THE ARCHANGEL MICHAEL
Channelled by Sohrab

Giving Light to your own Body

Trance Channelling begins..

Sohrab (in a trance): Welcome, dear friends. What glorious souls! What fragmented energies! Do you see the paradox? Explain it.

GI: The whole universe is a paradox. The energies did blend at one moment & got fragmented at certain times.

The Archangel: Why did this occur? You are now at a level of energies where you are occasionally made to change the rhythm of your prayers so that your own bodies & your own energy signatures align with what is about to take place. The guardian issues an instruction, which must be carefully noted. This child (Silla) made a mistake & took the energies into an area that was not required. Understand & listen.

Each time a different prayer is chanted, an energy signature is created, which then links with the energy that has been created in this room, prior to the session, which then facilitates your levels to join with it, becoming one. When you are fragmented, as most of you were, there is no synergy & you refuse to join your signatures to the overall structure. This causes complete & total fragmentation, not only of your own energies but of the mediums.

Now, understand that this particular situation has also been created for the medium. He must learn to battle this & overcome all disharmonies in a particular room. And for today's session, each & everyone here has been disharmonious. You (Silla) have given him a lesson he requires. Thank you.

The more you attempt to get into alignment, the more you will fragment. Do not do it to aid this child. Allow him to overcome your fragmentation.

Sohrab changes energies to the Jade Fire

Jade Fire: Spirit speaks. Must I only appear through the other child before you (Shemi) recognize me?

Sherni: It's nice having you here.

Jade Fire: We are with you.

Sherni: Thank you.

Jade Fire: Lofty spirits each one of you, working so hard for the universe. Today, it is time to do work for yourselves. This session will be dedicated to you: not work for others, not work for your planet, but to work for self. Be selfish. Come into complete & total alignment. Go within the physical body you inhabit.

Let us first work upon the brain. Move into this beautiful organ. See it, first, in its physical, pulsating, vibrating form. Bless the organ. Take a moment & appreciate how much this brain does for you; how it facilitates every moment, in this existence. Now take a moment & visualize it in energy terms. Give your own brain an energy form. Yes, many of you will visualize it as golden light or strings of sacred geometry. Others are seeing it as bursts of light. Yet others are seeing it as vibrating mass of cosmic energies. Allow it to show itself to you, as you require to see it. Yes, for the one of you who sees it in animal form, permit that too. Link the energies of this brain to cosmic energies. Visualize your brain as being part of a unified cosmic brain. Energies & intelligence are moving back & forth between you & the entire universe. Allow them to stream into this organ.

Choose one aspect of the universe you wish to link with, in your brain. You may choose a physical planet or object or you may simply choose an abstract piece of knowledge. Connect to this. Command the universe to give you access to this knowledge or aspect of itself. Feel your brain expand. Feel the physical organ vibrate with energies. Feel it getting hot. Feel the energies expand.

Now you will command a beam of blue cosmic light to enter the physical organ. Let it wash out the brain. As it physically washes your physical brain, new pathways, new sensations, new vibrations are being created. Allow them to occur. You will now visualize a mountain-like terrain of red soil & rock. The sky above it is also reds, yellows & golds. You are on a distant planetary body in the universe. It is a planet of regeneration of knowledge. You will permit your brains to connect with this planetary body. Once again, the physical organs will be stirred up. Permit it.

As this work continues, you will flow shift focus to the heart. Allow the heart to expand with cosmic light & to link to an area of deep space, where the energies will appear to you as silver, blue, green, with tinges of pink. Do not equate these colours with what you know normally match your chakric points; they have no bearing on them. Bathe the physical heart in these silver, blue, pink energies. Wash the heart out. Yes, there is pain rising up in many hearts. Feel it. Feel the constriction within your physical bodies. Permit those old hearts to be shattered. Allow the new energies in. Shatter your hearts. Fill them with the new Light of Creation.

As this work continues, you will now move your attention to another area. You will visualize the area you call the hara, but you will not see it as the hara chakra. You will visualize this area as extending from hip to hip, in a moon-shaped crescent. This is a new & yet undeveloped organ that is now being introduced into the human race. Visualize this new organ: crescent shaped, pale pink-white in colour, extending from hip to hip across the hara area. This will be the new seat of intuition, of wisdom & of connection. This new organ, now being introduced, will help the human race empathize with one another & feel & work & believe & be a collective.

As you energize this new organ, your individuality will also increase. Yes, it seems paradoxical but you will become one of a joyous collective & in doing so, you will be a unique individual. Pour into this new organ all energies that belong to you; fill it with your own past, present & future. Allow it to be a storehouse of you. You will now visualize yourself in deep space, in an area of pure creation. All energies around you are creative energies & you are placing, within this creative field, your new personal organ. Allow it to fill with all creations energies & within it resides the unique you.

You will now allow this to continue & you will move your attention to the area you call your knees. You will see, within both knees, a starburst: a burst of light. There are no knees; there is only light. This new light will carry these physical vehicles into the 7th dimension & beyond. Do not confuse yourselves with thoughts of 3 & 5th• This serves another purpose. You are leaping into the 7th & beyond with this new light It will reside within the knee areas. You will permit 2 beams of light to enter the physical knees & expand the light within it. Permit this to continue & you will now turn your attention to the 2 big toes. Within these 2 big toes, you will accept that you have complete power. The 2 big toes now become the storehouse of your personal power. Feel them vibrate & fill with power.

Allow this power to now move up, activating the knees, the new organ within the hara, the heart & the brain. The 3rd eye no longer exists. You will now work with energies within your complete physical body & you will work from there. The higher level eye, call it what you will, will now be effective from the entire skin surface. Your entire physical being, if you wish, will be the new eye & with this new expanded eye, you will be in constant contact with the Mother Earth, with the atmosphere around Mother Earth & with the universe. Contain these energies; many are allowing them to dissipate. Containing all these energies, you may now return to complete consciousness.

What has been done today? Speak!

Khur: This electric blue current was something I was made to work with, not understanding it. The spin of velocity, in the spiral, is so intense that, at moments, you feel it is still. Till I came here, the light entered into my crown & the brow area but wouldn't go down. What you did was: it's like a bore; it went through me & it stayed in this area, which was cosmic fiery current, with a wash of very cool gentle current. I recognized that. Then, in this area, I don't know the alignment but which happened & it brought the female part of me, into balance. It was just female energy, which was in perfect total alignment. Going down to the knees, I could feel the explosion of the starburst. A very strange feeling was at the toes, which contained the storehouse, the power of this energy. It's still boring in me. It went down, I picked it up again, came up through the whole process & back into the cosmos. It was with ease. Where I was stuck, it was opened.

Jade Fire:: Pay close attention to the new organ that you have all been given. This is not a random placement. You have been given it because you can hold it. This will not be given to all. It carries great responsibility. This new organ will, when fully activated, give you instant & complex connections with all aspects of the universe. You will be in touch, not only with your own Higher Selves, but with all past, present & future selves & with all beings within this universe. You will have free & easy access to knowledge, information & other aspects of IS-ness. This could flood you, if you permit it. As you grow with this organ, you will learn to direct the energies so that only the appropriate amounts of energies are released to you & for you. This cannot be taught; it must be learnt personally, only through experience & failure.

Do not use fear. Fear will constrict the workings of this organ & will confuse you further. You may now question. We have only a few moments before we must retract from this body.

Dar: (..) are we now (..) to go in every single reality?

Jade Fire: It will, when full active. Should you work at a rhythmic pace, this full organ should be ready, within your physical bodies, within 3 to 5 Earth years.

Dar: Does the reality come as symbols?

Jade Fire: It will come in the way most appropriate to you. But yes, the purest essence of the information will be received through symbols.

Dar: How do we recognize these symbols?

Jade Fire: You must learn the language. DO NOT ASK FOOLISH QUESTIONS!

Nish: Is there anything we could do to help activate the organ?

Jade Fire: Yes. Be aware of it. Welcome it. Tend to it. It does not require your physical attention; it requires your spiritual attention.

Group Member: Is this the same energy that the advanced civilization used symbology & metaphors? Is this the new energy we are to use?

Jade Fire: It is a far higher level of that energy; that is only an aspect of this. We must leave.

Sohrab changes energies

Archangel Michael (calling Farz): Take in my energies; don't block yourself. You are heard. You are heard. You must work fast. You must learn to carry my energies & work with me. Very shortly, you will be channeling my energies fully. You do so already, unconsciously. Now you must do this responsibly & with complete joy. You will speak to this one, at a later time, & she will help you. You will also work with that one (Khur), who will give you energies that you will require?

Farz: Yes, of course.

The Archangel: You will go for one session of musical healing to this one (Ann). Will you do this? Only musical healing? You must make a trip to her city (Poona); it must be done in her domain. Work rapidly. We wish to work through you, extremely soon & shortly, you will be sitting like this child (Sobrab) and holding our energies. Remember our words.

BLESSINGS FROM ARCHANGEL MICHAEL!

Babajaan channeled next, blessing Meheru and all the Group Members.

(To Nisha) I come for you. (Working on Nisha 's hanc) In that, you hold the light for others to follow. Use this as the guide, the beacon, in dark times. Others will come to you in confusion. I am nameless; you may call me the Lady with the Light. Be me on your planet. Lead others with this light. You hold my light.
