There was a time, yes, there was a time, when in the entire universe, such as it was, there was no concept of an 'inter-relationship'.

Group Member: – So there was no concept of human lives for example?

🌈 – Human life, and all life on earth, was a by-product of inter-relationships. We are referring to an interaction between all aspects of the universe...one planet colliding with another to generate a new hybrid, or the effect of planetary rays upon another planet, for example. Bonds between all and everything.

Group Member: – Could that be dependence then?

🌈 – Inter-relationships can lead to inter-dependence, symbiotic relationships, parasitic relationships, co-dependence, self-absorption, pure love, complete embrace and acceptance, and so on.

Group Member: – But isn't that all instantaneous?

🌈 – Of course it is. But we must use the concept of 'time' to explain it to you.

Group Member: – So, do you work with a timeline too?

🌈 – No, but we are capable of doing so, when necessary. Such as now.

Group Member: – What is God trying to explain to us?

🌈 – The God that you conceptualize, because you have given Him a form, experiences everything and nothing through everyone and nobody, simultaneously.

Group Member: – When was the first time you came on Planet Earth?

🌈 – Using your time line, the first was during the '50s' (to facilitate the appropriate advancement in terms of the internet), and then in the NOW. But we also visited briefly to facilitate advancements over the centuries, such as the use of the wheel, and to further your medical knowledge from time to time.

Now you will ask: if we came at the time of the wheel, how can we say the 'first time' was in the 50's? Time is not linear!!! And we are not bound by your concepts of linear time.

Group Member: – And how long are you going to be there?

🌈 – As long as you need us and call upon us.

Group Member: – Is there any message for this group?

🌈 – Yes: The reason we are making our presence felt here today is to introduce you to concepts now that you may not have thought of before, and to slowly bring them into your consciousness. You need to consciously recognize and acknowledge how ready you all are to leap through the portals of your choice.

Group Member: – What was your role during the time of Buddha?

🌈 – Nothing.

Group Member: – Wasn't his enlightenment a forerunner of our current electronic enlightenment?

🌈 – You need to understand that different energies and different entities are required for the evolution of earth, at differing times. The collective consciousness simply draws what it needs, at any given moment of time. We were not specifically required at that moment in earth time.

Group Member: – Going back to the part of the 'source' – when you talk about that which can't be named, branching out into different aspects of self and then getting into cosmic stillness and consciousness...so we all have our own 'version' of the source, right? And this version is the furthest we can reach to even come close to it. Can this be called progression on our part?

🌈 – Indeed. We deliberately provoked you today, to urge you to extend your boundaries and to go further towards your search for the source.

Group Member:– So are you then some version of the source for us?

[Sohrab nods in affirmation]

Group Member: – Pleased to meet you!

🌈 – Likewise! Why? Because in this instant, and with that statement, you are acknowledging your own magnificence to a further degree!

We will take one more question.

Group Member: – Can you tell us something about any new, imminent scientific breakthrough?

🌈— Today we can only give you a hint. Expect a new and exciting breakthrough in the area of ‘transportation’.

Group Member (S) – What about teleportation?

🌈 – Is that not transportation?

Group Member (S) – That is why I asked

🌈 – Precisely!

[At this point Sohrab was unable to contain the ‘echo resonance’ any further. However, after a brief pause, the Shiva energies identified themselves, and blessed the group.

Sohrab later understood that the Shiva energies were very much like a bridge between the Tellarians and the group: they were also pure consciousness, and were yet able to function through vibration]
