

4th November 2010
THE RABBI
THE GANESH COLLECTIVE
THE ENERGIES OF THE OBAMA
Channeled by Sohrab

The Light of Diwali The Energy of Sex

Trans-channeling begins..

 Today, we ask you to begin the meeting by chanting 10 silent OMs. In this silence, may the sound of the Oms reverberate through the universe. Proceed now.

[The group did so]

Thank you. We have spoken in the past, of the energies of any festival being used by any being that chooses to link with it, for personal growth reasons. It may interest you to know, that this year, the energies of Diwali are being used worldwide by the Jewish faith.

They are choosing to harness the current Diwali illumination energies to shatter past debris held in all world sites of past Jewish oppression. A global network is being established between areas like your Nariman House, Auschwitz, and other similar areas. We as you, this group, to do the honors, and activate the circuit.

Work through Nariman House and infuse it with the light of Diwali, by chanting 8 OMs aloud.

[The group did so]

The circuit has been established. Now focus on Auschwitz, and chant 8 Oms again. As you do this, consciously and deliberately release all souls still trapped in this area.

[The group did so]

In doing this, you has now set off a chain reaction to all such areas, worldwide.

Now turn your attention to the site of 9/11, the World Trade Center, and simply illuminate this space with your light. Work as a group. There is no need to cleanse this space; simply fill it with light- the light of Diwali.

[The group does so]

Now flood your homes with this light, and all members of the household.

[Pause]

Now flood your neighborhood with this light....your city....your country...the entire world.

[The group does so]

Now we ask all of you to use exactly the same visualization: visualize the planet as a ball, floating above your crown chakras. Flood it with light directly from your crown chakras.

[The group does so]

Thank you, dear friend!

You may wonder why this group was called upon to facilitate the Jewish collective using the Diwali energies. It is obvious that most of you are not of this faith. That actually worked to your advantage, as you were able to work dispassionately, in complete balance, without influencing the work with personal emotional debris.

Yet, it may interest you to know that almost every person in this room has, in the past, incarnated into this faith. And every person in this room, without exception, needed to work on releasing aspects of victimhood at an accelerated rate. So in service to others, you have served self as well.

BLESSINGS FROM THE RABBI...

Yes, I have spoken with you before, and it is my joy and privilege to be with you again!

Sohrab shifts energies to the Ganesh Collective

 The Energies of Sex

Dear friends, welcome! We are going to speak of the energies of the illumination of Diwali from a slightly different perspective today: from the perspective of the energy of sex. Not only from the perspective of physical sex, but from the 'energy of sex'.

What is Sex? It is simply a joyous union of two energies where $1 + 1$ does not equal 2; but can equal any figure of your choice, depending upon the level to which you choose to take the union. When two forces of light merge, they can expand into a fountain of millions of colors!

When we speak of the energy of sex, we refer to the energy of any kind of union. You unite with another when you give that person a loving glance, a helping hand, a sympathetic ear, or offer them a charitable donation.

So what happens when you respond to another out of pure love and compassion (the energy of sex)?

Let us take a practical example: You are in your car, and a beggar appears at the window. Now, you have several options: You can be rude to him. You can refuse him quietly. You can ignore him. You can give him something, out of guilt. You can give him something, out of compassion. And so on.

Now let us assume, for the sake of this example, that you offer him food, or alms, or advice, or simply a smile and a kindly word, out of pure compassion.

You have then activated the 'energy of sex', and in doing so, several things happen:

You are instantly uniting with the energies of that soul.

You are acknowledging the divinity within that soul, and within yours.

You are activating an energy strand from within your hara chakra, which begins to rise, activating your kundalini.

Through this rise in the kundalini, the cells in your entire body begin to vibrate at an accelerated frequency.

This accelerated frequency activates your personal endorphins, and nutrients in the body, leading to instantaneous growth and expansion of self.

The endorphins released urge the brain to reach new levels of consciousness.

As your consciousness rises, you are able to access higher levels of Universal knowledge and Universal frequencies; which create an accelerated energetic loop between you and the Universe, taking you to higher and higher levels of self-awareness and self-expansion....the Who Am I.

All this, from one single act of compassion on the street. Or from listening to a friend's problems, without judgment. Or from giving a loved one a genuine hug.

However, when you perform the same acts, but out of guilt, or dissatisfaction, or the inability to say "No", or out of resentment; you do precisely the opposite to your personal energies: you turn the energies of sex inwards, you suppress the kundalini, you constrict the cellular structure and vibration, you distance yourself from the abundance of the Universe, and you instantly move further into a space of inner poverty and lack.

Do you now see how it is not the act itself, but the intent behind the act, that determines whether you expand or constrict the energies of sex?

And let us assure you that the same holds good for the physical act of sex. Do you unite in joy? Or do you unite out of a sense of obligation, duty or distaste? Many who suffer from frigidity, impotence or the lack of a sexual drive have constricted this flow in their daily lives as well...if they shifted it there, it would, more often than not, alleviate their sexual problems.

So you are offered the use of the 'energies of sex' hundreds of times a day!

Now, certain people in priestly or religious orders, deliberately suppress the physical sexual flow, for personal growth reasons. But not all of them do it for the right reasons, or from an 'inner calling'. If this is so, they come from lack, worthlessness, rigid conditioning and other self-damaging issues, and therefore often cause self grievous harm.

But those few who do it from an 'inner certainty' are able to channel this energy into the perfection of self-growth, and expand their personal energies very rapidly indeed. Let us now have your questions.

Group Member: Mahatma Gandhi did it. Was his choice made in balance?

Approximately 70% of the time, the Gandhi was in complete imbalance due to this choice, and the rest of the time, he expanded with 'self-denial'. So as you can see, he came predominantly from 'denial', not 'expansion'.

It may interest you to know that, in an inner dialogue, he constantly questioned this decision, and wondered whether or not he had made the 'right' choice.

He did not get a clear answer, and deliberately gave himself 'temptations' to test his self-discipline. He had an overwhelming obsession with the concept of self-discipline. He did not understand that true discipline is not abstinence or deprivation, but is simply 'aligning Self with self'.

Now, this has been explained to your group in the past. The Universe is founded on abundance. So how it desire that you be caged, leashed, confined and deprived by a concept like 'discipline'?

When you go on a 'diet', the very word implies deprivation! And you instantly hook up, energetically, with all those around the world who are experiencing deprivation...not only of food, but of love, of money, of overall abundance!

Choose, instead, to put yourself on an 'energy plan', and focus on the 'perfect energetic balance and alignment of your body, mind and soul'. Then self will guide you what to eat, and how much to eat, at any given moment in time. That would be a 'disciplined' act!

Think about this practically: all of you have different body types, different personal issues and different energetic structures. How can one 'diet' possibly work for everyone? And can your dietitian possibly know your body as well as you do?

Group Member: I always want to give alms to beggars, but everyone always tells me not to do so...I don't understand that?

As we said before, dear friend, you need to question where you are coming from, when you offer money to a beggar. Are you coming from balance, or lack? Please check this several times in the future. If you are coming from lack, it is better not to give alms; as you then only perpetuate the lack in both self and the recipient.

Group Member: So the energies of sex, and of Diwali, are both for self-illumination?

Of course, dear one.

Group Member: How do we work with this, then?

The energies of any festival shift slightly, each year. The energies of Diwali are always about illumination. But this year, with the level of evolution of the planet, 'energetic pockets' are opening up within each person, which offer them the opportunity to harness these energies and turn around their constricted areas.

So let us say that one person has constricted energies of financial abundance, and another person has constricted energies in the area of personal relationships: both can use these current energies to make a 180-degree turn-around. These areas may have been unassimilated in the past: they can now, with the current energies and personal endeavor, be fully assimilated, if you so choose.

You need to first identify the area or areas you wish to turn around. Be specific. For example, if you are having trouble with relationships in general, then identify why...is it that you feel unworthy? Do you fear intimacy? And so on.

Then, knowing that you are choosing to harness the energies, add to this personal endeavor...you cannot just sit back and expect the energies to work for you, while you do nothing. Take steps to shift this, in small ways at first.

So let us say that you have defined unworthiness as you issue. Find creative ways to shift this. Go for a beauty treatment. Treat yourself to some new clothes. Share an aspect of yourself with a friend. Look for areas in your life where you do feel worthy. Take stock of all your achievements.

When you add this kind of personal endeavor, the Universal energies will instantly respond, and offer you the boost you require, to take you even further on your personal journey.

Use these wonderful energies, dear friends: they are being offered to every aspect of planet earth, not just to the human kingdom.

They are already in full flow. Your root and hara chakras are already spinning at an accelerated rate...work towards consciously increasing this vibration, so that it extends upward throughout your system.

BLESSINGS FROM THE ENERGIES OF THE GANESH COLLECTIVE.

[Sohrab shifts energies again to the Obama]

 Mission of Peace

I greet you, dear friends! My current mission is indeed one of peace; and I am truly attempting to foster unity and brotherhood among different societies in the world.

There is danger for me: I ask for your energetic support, not for personal reasons at all, but to facilitate my mission. There are pitfalls ahead of me; not only in this country, but in others as well.

I do not fear them, I only ask the Universe to preserve me for as long as it takes to accomplish my missing.

I am unfortunately being misguided by several individuals; since I am not aware of this on a conscious level, there are likely to be some setbacks in my mission. But no matter, I will overcome them.

I offer my gratitude to you and to others like you, who have faith and trust in my energies. I do come in light. I am likely to make a few 'glaring' mistakes in the near future: you need to know that these will come from misguidance, rather than from any personal desire to manipulate others, or from power hunger. But I shall overcome.

THE ENERGIES OF THE OBAMA THANK YOU.
