The Energies of Money & Finance Energy Vortices over Indian Cities

[Prior to the meeting beginning, a member spoke of her recent experience with money. She explained her newfound love and respect for the notes in her wallet, and how she now blesses any money that she either give out, or receives.]

Trance channeling begins

I am so joyous to be here today! I have many personal friends in this room; and to them I say "hello"!

I am currently working, in the spirit realm, on issues relating to money and finance (or the equivalent thereof, in terms of energy exchange) in relation not only to Planet Earth, but also to other Universal societies.

There is currently a vast shift taking place- Universally; many societies are re-assessing their concepts of energy exchange. Some use the equivalent of earth money, some use the barter system, some use knowledge, some use love, and so on.

The collective consciousness of Planet Earth is currently re-assessing and re-structuring her entire concepts and systems of money, trade and commerce.

A spirit 'panel' has recently been formed, comprising of some souls from Planet Earth, and others from diverse societies around the Universe, who are overseeing this project. We are helping earth infuse new light and new vibrations into this area.

To affect this change on Earth, several things now need to happen. The first and the most important: each and every human being has to learn to view himself as deserving of the generation of finance.

Heed my words carefully: deserving of the generation of finance.

More than 50% of those on Planet Earth do not feel that they even deserve to live above the poverty line. More than 50%!

The second part is generation: they feel they cannot or do not know how to generate any form of personal wealth.

The third part is finance: Money and finance is Earth's choice of divine energy exchange. It is your birthright. Your universal due.

This must shift before money can flow freely, as it is meant to. Money is like an in-breath and an out-breath; it is meant to be received and given; to flow, flow, flow. Those who hoard inhaling but not exhaling; and those who constantly give away out of lack and exhaling but not inhaling. Either procedure leaves you prana-deprived.

The 'energies of endeavor', which you know are flooding Planet Earth during 2010, have been deliberately chosen by the collective consciousness, to infiltrate every single person's individual consciousness and to offer them the opportunity to now shift and start creating opportunities for self, to generate money.

Even the poorest farmer in the most barren village is now beginning to touch the fact that he deserves better, that a fair price and government support is his universal right, and that he must now stop giving away his power to a greedy middleman. This kind of change has begun to permeate the consciousness of all workers, worldwide. And through this will come an upsurge in the overall standard of living, and a newfound sense of self-worth.

The energy of money is intertwined with every aspect of your life. If your relationships are failing, for example, there is, most definitely, a financial lack in your life as well. If you are experiencing an overwhelming sense of boredom, you are certainly bored with money as well. Start to now find your own correlations.

Many Universal societies are also re-evaluating their own systems. Those who work with service as a means of exchange are re-assessing their processes of how they serve others; those who work with knowledge are upgrading what they have to offer others, and so on. It is an exciting time of change- Universally!

Because of what is taking place, you will now see extreme movement in the money market. We are not talking about a crash; we are talking about sudden upswings and sudden dips.

Large, established corporations may experience unexpected dips; and tiny, unknown companies may suddenly soar. Even in the family unit, the 'rich' brother may experience difficulties, and the poor one may suddenly 'find his calling' and succeed in an unexpected venture.

Now, this does not mean that 'all your money is going to be taken away from you'! Not at all. But everyone will find that they have to re-evaluate their personal 'take' on money. They may be forced to 'open their pockets' to areas of prior resistance.

Those of you who offer charitable donations will have to reassess the energy behind this: is the money being given as a natural cycle of give and receive; or is it being given out of guilt? Out of a sense of lack? For personal aggrandization?

Those who head businesses may find themselves giving large loans to employees, or suddenly generating revenue far beyond their expectations. All of this is for learning. Expect to be surprised. Enjoy the energies of money!

Questions?

Group Member: It is only recently that the Rupee has a symbol of its own...

■ Ha! Why? Because you have finally placed a Universal value on your personal currency. Universal, not Earth.

Group Member: Areas like India and China seem to be experiencing economic surges, whereas Europe and other countries are experiencing a slump?

■ As I just said: expect to be surprised! These kinds of shifts are taking place worldwide. Rich countries going into slumps in areas of their economy; poor, third-world countries rising up...it is a ripple effect.

Similarly, countries (or regions) that so far produced only limited goods and products are suddenly going to diversify. Countries that had a stranglehold on certain goods or minerals are now going to find themselves with unexpected competition, and are thereby going to have to find other means to generate income and wealth. It is an exciting time, because each person, each corporation, and each entity will now have to re-evaluate old systems of greed or lack, and find self-worth.

Group Member: So basically, it all boils down to changing one's belief system?

Indeed. Re-assessing and re-evaluating one's belief system, one's ethics and moral code, one's selfishness, one's thought patterns, and so on.

If you believe, for example, that you deserve only poverty, hardship and trauma (for whatever reason: karma, punishment, growth...); then the Universe instantly responds by giving you precisely that. So you are learning to change your belief systems!

ENERGY VORTEX OVER INDIAN CITIES

India is going through an interesting overall shift, at this moment in time. The energy vortexes under the area you call South India have now been activated, and are functioning at a very, very high frequency. We cannot give you a precise geographical definition of the area where these energies will be the strongest, but they generally correspond to your definition of South India.

Due to this, education and knowledge (which is already high in this area) will go even further: new child prodigies will emerge, and many discoveries and breakthroughs in various fields, will be facilitated worldwide by those from this region. Expect them to greatly advance existing technology and the computer itself.

The components of the soil itself, in this region, are now changing. The area is being saturated with new minerals, both energetic and physical. New, healthy crops will begin emerging here. With skill and dexterity, they will be able to unearth oil and necessary minerals.

In short, the energy vortexes in this area are working to amplify, unearth and expand the region.

In direct contrast to this, a new energy vortex has opened under your capital city: New Delhi. This one will work to implode its energies, spiraling them downwards into planet Earth, sucking out of the city what needs to be removed. This vortex will work like a black hole.

It will target crooked politicians, scandals, greed, corruption, destruction and so on. This does not mean that the city will collapse, not at all: but it will energetically begin to implode, not explode. Planet Earth will absorb the impurities and transmute them, as She knows best.

The city you call Bombay is about to undergo a ripple effect of energies. Pockets within it will explode, and pockets will implode. In general, the energies and the vortexes under this city are magnificent, but they have reached a point now where they are generating so much spiritual light that the debris on the surface has to be cleaned out.

We are talking about physical debris; we are talking about erratic thought patterns, belief structures, corruption, greed, one-upmanship and so on. Again, this city is not going to be razed to the ground, not at all: but expect new scandals to arise, new legal issues to erupt, new police events to take place and so on.

The city and its inhabitants need a strong cleanse. You, as lightworkers, must work regularly for your city. Use the Shiva light, as you have been directed in the past. Become open conduits for it. Pass it on to your city mindlessly, without direction. Allow the Shiva consciousness to work as it must.

If, on a certain day, you feel impelled to 'heal' with it, by all means do so; or if you feel impelled to send light to intensify a situation, do so. But in general, you must pass on this light mindlessly, without direction.

Your city requires an energetic 'shake-up': do not hold back, dear friend, but facilitate this. The quicker this happens, the quicker the internal vortexes will fill the city with new, vibrant energies.

We spoke, last week, of the twin, energetic Brother City that has now attached itself to your city. Let us take this discussion further today.

The two energies are in the process of merging. You are not living in one city anymore; you are living in two, simultaneously. The brother city has extremely potent, no-nonsense, vibrant energies: it works for the light and with the light, and it will brook no resistance.

This city is one of great vibration, of great advancement, and great 'purpose of mind'. You will now experience a level of disorientation of brief period (possibly a month or two), while these energies take hold completely. You may find yourself looking around at a physical landscape and simultaneously seeing another. You may be puzzled by 'people walking on an empty street'.

Do not doubt your sanity, or be alarmed: these are your parallel city friends. Remember, their homes also occupy your home spaces, but in a different dimension! Through this process, your homes are also being energized. And through this energization, issues that you and your family members have been resisting, must come up for reviewal and assimilation.

The builder's lobby seems to be very powerful now: the BMC is pretty aware that we have a power shortage and a water shortage. Slum dwellers are allowed to live just anywhere. How is this going to change?

If you think this city is going to shift that for you, it is not; but it is going to shift your vibrations, the builder's lobby vibrations, the municipal vibrations and the vibrations of every person responsible. It will help you empower yourself to speak up and to speak out; to challenge them in court, to organize the appropriate citizens' groups, and so on. You will have to learn to do what you must!

The energies of the brother city will not foster dependence. That is one of the biggest downfalls of your city: everyone gives their power away and depends on someone else to 'fix things' or to do things for them. The new energies will help you empower self, and remove this excessive dependence.

Examine your own lives: you constantly want 'someone else' to raise his voice and change things in your society, your city, your government. Even at home, if your maid is unwell, you suddenly 'crash'. Are you so helpless?

Look at how much you 'depend' on your husband or wife, your children, your car, your electricity, your water supply, your position in society, and your 'image'. Start examining this.

We are not urging you to deprive yourselves of your amenities and luxuries. Not at all! They are to be enjoyed and celebrated. But you must not allow yourselves to be paralyzed without them!

Group Member: What is the most responsible way to use the Shiva Energies?

 Dear friend, we spoke of this in detail last week. In general, all you need to do is to 'open up the floodgates' when you desire, and close them again when intuition tells you to do so. The energies have full consciousness, and know what to do, without your direction.

You cannot control their intensity. So when you choose to use them, connect with the person or the situation to which you wish to direct them, open up the floodgates and let them flow freely, and then close the floodgates. That is all. They are to be used mindlessly.

Let us take a practical example: If you wish to direct them to a sick friend, do so without the intent to either heal the person, or to help them 'exit'. Use them mindlessly.

Sit quietly for a few moments and still yourself. Rid yourself of the desire for a specific outcome. Just use the light because you feel impelled to do so. Then bathe the person in the light for as long as you intuit you should, and then stop. That is all.

If the person wishes to heal, he will use the light to do so. If he wishes to exit, he will do so. And if he wishes to intensify his situation for personal growth purposes, he will do so!
