THE FESTIVAL OF HOLI ENERGIES: 2013

A NEW PROTOTYPE EARTH

Raise your vibrations here and now. Generate from within self, a greater degree of vibrancy and energy. Become a shining beacon of light. (Pause)

Go further: you can do it. Will it; and it is so. (Pause)

And so it is, and so it is, and so it is.

Greetings. A collective addresses you today. Let us speak of the current energies of the festival of Holi. As you well know, each and every year this energetic period refers to touching the 'colors within your life'; the illumination that already exists within self, which you may have buried or suppressed.

This year, the energies work slightly differently. It is still about touching the colour, the vibrancy, and the illumination within self; but in a new and unique manner. As you are well aware, with the onset of 12/12 and 21/12, Earth has established a new crystalline grid. Information has already been disseminated on this.

Now, this grid is in a state of constant upgrade. It has used the Holi-generated energetic vortex to create a new, unspoiled, pure, vibrant prototype Earth.

This earth now resides in a different dimension to yours. It has no 'inhabitants', but is filled with verdant grasslands, vibrant mountains, pure water bodies, and fertile soil.

How has this been created?

It has been drawn by the desire of the human consciousness. You have reached critical mass in this particular area.

So, as you sit here in this room, in this city; there exists a prototype earth of pristine magnificence along with you, but simply in a different dimension.

The human race now has to work towards attracting these energies into its current reality.

If you fervently desire a cleaner, purer, more vibrant city, start to work with these energies. Your endeavor is of vital importance. The change will not come overnight, but it can be slowly drawn into your current reality.

Let us, for example, assume that a rural portion of your country is suffering from drought. If the farmers added consciousness to their higher-conscious work, and merged this area with that of the prototype earth, slowly new fertility would arise. Untapped water sources would be discovered from under the earth's surface, and rainfall would be attracted to the region.

This would have to be done, however, in openness and trust. Emotions of anger, despair, greed, and the like would hinder the process.

You will now begin to observe this happening worldwide. New oil sources will be discovered. A dry creek will begin to flow again. Crops will begin to grow in areas that were previously fallow. Mineral deposits will be unearthed, bringing new abundance to poverty-stricken areas. Jobs will now open up in regions where there had previously been a recession.

These shifts will now begin to happen throughout this year and into the next. As lightworkers, please aid this process. Keep connecting with the prototype earth, either in the dream state or in a conscious day-dream, and merge the two earths.

Start by only working for your immediate surroundings: your own apartment building, your neighborhood and your city. Then gradually extend your energy field outwards, to affect your country. Start NOW.

Can we use this at the Earth Healing meetings?

PLEASE DO! In fact, make your next session entirely about this. Rather than holding a structured meeting, use your intuition and work with these energies in the moment.

Do not expect the prototype earth to exactly reflect what exists in your reality. For example, in the prototype parallel of this neighborhood (Bandra) there exists only verdant fields, grasslands and woods. There are no houses whatsoever. You would therefore have to draw the abundance and natural energies from the prototype into your current reality.

When working, please heed your intuition. If you attempt to work for another city, and you find an inner resistance arising, abandon the work. It simply means that it is 'not for you' at that moment of the now. Others, who are better aligned with the area, will do so instead.

Many in this room are energy workers who use different forms of healing, such as Reiki and Pranik Healing. If it pleases you, invoke these skills and then work with the prototype.

At first, we suggest you work only for spaces and locations. But as you familiarize yourselves with the technique, you may then use it to uplift and enhance people as well.

By doing this, wouldn't we be violating their own growth patterns?

Yes, you do not have the right to demand that they evolve in a manner you deem suitable. But you do have the right to urge them to connect, at a higher level, with the prototype earth, so that they can feel urged to draw upon that which is appropriate for the self.

As we stated earlier, the prototype earth has no parallel human forms in it. But humanity can most certainly draw upon its abundance, plentitude and purity. If a person, for example, chooses to draw upon a pristine flowing water source; he is naturally urging himself to open up and flow emotionally in this reality.

I find myself conflicted about what had just been said. I would love to draw to this reality a 'golden age'; but at the same time, when I look around me, I feel depressed and frightened by what practically surrounds me. How do I shift from 3D thinking into higher realms? I just don't seem to have the necessary belief.

On earth, when you have an ailment, you visit a medical practitioner, who prescribes a course of treatment. You begin to follow this, knowing that the cure is going to take some time. Yet you have faith in this.

Now, we ask you to move beyond faith, into certainty. When I do this, it is done! Do not specify a timeline. Just be certain that your work has been effective. You are the liaison: you draw the appropriate energies from the prototype earth and anchor them in this reality. And your work is done. It is as simple as that.

Heed your intuition. Sometimes you will know that the work is done in one session. At other times, you may feel urged to re-anchor the energies a few times. Simply follow your instincts. Even in the first session, the anchoring has taken place. But it may need a few follow-up sessions to strengthen it. Do so, and move on.

How do we know, for sure, that the energies have been anchored?

How do you know, for sure, that you will be able to get up after this meeting and go home? You just know it. You are certain, and so the brain directs the limbs to act according, and you do just that.

Be certain. It is as simple as that. Dear friends, as you rise above earth, the air gets purer and more rarified. So is it with complexity. The more complex a concept gets, the simpler it becomes. A divine paradox.

A few years ago I did a series of paintings on exactly what has just been talked about. I first created Earth, the way she used to be: lush, green and beautiful. This provoked me to paint the next one: the Spirit of Gaia weeping because we have destroyed the environment. The third was my dream for her (the prototype, as it has just been explained): I painted her pregnant, as she was about to re-birth. In this she is beautiful again, and all her elements are rejuvenated. The fourth is the Spirit of Gaia blessing the physical earth.

Need we say more?

Now let us examine how the prototype energies will affect you individually.

You now have the divine right to reach into this parallel, prototype aspect of planet earth and draw from it any aspect you desire. The best way to do it is to have no expectations. Simply close your eyes, trust the self, and see where you are led.

You may find yourself examining a flower, a tree or a grassy field. A mountain or a waterfall. You may be led to flowing water, or a pool of tranquil water. So be it: open wide to these energies. You will feel an inner rush, a sense of peace and balance, or even a new inner vibrancy. Do not analyze this, just open to it fully.

The ideal time to do this would be as you are falling asleep at night, as you will put up the least conscious resistance at that time. But of course you can do this anywhere and anytime you so choose.

After you have opened fully and enjoyed the energies, you may then smoothly intuit why you have connected with this particular aspect. Is your emotional body stagnant, for example? Is that why you are seeing a gushing waterfall? Be easy and simply with this procedure: do not imbue it with unnecessary complexity.

I know that I have already begun to do this, but sharing this information with others is so difficult! They often think we are cuckoo!

Share this, and any other information, with discernment; but always share in the fullness of self. Others may not even need to accept information at a conscious level; but it always percolates inwards and is absorbed at a cellular level.

This information will help and awaken many this year. It will be a rough year for those who stubbornly remain blocked and refuse to examine the self. Many will experience intense diseases or emotional upheavals: this is their own structure urging them towards self-examination.

Why so 'vigorously'?

Planet Earth, along with her current energies, now does not brook resistance! Flow with them, or sink.

This sounds heartless!

Not at all! You still continue to believe in a 'punishing' Universe. When will you learn to take responsibility and understand that you have demanded and therefore created this?

'Vengeance' and 'punishment' are concepts unique to the human race. The Universe simply responds to your demands: if you demand punishment, you will create it. If, however, you demand growth through awareness, you will create that instead.

It is the human race that perpetuates the notion that growth can only come through pain and suffering. Why should this be so? Because you will it so.

You view the Collective Consciousness as one unified mass, but it is not so. It is comprised of layers and layers of different levels of consciousness. The base layers are human emotions like trauma, greed, anger, frustration, and so on. The rarefied layers consist of oneness, expansion, unconditional love, and so on. And there are many other layers in between.

As lightworkers, you are required to raise the rarefied layers, so that you draw the entire collective upward.

So we don't try and remove the darkest of the dark? Only work with the lighter areas?

Exactly. You simply intensify the light.

This information is being joyously disseminated to you today, during the energetic period of Holi. All are receiving this world-wide, in different, yet appropriate ways. It may interest you to know that even those who are relatively rigid and staunch in their beliefs and practices are beginning to understand this concept. The upliftment of mass consciousness is now imperative.

How is this happening?

You are well aware that there are millions of evolved societies around the Universe. As their collective consciousness rises, they urge the collective consciousness of Earth to follow suit. This is not a violation of your energetic evolution; it is simply a stimulus. Remember, it is the desire of every single part of the Universe to grow, expand and evolve.

Dear friends, DO NOT DESPAIR! Now, even the most rigid, blocked, and stubborn on earth beings are urged forward. There HAS to be a change. Be CERTAIN of this. As lightworkers, do not doubt: this would adversely affect the growth and evolution of the collective consciousness. You are leaders: lead in certainty. The Golden Age has now begun. The dawn is finally breaking.

At these meetings, we always send light to individuals and situations around the world. Why don't we also send light to the collective consciousness?

Please do so! But rather than externalizing it, BE THE CHANGE. When you start the meetings, or even start your day, why not intensify your own personal light to a blinding degree? And each day, push to go further than you did the previous day.

Can you see our light today? Could you help us better understand it?

Of course we can! We can see and experience individual and collective light, texture, shades, frequencies and emotions. We see 'who you think you are' and simultaneously 'who you really are'! It is our fervent desire that you could see yourselves the way we see you.

Right now, for example, each of you has begun to emit combinations of colors and frequencies that you weren't at the inception of this meeting. Your energy circuits have intensified, and you have begun to 'hum' and a much higher level.

This 'hum' has set off an energy circuit that passes between each and every one of you, which continues to grow and intensify. At regular intervals, each individually begins to 'explode', emitting beautiful light and music.

She (S points to a group member) is pulsating with energies of gold, white, pink and lavender, yet she has no conscious knowledge of this. Her energies (pointing to another group member) are very intense: black, blue and red.

It may interest you to know that almost everyone sitting here in this room is, at a higher-soul level, a scientific and mathematical genius. The two who are not have service at their core; they excel in energetic service.

Taking a look into your concurrent lives and structures, we also see that most here are, in some reality, a world leader. Yes, a world leader; yet how many of you even acknowledge your leadership qualities in small ways? Do you even feel confident of being able to lead and guide a small group?

Each one of you has high-level discussions on a moment-to-moment basis with various guides, masters and Universal friends. All of you also act as energetic liaison officers: you work ceaselessly and tirelessly to draw on appropriate Universal energies, filter them through your bodies, and distribute them to humanity.

This is not a task done by all human beings, not even all lightworkers. Yet all in this room do so; newcomers and old-timers alike.

These are but some attributes that we see and acknowledge in you. But do you?

So you advise us to expand our light on a daily basis?

You can do so on a moment-to-moment basis if you so choose. And not just 'do it', but be certain of it! What you are really doing is simply bringing your consciousness to your already-expanded light!

DEAR FRIENDS, YOU ARE BLESSED BY THE PROTOTYPE ENERGIES OF EARTH; AND BY THE UNIFIED COSMIC BOARD.

THE SAI BLESSES YOU.

The Universal Sai is currently working with the collective human consciousness. He asks you for your help. He asks you and all lightworkers to keep infusing the higher levels of the collective human consciousness with your vibrations. Together, he says, we can joyfully uplift Mankind and Planet Earth.

THE CHRIST OFFICE BLESSES YOU.

The Christ Office is currently involved in instilling into the human race the desire to further explore self, and, if necessary, to explode the heart chakra.

As lightworkers, this year you may have to work with people who have heart-related issues and other physical diseases. Urge them to touch love:

self-love and the love of others and the Planet herself.

THE ARCHANGEL MICHAEL BLESSES YOU.
