Music of the Spheres Musical Genres and their energetic significance

[A general discussion about music before the channeling begins]

Trance-channeling begins

 Welcome, dear friends!

Since the topic under discussion today has been the Music of the Spheres, let us briefly touch upon a few musical styles that you have on Planet Earth, and their energetic significance to you.

Go ahead, name some musical styles...

Group: Blues..Jazz?

 Let us take them together. They represent the triumph of the human spirit over adversity.

When you are attracted to this style of music, you are hard at work on self. You have experienced the vicissitudes of life, and yet work towards looking at the bigger picture, and understanding why you have created those circumstances for self-growth. Those who intensely dislike these styles resist moving beyond the trappings of their earthly circumstances.

A note here: if you are indifferent to any particular musical style, it simply means that you do not have much to do, energetically, in that area. But if there is a strong attraction or repulsion to a particular style, then it merits self-examination.

Group: Classical?

 Let us generalize here, about all forms of classical music.

Classical music is indeed highly refined. It facilitates a connection between your existing DNA and new, Universal DNA entering planet Earth.

Earth is constantly being flooded with energetic upgrades, and Classical music serves as a 'liaison officer' between your structure and the new offerings of the Universe, allowing you to re-configure your structure in any magical way you desire.

That is why millions of people could play or listen to the same classical piece, yet each would respond in a slightly different way to the music. It would depend on your energetic combination with the various energetic opportunities offered to you individually. This combination is like a snowflake: no two are alike. And these combinations offer you new streams of sacred geometry; hence it is a genre so highly respected, the world over.

Group Member: What about those who resist classical music?

These are actually a rare few, dear friend. Even though it may not be 'fashionable' for a trendy youngster to admit to his appreciation of this genre, in general it does please him to an extent.

Those few who truly dislike this genre are in danger of soul fragmentation.

Group Member: Acid rock?

Let us examine Acid rock, punk rock and even satanic music now: styles many of you so freely condemn!

They serve a magnificent purpose: they act as cleansing tools, not only for those who listen to them, but for those who are influenced by them, either 'positively' or 'negatively'. They literally gouge out from the physical structure, energies that have been trapped over lifetimes.

If, for example, if a certain individual has had a repeated soul pattern that he wishes to shift or change, then the use of this genre of music is invaluable to him. He would use it as you would use physical acid to clean out clogged machinery.

Having said that, if you are either obsessed with it, or repulsed by it, then you are simply resisting the changes that self desires.

Group Member: Country/Western?

🔴 This genre helps re-connect people with their roots; not just in this lifetime, but in past lives as well.

You connect with your roots, combine them with the present, and propel yourself forward into unified growth. In short, it serves to help you assimilate unassimilated energies, to accept those parts of self that you cannot abide, to embrace all of Who You Are.

Those who resist this genre are unable to accept their overall magnificence.

Group Member: Rock and Roll?

🔴 Rock and Roll, Swing, and their offshoots, all help you touch your inner child!

The physical movement, the twists and turns and hip-swivels all help physically shake up the chakrik system, and allow for the creation of new vortexes there. Energies free up, unearthing the hidden inner child.

Group Member: New Age music? - Trance music?

🔴 Dear friends, we do hope you understand that we are speaking very generally today. Each genre, for example, would have sub-sections within it, which would reflect different aspects of the overall theme. .

New Age music is a reflection of the Music of the Spheres. It helps humanity connect with the vibration of all planets and celestial bodies in the Universe. New age actually vibrates your cellular structure in a manner not usual to the cells on Earth, giving you the opportunity to open the cells and receive new vibrations.

Trance music's very repetition induces an inner hypnotic state, urging you to go inward, rather than outward.

This is sometimes furthered by the use of hallucinogens along with the music. Now, before you condemn the use of drugs, you must understand that in some cases, it is a soul calling.

Group Member: Hip Hop?

 Hip Hop and similar genres serve to open up energy blocks in the body.

As you well know, physical blocks in the body are reflections of emotional blocks. A person may have different emotional reasons for the various blockages in different parts of his body. This musical genre serves as a 'pass key': it helps unlock them, and bring them up for review and assimilation.

Many of those who really 'love' this kind of music have severe emotional blockages, perhaps carried forward over lifetimes, and desire to open them up. If they are in a state of emotional seizure, then this kind of music is the most therapeutic for them.

Group Member: Rap?

 Rap not only opens up blocks, but also helps the person explore his 'inner poet'. When we speak of the 'inner poet', we refer to the poet who writes the upcoming life story.

The reason that this genre appeals to a lot of Black people is because their culture had experienced repeated oppression. They have been suppressed, invalidated and told that they were 'inferior'. Through this music, they are able to 'write a new life story' for their community, one that is currently unfolding.

If you are highly resistant to this genre, as he is (pointing to Sohrab), you are simply resisting your own magnificence, and the story of your life that is unfolding before you...one that you are instrument in creating.

Rap offers you the opportunity to heal damaged parts of self, and to then open up to new possibilities of the self.

Group Member: What about soft, instrumental, lounge music?

 This is generally used by humanity to 'block out' thoughts, feelings and emotions: that you do not want to deal with. You use it as an anesthetic.

But its purpose is to soothe and calm you, and help you get in touch with self, in a gentle and easy manner.

Group Member: Pop?

Though this genre has many sub-divisions, it helps you touch and express the effervescence of the soul.

Through this, you get an ‘energy burp’, helping you release trapped aspects of who you are, and joyously show the world different facets of self, without apology or self-criticism. In short, this genre urges you to reveal more and more of self.

Let us end here with a description of music indigenous to the earth: Tribal Music, Aboriginal Music, African Music and so on.

These, of all the genres, are the most energetically potent on planet earth: they sing songs and create vibrations that express the history of the earth herself.

They express the rhythm, the vibration, the essence of Planet Earth, from the point of her initial separation from the Source, to her current energies.

This music contains codings and strings of sacred geometry, which, if you could interpret, would give you details of all events and beings that have ever been, or will ever be, a part of her. This music is like a super-computer: it stores all her data within it.

So the next time you watch a television program in which you see a tribal playing a ‘primitive’ instrument and you laugh and condemn him for his unsophisticated appearance and his ignorance, think again!

BLESSINGS, JOY, LOVE AND LIGHT FROM
