Energetic changes in the City of Mumbai

Trance channeling begins

Greetings from the Ashtaar Command!

Let us speak today of your city and country. A series of energetic charges are being released into the seas around your city. The highest concentration is being received in the area you call Haji Ali. Several of our crafts are above this area, emitting energetic pulses, radiating all your water bodies, for a specific purpose.

These energetic pulses are offering the city, and its inhabitants, the opportunity to touch higher levels of consciousness. As these energies fill the waters around your city, they will, in turn, irradiate inward, and flow through the city and all her inhabitants.

Each kingdom (the human, animal, plant and mineral) will use these pulses in their own unique way. Some humans will work with them, and others will resist them: we are not here to forcibly raise your consciousness; the choice must be yours.

Animals, in general, will use them openly and joyously for personal and group evolution. You may find some groups choosing to use these energies to exit; and others may use them to thrive and multiply. We are not speaking of a species in totality: a certain herd of cows in one area may mysteriously die out; and another herd in another area may grow healthy. House pets, in all likelihood, will use these energies to increase their awareness and personal consciousness.

The plant kingdom is going to use these energies to allow many of their members to deliberately die out, so that they can give rise to new, vibrant shoots and plants, which contain a completely revitalized energy structure. In a few instances, a seemingly 'dead' tree will suddenly spring to life and start blooming.

Pay particular attention to trees near your homes: this would be a good time to have dead trees or branches pruned, so that they do not collapse on your houses. However, before you do this, connect with the tree and ensure that it does not plan on self-regeneration.

The mineral kingdom is going to use these energies for rapid upgrade of self, and of consciousness. Remember, when we speak of the mineral kingdom, we include the stones, rock and bricks that your homes are made of.

This year, some are going to deliberately 'collapse'. Some of your homes may suddenly develop cracks and leaks: this is indicative of specific old energies that they wish to release.

This kingdom is very 'no-nonsense' in its attitude: if a structure deems itself best suited to destruction, it will collapse without another thought.

Pay particular attention to your homes and offices: many are calling out for repair work quite deliberately. If you have been 'putting this off', now is the time to do it. We are not urging you to spend beyond your budget; but we are urging you to connect with your spaces, listen to their needs, and to attend to them, rather than ignoring them, as is your pattern.

The composition of the air you breathe is going to change rapidly: in fact, this is the first shift that will take place with these new energies. Certain toxins will be removed, but certain toxins will be increased: this is deliberately being created by the human consciousness, to awaken self and to start taking responsibility for sloppy and callous ways.

If, for example, you do not soon upgrade your garbage system, sewage pipes will start to clog up, and the city will begin to smell distastefully, particularly in the so-called elite areas.

Group Member: What was the purpose of the repeated Japanese earthquakes? Was it to take away their nuclear power?

There were several reasons for these. He has already spoken to you of the "Don't Feel" issue of the country, as a whole, which had to be shifted. (Sohrab had spoken of this, at length, before the meeting).

It was also a trigger, urging the entire world to re-examine their use/mis-use of nuclear power. As you well know, nuclear power can be used to illuminate a city, or to destroy it. The world is also being urged to explore other, more eco-friendly sources of energy. These have already been discovered; they are simply being repressed by governments and large corporations. You have to learn to function from the perspective of 'the greater good of all'; rather than from capitalism and greed.

Group Member: From where does Julian Assange of WikiLeaks get his information about this corruption? Is his mission to spread awareness? Is he energetically an ET?

Please explain the scenario to the group first.

Group Member: WikiLeaks is an organization headed by Julian Assange, who is exposing corrupt governments. He is showing the world all the bribes given to top officials to promote the use of nuclear power. (The rest was inaudible)

His energies are predominantly those of ancient wisdom. They are a conglomerate, and are of a very high vibration. Yes, they are infused with what you term 'extra-terrestrial' influences; and are for advancement and enlightenment. These energies are a perfect blend of 'the old and the new', coming together in joyous union.

These energies are meant to trigger off an energetic 'earthquake' in the general field of corruption. To create this, the initial tremor has to be generated by a very strong force. Few humans are capable of holding and channeling this level of intensity.

However, more and more people around the world are going to be attempting to hold and disseminate this kind of energy. Corruption in general needs to be weeded out at every level, in every country. People need to start thinking as 'world citizens' now, rather than as greedy individuals.

Many of you lightworkers are contributing your energies to support these wonderful friends, and to facilitate the events that are going to give rise to scandal after scandal.

Group Member: Does this mean that we will have physical earthquakes as well?

That could follow if these energies do not flow freely enough into human consciousness. If you collectively open to these energies, embrace and facilitate the change, so that corruption is steadily weeded out, and also change your collective mindset, then these repeated earthquakes need not take place. But if even a few in the world resist, tremors must follow suit.

Group Member: Is that what happened in Japan?

Japan is 'hosting' the earthquakes to awaken the world to nuclear responsibility and to urge them to use alternative power sources; BUT it has to dove-tail with personal issues that Japan needs to address as well.

The Japanese collective is examining its root issue of "don't feel". It is examining its inherent past streak of callousness, cruelty, viciousness and its aspect of self-serving.

Now, this may sound like 'judgment' on our part; and it may also sound to you that the modern-day Japanese are being penalized for actions taken by their ancestors. Neither is true.

Of course there are many wonderful, open-minded, caring, altruistic, spiritually-evolved individuals in that country. But when an energy has built up in a certain country, unless the current group collective has evolved enough to shift it, events like this must take place to loosen and release the old debris, to create a 'blank slate' upon which the current generation can write their new future.

This was the shift that took place, world-wide, on 4-4-2011; and as always, the enterprising spirit of the Japanese urged them to be the forerunners of this event!

This year, the energies of 4-4-4 offers humanity the opportunity to take a blank canvas, a fresh paintbrush, and to paint its personal future in any manner it chooses. You are no longer bound by past issues, past patterns, and past karma.

They have not vanished; but you are being offered the opportunity to 're-write your personal script' in any manner you so choose.

So, for example, if you have always lived as a victim, you can now choose to shift into self-power, in an instant. And it will be so.

Group Member: So we can say "bye – bye" to all our inner children?

You can, in a way. What you will be doing is assimilating them at lightening speed. You will be acknowledging to self that all their issues are yours, and you will be working with them without resistance.

Now, does all this mean that you don't have to examine your past? You certainly may, if you choose to, but you are no longer 'bound' by it.

The irony is that, over 75% of humanity will simply re-write the same issues all over again, and re-script their lives in the old way. Why? Familiarity. The comfort zone.

So if you keep re-writing the same past abuse, for example, it will continue. But it is now not the old abuse issue; it is a new one that you are simply re-scripting into your lives.

So you will now have to choose whether you want to keep singing the same life-song, or whether you want to change the tune and lyrics.

Group Member: Can you tell us about the oil situation? Is it incorrect to use oil, or should we be looking for substitutes?

Mother Earth offers you her bounty joyously, but you have overstepped the limits. You generously donate blood to others from time to time, but imagine what would happen if someone forcibly extracted all the blood from your body!

Group Member: Is it possible for human beings not to draw out everything?

Realization is slowly dawning on larger and larger numbers of people. You have the divine right to harness all natural resources in moderation, and with responsibility. But when you over-farm the planet, you create an imbalance in her, which impacts you directly.

She is currently feeling drained, depleted and, frankly, quite annoyed.

Of course you should, with your current levels of intelligence, progress and awareness, explore other avenues, such as solar, wind and wave power. And crystalline power as well!

You already have the tools at hand. Coupled with the know-how. You could electrify the planet ten times over with this. But the greed of governments and large corporations do not permit this, as they do not want their excessive profits to vanish. To awaken and demand this as your absolute right, you have to first feel the pinch!

Group Member: Are there going to be any natural disasters in South East Asia? In Hongkong or Singapore?

Yes, in time. But we will not discuss this today.

The reason why I'm asking is this: a month before the Japanese earthquake happened, I had a vivid dream about it. Then, last night, I had a vivid dream about water and wind cleansing South East Asia. I just wanted to know if this was a premonition; or whether it was the mind and my personal fears coming up.

You picked up the energies we spoke of today, infusing the oceans around your city. But you also picked up a 'strong possibility' of what may occur in South East Asia. Not a certainty, but a strong possibility.

Cleansing is likely to take place world-wide, dear friends. Be prepared for it, and, as lightworkers, facilitate it, if called upon by self to do so.

Group Member: May I share something? You just spoke of the degree to which we have depleted the planet. I have recently done a series of three paintings reflecting Her. The second one shows the depletion of the environment, and nobody seems to 'connect' with that painting. They all seem to be connecting with the 'future Gaia', but not the present one. Is this because we don't want to face what we have created?

It is very difficult for an individual to take collective responsibility: each one naturally says, "I didn't deplete earth's oil reserves! I don't litter! I am not responsible for the corruption in India!"

You are only partially correct. You have to take responsibility for your share of corruption, greed and littering. Many times you do not listen to self, when you are being urged by self to do something for the greater good...not necessarily a country-wide mission, but a smaller one, that may affect a limited group of people.

All you lightworkers are now going to be called upon to work, work, work: personally, hands-on. We urge you not to shirk this responsibility. Each will be called upon to work in the manner most suited to him or her: don't resist the call.

Group Member: I have been shown pyramids...

These were only symbols of higher level energies that are in existence right now, and are flooding planet earth. The pyramid, in this case, was a symbol of occult energy: energy which is not fully understood and yet energy which can be fully harnessed at this moment in time.

These energies are actually reflected in your governments and corporations. Many are quite aware that they have the technology to offer transport and power at a micro-fragment of the rates currently being charged. There is a tussle between greed and the desire to serve humanity.

Those who wish to make this information public fear for their jobs and their lives. Others are surreptitiously leaking information through the net. Consciousness is rising, and you are likely to hear of some of these methods in the near future.

Group Member: Tell us about the repercussion of the massive solar flares that are taking place, as well as the diffusion of those on Earth.

Many of these solar flares are partially provoked by us: the energies that are currently being introduced around your city are a fraction of the energies of these very same solar flares.

Energetically, these solar flares comprise of universal consciousness, being combined for the first time in new and intricate patterns. You could call this the creating of experimental Universal DNA. This new DNA will have a simultaneous effect on all parts of the Universe, as physical proximity to them has no bearing on the matter at all.

Through these flares, Planet Earth has once again taken a huge energetic leap. Let us tell you outright that she is now, in relation to the Human Kingdom, beginning to practice what parents call "Tough Love".

Group Member: Could you please explain this?

A parent will often tolerate the infractions of a wayward child for years; but there may come a time when the same parent stands back, does not defend the child, and allows the youngster to be jailed, so that he learns to take the consequence of his actions.

Mother Earth is beginning to practice 'tough love' with Her children: she has no desire to wreak vengeance on them; but she does want them to learn the consequence of their actions in a more drastic way now. She wants them to awaken to their responsibilities to their environment. To their resources. To their land. To their home.

If this process needs a few 'raps on the knuckles', then she will administer these in the fullness of love.

BLESSINGS FROM THE ASHTAAR COMMAND.

(Sohrab, to the group)

What I am now getting is this: when we pass Haji Ali, we should attempt to connect with these rays, which may even be visible to us, behind the mosque in the middle of the bay.

These rays may appear hazy, or colorful, or even as specks of light. Let's look out for them!
