THE GANESH COLLECTIVE
THE EFFECT OF THE 2012 GANESH ENERGIES ON: RELATIONSHIPS
MENTAL FACULTIES
CHILDREN
EDUCATION, KNOWLEDGE AND WISDOM
PLANET EARTH

(Prior to the meeting, S spoke of a film recently made in the US, which had caused great controversy due to its inflammatory content. S expressed his concern for possible future worldwide repercussions, and suggested that the group work to energetically 'contain' the situation.)

Trance Channeling begins

 Greetings from the Ganesh Collective.

Yes, it is truly a collective. This year, the Ganesh energies have combined with 101 energies, to work for the upliftment and evolution of Planet Earth and all her inhabitants.

We urge all of you who specifically celebrate the festival to 'open wide' to the other energies as well; else you are only denying yourselves the magnificence of the collective.

First and foremost, you are to completely disregard what he (S) just requested of you. No energetic containment is to be given to the situation at hand: it is to be allowed to unfold, completely and totally. Use your energies to facilitate the situation, so that it opens out as smoothly and effectively as possible. Bigotry and extremism must be allowed to now surface. Those who contain this must be allowed to release these aspects from within self; to make way for new, fresher, more expansive energies. So 'let the games begin'.

Let us now speak of the unified Ganesh energies and how they will interact with Planet Earth this year, in differing areas.

Relationships:

Here, the Ganesh energies have united with the Shiva, Kali and several other ancient energies, to 'stir up' relationships. You have already observed, in your own lives and in the lives of those around you, a great degree of volatility in relationships. You have already begun to experience misunderstandings and 'explosions' in this area. Many of you now feel that you 'don't know' the other person anymore.

Many long-term relationships have now become energetically stale and stagnant. These need to be deliberately shaken up and re-evaluated, before the end of 2012, to facilitate a freshness to emerge from within. Some of these relationships need to be released; others refreshed and reinvented.

The primary relationship to be examined is, quite naturally, your relationship with self. This is the first area that will begin to 'explode in your face'. If you constantly debase yourself, put yourself down, or punish self, for example, these aspects will now be magnified. They must come to your attention, so that you affect an internal shift. Simultaneously, those areas in which you touch your power will also be magnified, to help you acknowledge your own magnificence.

The secondary level of relationships include those between self and family, loved ones, friends, home, work, hobbies and passions, and so on. In each area, be it your relationship with self, or with another, you cannot keep viewing it from an outdated perspective. You now have to learn to acknowledge who you are, and who they are, in the moment of the now.

Once again, if they 'explode in your face', it is an instant clue that this area needs to be reassessed by you. And this must be done instantly, without a time-lag. At the same time, if you are already in balance in an area, it will joyously magnify, offering you a higher degree of expansiveness and harmony.

How can we best use the energies of the Ganesh Collective to work on relationships?

 Welcome them into self. Speak your truth. Speak up and speak out. And do so with compassion. Compassion for self and for the other.

When you truly exercise compassion, you experience detachment; and this detachment brings about a deeper level of love, for self and for the other. When you exercise true compassion, you shed the desire to control or manipulate another. You learn to love them fully and completely, for who they are.

Dear friends, the energetic period of the Ganesh extends far beyond your official 11 days of festivities. It is a period of re-creation of self with your own power. The Masters and guides are most certainly with you, but it is your own power that acts as the 'trigger switch': if you do not use that, the energies are of no use to you.

Now let us look at other areas.

Mental faculties:

You may recall that we had said that, a few months ago, the human race was collectively working on its throat chakra. It is now working collectively on the brain, pituitary and pineal glands, third eye and crown chakra. Other areas are also being worked upon by individuals, in their own unique sequence; but these particular ones are a common factor. In short, all of you are upgrading your inner sight, sound, and other senses.

To help facilitate this, the Ganesh energies have combined with those of the Ashtaar, the Arcturians, High Lord Mitreha, Babaji, Satya Sai Baba, Buddha and the Einstein collective.

Since these areas are being upgraded, pay particular attention to your dreams, your daydreams, your thoughts and your mental images. Do not block them or dismiss them: acknowledge them and observe them.

If, for example, you are experiencing a lot of violence in these areas, do not play a spiritual game and tell yourself that it is inappropriate. Instead welcome these thoughts and dreams, and allow the energy to flow. It is only when you understand why they are happening, and what exactly you need to release, that they will stop.

During this period, your thought processes may go awry. Know this about self, and don't take yourself or your 'reading' of a situation too seriously. Understand that the pituitary and pineal glands are upgrading at a very rapid rate, and are moving into a vibratory level never before held on earth.

Is this only happening to the human race?

 No, it is happening to all of Earth's kingdoms, but today we confine our discussion to the human race.

Children:

Another area of upgrade being currently provoked by the Ganesh collective is that of the child. Not just physical children, but also of the inner child.

When referring to the 'inner child', here we speak of all those aspects within self: you at age 1, 2, 3 and so on. All these aspects reside within self; some are healthy and vital, and others neglected and abused.

The Ganesh energies, in conjunction with the Saraswati, the Laxmi, the Mirabai and the Mother Mary, are working towards the evolution and the nurture of the external and the inner children.

It is a time to touch, to nurture, to acknowledge, to appreciate and to listen to the inner child and most definitely the physical child; and to celebrate them all.

Let yourselves re-experience your youth: be children again, enjoy life, and touch those moments in your childhood where a simple, tiny event could bring you tremendous joy. Where a small gesture of kindness or a smile on a person's face brought you happiness. Where everything around you was new and wondrous.

Yes, be the child again. If you do so, you will experience an inner sense of refreshment and rejuvenation. You will feel nurtured, loved, embraced, acknowledged, appreciated and understood.

Will this eventually lead to the unification of the peoples of Earth, without religious divisions and sects?

 Dear friend, that is indeed the aim of the collective consciousness. An example is being set by the very mergers we have just been describing. It is hoped that eventually religious factions and differences will all merge into one. It is hoped that all humans will eventually see themselves as being unified 'children of the Universe'.

A child has no knowledge of religion, only joy. Happiness is pre-religion.

 You are correct. Our words are never random: we just spoke of 'children of the Universe'. If you can truly touch the child within self, and experience the wonders, marvels and infinity of the Universe, your focus would instantly shift outward. Your petty jealousy, bigotry and distrust of another human would vanish. You would instantly see beyond colour, creed or country; and experience the 'unity in diversity' of the Universe.

The current turbulent events, as discussed at the inception of this meeting, are deliberately being provoked, to help the expanded pituitary, pineal and brain move into a space of questioning and expansion.

Now here is the choice you have: you can direct the energetic spirals of the brain upwards and outwards, which would lead you into a more expansive understanding of self and of the Universe; or you can use them downward into further bigotry, hatred and close-mindedness.

In certain cases, it is actually appropriate to take them downward. An energetic crash is sometimes needed to lead an individual or a group to 'start afresh'; and to rise, Phoenix-like, from the ashes.

Now let us look at the effects of the Ganesh Collective on

Knowledge, Wisdom and Education:

This period is going to initiate a shockwave in the current Educational system worldwide. Here, the Ganesh energies team up with innumerable others, to deliberately instigate and provoke all educational institutions, and educators as well. They will be urged to use their energetic spirals in a manner best suited to self: to either expand directly, or to initiate an internal crash. This will not happen overnight, but the process has already begun.

When we speak of 'educational institutions and educators', we are not just referring to schools, colleges and teachers. We also include those who teach and lead others in business, those who educate through books and the media, and also of all parents, who are guides to their children.

If you notice your children suddenly 'acting up' during the next few months, or rejecting what you say and do; please be aware that you are being urged to reassess and shift your methods of communication with them, and also your current parenting skills. Make an instant adjustment, and the energies will flow smoothly again.

What about our relationship with Mother Earth, and our rampant disregard of her natural resources?

 Yes, indeed, dear friend!

Planet Earth:

The united Ganesh Collective is most definitely going to urge you to reassess your relationship with your planet.

It is only on those days where your power fails that you appreciate electricity in your homes. It is only when you experience a food shortage do that you appreciate the bounty that you have received in the past.

You will now find it a necessity to begin water harvesting, to find alternative sources of fuel and power, and to fertilize your crops with natural, organic non-pollutants. You will now have to take responsibility for the pollution you have created in the oceans and on land.

It is your divine right to enjoy Planet Earth's bounty, but not to plunder and pollute her natural resources. A new balance has to be struck; and you have to find it.

Don't you, as Masters, sometimes feel like whacking the human race?

 Frequently!

Why don't you do it?

 Because we always exercise compassion! Because we understand that through your errors come understanding, and evolution. We can, but we will never will, violate your free will.

You may now proceed with the blessing of the various individuals that you named at the beginning of the meeting. Do not offer them healing; simply bathe them in the Ganesh energies.

(The group works for several people, including K's friend T, in the US)
