THE JUDAS ENERGIES
Channeled by Sohrab

The Judas Energies

[Sohrab began the meeting with a 'group chat']

Sohrab: - Do you recall that, earlier this year, we were told that we would meet several 'living Masters'? We were then introduced to Ashley, the wonderful 10-year old, who shared his mission with the group.

We were also told to look out for 'everyday miracles', which are our divine right. These we create by being in sync, in flow with all that is around us.

Our group member recently called me up and shared one of these with me: she has a habit of eating bhelpuri, and then scanning the paper in which it is wrapped for messages!

Quirky? Yes, but fun! I know that some of you, like our friend Irawati, always seem to get messages from the back of passing taxis, or from hoardings. This is her little game with the Universe!

So on the day she had called me, she had just eaten some bhelpuri [at Lokhandwala], cleaned off the paper in which it was wrapped, and found it to be a transcript of mine, dated 2000, on ascension!

Now what are the odds that this would happen? Ten years after the transcript, it finds its way that that particular stall, and then into the hands of a group member who recognizes it?

This, to me, is an 'everyday miracle'.

Group Member: – And whenever I do some divine work, and am coming out of that building, I see a truck passing by, which has a Jyoti Ling Prasanna written on it.

Group Member: What does that mean?

Group Member: Jyoti Ling means Shiva and Prasanna means blessings.

Sohrab: – So everyone has their own, unique ways of communicating with the Universe. Find yours, and simply flow!

Group Member: I'm relatively new to these sessions: what exactly did you mean when you previously talked about 'giving our power away, even to the Masters'?

Sohrab:- I have talked about this to the group quite extensively in the past, so I will just touch upon it today. When a person, for example, prays to the Lord Jesus Christ, and says "I am lighting this candle for you, I am nothing, you are everything, please wave your celestial wand and fix my life for me, you are a supreme being, and I am powerless", you have just handed over all your power to Jesus.

The Universal law of power says that when you give another your power, he HAS to take it. So when you give your power away at home, your husband and children start bullying you, your maids act up, and your mother-in-law starts oppressing you...

So, citing the earlier example, the powerless person praying to the Jesus starts feeling worse about himself, as nothing much has changed in his life. He, in fact, feels more worthless and powerless and unworthy of the Lord's attention.

Now, if that person had instead gone within and said, "Jesus, I need your help, support and guidance in this matter. Let's walk this path together, hand in hand, as I am as valid as you are," he would find miracles happening in his life. This would be because of his pro-activity, and his validation of self.

[Addressing the group] There are a couple of other things I would like to share with all of you.

At a recent meeting you were all told that many new animal species were being introduced to earth, along with one that contained 'dragon energies'. The Mumbai Mirror just reported the discovery of a new species of lizard in the Philippines that resembles a dragon!

Group Member: Yes, and I read that it is 6.5 feet long, very peace-loving, a vegetarian, and apparently has a double penis!

Sohrab: – So this is one of our new friends. Thank you, Lale, for those graphic details. [all laugh]

Group Member: They have also discovered very tiny little microbe-like things in the water. They do not need oxygen to survive, and thrive in the most poisonous, sulphuric of conditions.

Sohrab: – The other thing I wanted to say was this: do you recall another recent channeling, where we were told that caves would open up and reveal new secrets to us? The example given of a ‘hidden secret’ was a smooth, granite stone, which would possibly be put in a museum, and then years later, scientists might discover that by ‘stroking it’, it would release a resonance that had high healing powers.

Well, our group member who was not present at that particular meeting, but on reading the transcript, she called me instantly. Apparently her sister has just returned from Germany, where she met with someone there who uses smooth, black granite slabs, cut in a certain way, which when wetted and stroked, produces healing vibrations!

She has, in fact, brought one of these back to Bombay, and has offered to demonstrate this to our group!

And finally, I want to discuss with you a recent personal session I had. I have that person’s permission to do so.

The energies of Judas held the session. Let me tell you, they are the most warm, loving and nurturing energies that you can imagine! He explained that he is the twin flame of the Christ

Group Member: Khalil Gibran also channeled Judas.

Group Member: I recently read a book called “Judas my Brother”: this is one of my most prized possessions. All of you should read it.

Sohrab: – We already know that Judas came to ‘play a vital role’ in history, to facilitate a chain of events; but during that session, he said two things that startled me.

The first was this: Can you imagine what it is like to be hated for eternity? Not only when you are on earth, but for thousands of years afterwards? Imagine what happens to me energetically, when Christian gatherings take place, even now, and they revile the Judas? I still feel the pain, the torment, and yet I joyously accept this, as it was a role I chose out of love, to facilitate the events that had to unfold, in the destiny of the Christ.

The second was even more shocking: The two persons who loved the Christ most were the Mother Mary and the Judas. There was a celestial discussion, prior to the event, of who was going to play the role of the betrayer. Both were eager to do so, out of pure love for the Christ.

But when it was examined from a spiritual point of view, the Mother Mary playing that role was not deemed acceptable, as it would have taken the future of humanity down a different path. Can you imagine the repercussions of the Mother playing the betrayer?

So the task was joyously taken on by the Judas, in full service to his twin flame.

Group Member: If we examine our own lives and our growth, we can see that that the people we hate the most are generally our greatest teachers, and merit our respect. I think that the Jesus/Judas are just two sides of the same coin.

Sohrab: – They are indeed. This also explains my earlier channeling, where Jesus had said that He was almost schizophrenic, because there was one part of Him that was fully God realized, and part of Him that could not accept the fact that he felt human emotions like anger, hatred, lust and irritability.

Group Member: Years ago there was a channeled book which said that a person who is perfection purified cannot die on a cross: it was only a look-alike that was crucified.

Sohrab: –Let me explain this: as our energies rise, so does our interpretation of events. The meaning you can glean today from the Bible is very different from what humanity could, a hundred years ago. Its not the event itself, what what you take from it that is important.

Group Member: But the Masters themselves said this.

Sohrab: – Remember that every book, every ‘recorded event’, comes from the consciousness of the person who writes it down or interprets it. Yes, some say that Jesus didn’t die on the cross, but lived on; other say that Immaculate Conception is a myth. Does it really matter? Today we understand that Immaculate Conception represents giving re-birth to self. Recreating self. Because that’s what we are working on now, at our level of evolution. Tomorrow it may have an even more complex meaning that we can’t see just yet. Its relevance is far more important that whether or not it happened that way.

Friends, the final point I want to bring up today is the concept of Conscious Living. I keep getting provoked to share this with clients.

It’s now the time to put into practice what we have learned. It is time to take action. To take practical steps towards achieving our goals and our desires. It’s about the doing. But it’s about doing in full awareness.

[Sohrab then gave details of a recent visit to the local municipal office, and how his old issues of “unheard, unseen, unacknowledged” came up.]

But here, while I was going through the confusion and irritation, I was at least aware of my issues that were being triggered. I was, to a degree, caught in it; but at the same time I was aware of the game that was playing out for my benefit. I won’t call this episode a triumph for myself, but I would call it a 50-50 for me.

Group Member: Now that you are in total awareness, next time call me and I will send my supervisor with you! [All laugh]

Sohrab: – Thanks, but I have to face it, I do have to go back: this time I intend to enter with a completely different attitude. And I know it will be fine!

Group Member: If you deal with a similar issue in awareness, is it resolved, or do you just bypass it at that time?

Sohrab: – I think this depends on the individual. As you all know, I do have an issue with government office workers. When I first discovered that my issue of “unheard, unseen, unacknowledged” was simply being triggered by them, I resolved to put it to the test.

I went to the post office the next day, to buy some stamps that I didn’t really need, just to address it. When the lady behind the counter behaved in just the manner I expected [sipping tea, chatting away with a neighbor, and ignoring me], I just stood there and accepted it. I began my internal work, saying to self “Now Sohrab:, your issue is coming up again. See what you are creating? Do you really need her to ‘acknowledge’ you? She doesn’t even know who you are. Why do you need her acknowledgment? You validate yourself” and so on.

She shortly turned her attention to me, and the transaction was completed. I left there feeling very triumphant.

So this time, when I went to the government office, the ‘situation’ was better, but I still haven’t finished my work. So I fully intend to go back [as I need to] and take it further. I can assure you, when I have fully worked it through, all government clerks will be very attentive to me!

Group Member: But it won’t get you that stamp any quicker! What has it got to do with you? It’s her inefficiency!

Sohrab: – It has everything to do with me! Many people have perfectly ‘normal’ experiences at government offices or post offices. Why do I always create agitation and disruption when I go there?

Everyone told me, when I first moved to NYC, that the people there were cold, unfriendly and very rude. I had precisely the opposite experience, time and again. If I asked for directions on the street, people went out of their way to help me. So why would I experience that, and others so much disruption and rudeness? Because I was so full at those moments! Because I was loving every minute of being there. What you put out, you attract. It’s always self-created! On the days that you are ‘flowing’, all the traffic lights to your destination are miraculously green....

Today, there are three major calls for energy work, and I am going to ask all of you to participate in this, as we have in the past.

Our Poona friend has been hospitalized with a stroke. [There is a message for us from Ellaeenah: Please do not energize his crown, third-eye and crown chakras; only work with the solar plexus and hara.]

The second call has come from our regular group member's mother-in-law, at 78, has been moving in and out of a coma. She has blood cancer, a hairline fracture of the vertebrae, has just undergone a cardiac arrest, and today has had a brain hemorrhage. She also has a great fear of death.

She is certain that she wants to move on, but is terrified to do so. In any case, you know how we work: we simply offer energy to the person, to 'come into energetic focus, and to do with our energy whatever she desires.

The third request is from another member, who is visiting today: her sister has breast cancer.

Trance Channeling begins: The Judas Energies

[The group begins chanting OM, and Sohrab: begins channeling]

There is a common thread running through all three cases. Though the physical symptoms are different, all three lack trust and faith: in self, and therefore in all external aspects of self as well.

What is trust? It is a deep inner vibration, a sense of just knowing from deep within, that you are taken care of, by your energies, and by the Universal flow.

Neither trust nor faith give you any physical sensations: there is no 'warm tingle' to rely upon. You just have to find it within self.

It is necessary for all of you to examine your trust issues: where do you trust freely? Where don't you? In general, do you trust relationships? People? Loved ones? Friends? Business colleagues? How much do you trust yourself???

The examination of trust is a vital factor during this current year. Please do examine this.

Now what is 'faith'? It is similar to trust, but faith is a deep, inner certainty that You Are. Faith is the cornerstone of what you call the 'I am presence.' You simply ARE.

Faith is never external: how glibly you use the word. “I have faith in my Master. I have faith in my family” and so on. But you cannot have faith in anyone or anything if you do not have faith in WHO YOU ARE. In your essence.

Faith is an acknowledgment of your essence, not in what you aspire to be. Faith is being able to declare: This is who I am, and I am perfect.

The three friends you are working with today have different areas in which they lack trust, and all three have an extremely low quotient of faith.

Please invite them into your energetic space: all three have joyously agreed to visit today. Simply invite them here. [Pause]

They do not need your ‘healing’ externally today: in order to serve them [and yourselves], simply work within self. Spend a few minutes asking self “Where do I trust, and where do I lack trust? Where do I have faith, and where do I lack faith?” Answer these questions truthfully to self..... [long pause]

The energies of these three souls will be present in this room for quite a while: after this session is officially, over a cup of tea, please continue to speak to whoever you are standing next to, sharing with them your ‘faith’ issues. Share, and listen to them as well. Please do this without embarrassment.

[NOTE: The group was informed the next day that Draupati had passed over smoothly, and that Eddie was well on his way to recovery]

Let us have your questions today: these are the Judas energies in communication with you.

Group Member: Is it true that it was the look-alike of Christ who was crucified?

Judas Energies: – [Stares at her directly, does not reply]

Group Member: I believe that a man of divine perfection would merge with the divine one, and would not have to go through all this. It would not have happened.

Judas Energies: Oh yes, it would happen. Every single Master who has taken physical incarnation, has done so with personal issues greater than any of yours; therefore their pain, their trauma, their confusion, their torment, and their self-denial, has been of a higher quotient than almost anyone in this room.

Not only did they choose to work on personal growth at an accelerated rate; but they also had to fully experience and understand all aspects of humanity, to be of better service to self and to others.

It is through this that they learned to have full faith in self; and to accept, embrace and assimilate every aspect of self, acknowledging it as divine. Would you be able to go out and murder someone, and accept this act as pure divinity? No, you wouldn't. Yet these Masters could, if that was the soul calling of the 'victim'.

The Judas did what he had to, out of pure love. But do not think this was a purely altruistic act; it was not. He had to learn personal lessons as well. The Judas needed to touch and embrace envy, malice, jealousy, one-upmanship and worthlessness. The Judas needed to touch and embrace his unheard-unseen-unacknowledged issue.

So, even though the 'bigger picture' of the act came from pure love of his brother; the Judas had to undergo all the experiences fully. Let us tell you outright that while on earth, the Judas enjoyed his betrayal. It gave him a sense of power, or vengeance, of magnificence, of self.

Group Member: May I ask something? Many of us are not Christians, but we feel such deep love for Jesus: what is this connection?

Judas Energies: Beloved, in your particular case, you were intimately connected with the actual event, and with the group that existed around the Jesus: this you already know.

But many others simply choose to work closely with the energies of the Christ Office, those of pure love. These energies are not restricted to a community, or even to your planet; their resonance is Universal. Many across the Universe work with these energies, and call it by other names. Their concept of the Jesus and his 'history' is unique to their regions.

But generally speaking, those who resonate strongly with the Christ office are of two types: those who lack the ability to love self completely, and choose to use these energies as a catalyst; or those who have consistently worked with these energies, and wish to further the quotient in self and in all others around them.

Let us give you other examples: the current energies of the Mohammed are an inter-galactic collective. Those who use them, across the Universe, are generally inter-galactic beings themselves, who wish to expand at a very rapid rate, experiencing new realms, new existences and new aspects of vastness.

The current Hindu collective predominantly facilitates self-expansion as well, but the means used is to facilitate a deeper and deeper inward search.

So, as you can see, what you call the Muslim and Hindu energies work towards exactly the same goal, but the route is different.

Group Member: And what about the Zoroastrian energies?

Judas Energies: The focus here is much the same as was illustrated to you earlier: they help you 'be the best you can be', at any given moment in time.

So, as you can see, the energies of any faith are for ALL, and are not restricted to a community. They depend on the choice of expansion that you desire at any moment in time. In truth, though you do not consciously know this, all of you 'hook onto' the energies of different faiths at various points in your evolution.

If the world could only recognize this, there would be no segregation of the faiths!

Group Member: Did Judas know of the Zoroastrian energies then? He seems to have followed them, by playing his role to the best of his ability!

Dear one, the energies of the Christ Office and Zoroastrianism are offshoots of the same source.

Group Member: I have been using both the Christ Office and the Mohammed energies for a long time now, for my self and for my healing work. But I am still not very clear about the Mohammed energies.

Judas Energies: You will speak to her [pointing to a Group Member] about her recent personal experiences with the Mohammed energies. She will share her experiences freely with you. And yes, you do need to use both simultaneously, and in equal measure.

Group Member: The Judas relationship, does it resonate with us, because it is so [inaudible] of God and Satan?

Judas Energies: Of course, dear friends! Two sides of the same coin.

If this scenario was to be played out in this era, the Jesus and Judas would have appeared as two warring mega-tycoons, or two antagonist film-stars. The energies of the era determine the game plan.

Let us examine the symbiotic relationship between the Jesus and the Judas. They are actually the same energy, vibrating at different frequencies.

When energy chooses to do this, it separates, rejoins, separates again, and rejoins again, on a continual basis. This forms an energetic DNA strand, giving you the familiar appearance of 'two intertwined snakes.' This is the basic Jesus/Judas structure.

Now into this structure are added other components. The Mother Mary ingredient could be visualized as molecules encircling the two inter-twining strands. The Brother Joseph's energies would be the 'root chakra' base upon which this structure rests.

Is a visual picture beginning to unfold? Now add to this the overall energies of the Christ Office, which include the energies of the Archangels, the Saints and other Christian Devotees over millennia. These could be visualized as the plasma within which the DNA structure exists.

Every human, animal, plant, insect, bird, and mineral on Planet Earth has either an active or a dormant aspect of this DNA in their structure. Those who feel connected with the faith [whether or not they are born into it] have activated this energetic DNA within self. Those who are indifferent to it have not chosen to activate this DNA within self.

Ironically, those who revile or despise the faith have an even higher level of activation within self!

Those who have rounded up and killed Christians in the past have done so in a Judas manner...to serve a higher purpose. In energetic synergism, there has to be yin/yang.

Group Member: Is there no parallel between Christianity and Hinduism?

Judas Energies: Not at all: every single aspect is parallel. We painted a DNA-based image of the Christ energies alone. Now you will have to look at the even bigger picture to understand this.

Each 'faith' has its own DNA coding, and every single one is inter-twined with each other! Some may be closer together, others further apart, but at various points they all intersect. And at that point of intersection, there is an instant merging of their energies. So when they move apart, they are further enriched by the energies of the other.

What is now emerging is a Universal tapestry, comprised of Sacred Geometry at its finest.

Remember: you are only familiar with a few energies, which you define as Masters and Gods. The rest of the Universe has access to others with whom you have never interacted. You are perhaps familiar with .000001 of the energies that are in existence. Now imagine the tapestry of which we speak: Now imagine the vastness of the Shiva!

[To the Group Member] Study the Shiva scientifically, through an exploration of Sacred Geometry. You will get your answers that way.

Group Member: We know of the Christ as the Jesus, as the Mitreya, the Anointed one. But what does the term mean exactly?

Judas Energies: This is like asking “What is Creation”! And you expect us to answer this in a few sentences?

Every collective, be it the Christ Office, or the Mohammed or Zoroastrian collective, is a unification of energy strands that have existed over millennia, and are constantly re-creating self, moment to moment.

When we say that the Christ Office is based on the force of Love, we are referring to its core, upon which the energy strands re-create self. Now it is quite obvious that every collective must have within itself love, trust, faith, truth, and so on. But each one uses a different vibrational core center.

The Christ office collective did not begin with the arrival of the Jesus Christ on earth. It created self before most of your Universe came into existence.

It was one of the primary forces that separated when what you call the ‘big bang’ occurred: a certain stream that was based on pure love, separated from the source. This created offshoots of self over time: Universes and planets were created, evolution of various species took place, and the Christ Office energies were seeded far and wide.

The Christ office energies of love are interpreted by earth as “love thy neighbour”, “do unto others...”, “turn the other cheek” and so on; but different societies around the universe use and interpret love in completely different ways.

So the different pantheons extend throughout Universes, flowing, inter-twining, separating, and re-connecting, offering all the opportunity to re-evaluate love, trust, faith, wisdom, and knowledge, depending on their levels of evolution and readiness.

Group Member: In short, does this mean that God is ‘Godding’ himself?

Judas Energies: – Absolutely! Re-creation of self, moment to moment: all is God.

Group Member: I have a question for the Judas energies. The Hero or the Villain is just a point of view. Cain and Abel. Ram and Ravana. Jesus and Judas. If I were anti-Christian, you would be my hero right now.

My question to you is personal: How were you able, while on earth, to carry out your mission. Didn’t you waver? How can you manage with everyone hating you so much?

Judas Energies: – A very, very good question!

Did I have doubts about my actions, while on Earth? I did.

Did I try to resist? I did.

Did I try to avert the course of events that I had contracted to set into motion? I did.

Did I try to hold back from my divine mission? I did.

I did all of those things, but the strength and the flow of self [unified Jesus/Judas energies] kept bringing me back on track. Every time I wavered, I was pumped full of hatred, jealousy, envy, malice, victimhood, irritability, fury, one-upmanship, and other similar experiences. These became my greatest friend, my beacons of light.

Do not forget, dear friend, that the energies you are currently experiencing on Planet Earth are far more refined than they were in that era. In general, when you 'hate' or 'feel jealous' today, it is in a more subtle, refined manner.

In that era, when we were angry, we instantly hit out at another physically. When we hated, we picked up a knife and stabbed without thought. Today, you may feel this way, but in general you do not always act on the feelings in that manner.

So the density of emotions and of the human level of evolution also served me. If I had to play this role again, in your era, I am not certain that I would succeed.

Group Member: Why did you commit suicide, why did you hang yourself, after all that? You triumphed and did what you had to do!

Judas Energies: Even today this is difficult for me to speak of. Remember, we were energetic the same. So in the act of betrayal, I 'killed' a living half of myself. Half of myself died with him.

Remember, I was still in incarnation at that point. Being half-dead was so overwhelming that I couldn't remain behind. I could not half-exist.

But there were no karmic repercussions to this act. It was meant to be so.

Returning to spirit, and into the embrace of my own 'wholeness', in joyous reunion with the Jesus, was so replenishing that I had no need for a healing sleep.

Yes, portions of my energies that still reverberated with my earthly actions, but those were soon put to rest, and my essence was whole again.

HANDS RAISED IN BLESSINGS
