THE FREQUENCIES OF A UNIVERSAL COLLECTIVE.

THE EFFECT OF 2013 ON YOUR BIRTH DATE, MONTH AND TIME.
HUMAN HYBRIDIZATION

Greetings!

As you have chosen to celebrate his (S's) birthday today, you are therefore also celebrating your own birthdays! Let us give you a little information about your own birth month energies, in relation to the year 2013.

For those of you who were born in January:

This year, should you choose to touch your power, you will find yourselves very successful in business, finance and commerce.

Yes, we are aware that many of you think you are lacking in this area; but the energies of 2013 will conspire to help you shift this around completely. Now, when we speak of business, finance and commerce, we are not only referring to commercial endeavours, but to other areas as well. A housewife could, for example, make extremely effective shifts in the way she deals with the home, personal budgeting and internal family politics. Each and every one of you can learn to run your personal lives more smoothly and effectively. Abundance in every area is your birthright. Align with the energies of this year and make it happen!

For those of you who were born in February:

You have the ability, this year, to truly touch, vibrate and expand your own emotional bodies, and the emotional bodies of those around you.

This would be the ideal year in which to self-search, touch emotion, and to truly acknowledge to the self what you are feeling. Explore all that you have run away from in the past. Address unresolved emotional issues between self and others. For those who have a root issue of 'don't feel', this is an ideal year in which to turn this around.

Reach out to others in trouble. Your love and your words of wisdom and kindness will greatly benefit them. Help them through difficult times.

Water is a very powerful medium for you. Use it to your advantage. Go for a swim. Bathe in awareness. Draw upon water energy when you are in or around it. Meditate upon any world water body that pleases you. Energetically charge your drinking water. Bless it with your energies. Water plants and watch them bloom. Make sure that you are drinking enough during the day. Nurture yourselves and others this year.

For those of you who were born in March:

This year you will find it easy to work with logic, reason and rational thought.

Many who are generally fiery, passionate and impulsive will find great benefit in exploring these aspects of the balanced self. They naturally cannot ignore their emotional sides, but balance and reason will be their best friends this year.

For those of you who were born in April or May:

The energies of 2013 will urge you to touch your artistic and creative sides.

We urge you to infuse creativity into whatever you do, be it an 'officially' creative aspect of life, or not. The current energies will facilitate this, and will inspire you to push your creative boundaries. Think out of the box. Find novel, unusual solutions to problems. Surprise yourselves, and all those around you. Dare to be different.

For those of you who were born in June:

You will find your mental bodies opening up and accessing higher information at all times.

Why not add to this at a conscious level? Go ahead and take up that course that you have been putting off for years. Study something new and fascinating. Do some exciting research. Explore a new hobby. The moment you align your energies with this flow, you will find yourself soaring high. You will be able to receive and disseminate information, knowledge and wisdom at an intensive rate.

For those of you who were born in July, August or September:

The energies of 2013 offer you the opportunity to truly turn your lives around.

This year can be one of complete and total re-invention and transformation of the self. Push your boundaries, do things you have never done before, take risks, venture out into completely uncharted territory, explore an avenue that has never interested you in the past, constantly challenge yourself and don't take no for an answer! Create it, and it will happen.

For those of you who were born in October, November or December:

You will find yourselves introspecting deeply this year, examining who you are and who you could be.

Many of you have already begun to do so. We urge you to not just examine this existence, but also your other parallel, simultaneous existences. Get a better picture of the 'big you'. Get to know yourselves better. Assimilate the myriad aspects that are all part of the You. Learn to appreciate your magnificence.

You are also flowing very strongly with occult energies. Put aside your customary self-doubts and exercise those psychic faculties. Use your sparkling intuition and learn to pick up on the sub-text of what is going on within and around you. Limited perceptions will not help you this year. Expand yourselves.

Now that we have covered all the months of the year, let us add to this. Now take your actual birth date (excluding the month and year). If it is a double digit, add the two together to get one consolidated number.

If your birth date totals to an even number:

This year you have the opportunity to be an inspiration to self and to all others around you. You have the opportunity, and the responsibility, to live like a shining star. Show the world what you are capable of, and who you really are. Do not hide your talents and abilities, exercise them joyously.

If you attempt to dim your radiance you will find life extremely uncomfortable. Lead the world fearlessly into 2014.

If your birth date totals to an odd number:

This year, you have a responsibility to help self and others overcome obstacles in life, to achieve inner peace, radiance and expansion. Teach self and others to push boundaries and to expand joyously.

This does not mean that your lives are necessarily going to be traumatic. Sometimes an obstacle may be 'too much of a good thing'. A person who has a perennial abundance issue may suddenly win a lottery. To him, this may be traumatic, as he does not know how to deal with so much wealth! Sudden fame and public adoration could be a similar event created by him for personal growth.

Now, if you were born between sunrise and sunset (let us take this as approximately 6 am to 6pm):

This year, you must learn to harness and work with the energies of the Great Central Sun. Trillions of its energies are flowing through you now: open to your newfound inner radiance and brilliance. Learn to be vibrant, bright, shining individuals.

For those who were born between sunset and sunrise (approximately 6 pm to 6 am):

This year you are working very strongly with dark matter, the very fabric of the Universe. It flows through you, and is now a part of your earthly existence. It is ever-changing. It contains matter, anti-matter and other forms of matter never before discussed. Explore it from within.

Dear friends, though we have shared all this detailed information with you, please understand that you are NOT bound by your birth month, day or time. Those particular energies will flow the strongest through you, but you contain ALL the energies outlined above. Simply shift focus within the self, and access those parts that interest you. A person born at night, for example, can choose to work with the energies of the Great Central Sun as well. It is his divine right to do so.

Never limit yourselves. Now do you have questions?

What if one was born a few minutes past 6 am or 6 pm?

The demarcations given were approximate. Those at the cusp will be influenced by both energies. But if in doubt, use your intuition and divine your own answer.

Does one take the birth date 10 as an even or an odd number? When the two digits are added together it becomes an odd number; but taken as 10, it is even.

In general, you would add the two digits together. But a number like this is an anomaly: it contains the energies of both even and odd numbers. Once again, when in doubt, use your own intuition. As we said earlier, you are not bound by the energies of an even or an odd number: you contain both.

In some Scandinavian countries, during summer, the sun shines all night long. How does this work for them?

The approximation of 6 pm to 6 am still holds good for them, as the night period does not refer to actual sunlight or moonlight, but the energetic phase of the planet and her inhabitants.

What about someone born on February 28?

They would be equally subject to the energies of February and March.

I now wish I had been born in a January! I could do with some re-structuring in business and finance this year!

We repeat: you are not limited by your birth month! The fact that you are 'alive' during this year means that each of these energies is flowing through you; you have the divine right to tap into them and activate them within the self. Use your birth month energies (emotion or logic, for example) to access all other energies. You are not, and never will be, bound by definition.

(Laughing) We hear a mental question in this room, which we will now answer:

What of 'walk-ins' during 2013?

In this case, the energies will be doubled. That person will be influenced by the energies of the host's birth month, day, and time; as well as by the month, day and time that the walk-in procedure took place.

Now let us proceed with the meeting.

This year (in your 'dream state', as discussed at a previous meeting) the human race is undergoing a new, unique and exciting form of hybridization. You are all accustomed to the famous Sci-fi film line "We are not alone!" Well, this year you are truly not alone.

You have all chosen to welcome unusual guests into your homes (Sohrab points to his body). Starting in 2013, your own higher soul has invited these guests to inhabit you. Unlike traditional walk-ins, these entities are very polite guests: they do not, in any way, intrude upon your space, or imprint their personalities upon you. (All laugh)

All of this has naturally been carefully planned by your higher soul: the energies of the guests have to be appropriate for the self, and your energies have to be suitable for their earth work.

Some of these beings will visit for a micro-second; others may be long-staying guests. At times, you will host a single energetic entity; at others, you will have several guests all at once. Hoteliers, each and every one of you! (All laugh)

We share this information with you so that you can choose, if you so wish, to make contact with them. You can sit quietly and ask your current visitors to reveal themselves to you. Ask them who they are, and why they have come.

Some of these friends are from your Universe itself; others are from a different time-line, dimension or reality. Some have form; others do not. Some may seem familiar; others will not. If you are hosting several at a time, and you attempt this connection, it is likely that the predominant energy will identify itself.

Please remember that these friends are non-invasive: they have been specifically invited by your higher soul. Do not ever fear them; welcome them instead.

Let us give you an example. (Pointing to a group member) You are currently hosting an unfamiliar being of very high vibration. This entity comes from across time and space, and is here (along with several other of its species) to offer Earth a new energy that she requires this particular month.

You are hosting it, as your own energies are suitably multi-phasic. The visitor will continue to do what it must for Earth without interfering with your life; but the 'rent' you receive for hosting this visitor is in the form of a personal energetic upgrade that you deem necessary for your evolution. As we speak, your heart, duodenum and etheric womb are being energized.

Friends, please understand that your capacity to act as a host has very little to do with your current earthly energies or emotional state. You could be extremely fragmented and upset over a certain earthly situation; yet your extended energies could be perfectly suitable to host a being of high vibration. In all likelihood, the fallout of energies that you receive while acting as a host would help you view the situation from an expanded perspective, and deal with it in a more effective manner.

Could we even possibly choose to host 'negative' energies?

These energies are of such a high level that they would not acknowledge or accept any label like 'negative' or 'positive'. But from your earthly, limited perspective, some of these energies could be what you term 'negative'.

Many of you, for example, are currently hosting powerful beings that are here to facilitate appropriate earth shifts and movements, and to orchestrate them in such a way that they release the appropriate trapped, accumulated debris; giving rise to new, vibrant energies. Now, you may view a sudden earthquake as 'negative'; but of course it is not. It is perfect for the evolution of Planet Earth and the inhabitants of that particular region.

Five people in this very room are currently hosting such entities. These five people will find, over the next two weeks, that their very presence shakes up everyone around them: their family members, friends, business associates, domestic staff, and so on. They will remain in balance and centred; but everyone around them will be thrown into discord. This may seem 'negative', but it is essential for the growth and evolution of all those with whom they interact. They will, in fact, be helping these people release stubbornly trapped and suppressed issues.

Now, the entities you all host will have one aspect in common: they are here to facilitate the expansion of the human consciousness. This is the call of 2013. More and more private and public scams will be exposed. Hidden issues and imbalances will be brought to light. All debris has to now surface, for acknowledgment and assimilation.

Take heart, dear friends. Human consciousness has now truly begun to awaken. We are aware that you find this hard to acknowledge, as all you see around you is the escalation of 'all things bad and corrupt'. Change, for it to become apparent, sometimes takes years. But the seeds have been planted, and are slowly beginning to germinate. Each and every person is beginning to see a glimmer of light. Each is awakening at his own pace.

You cannot really urge others forward, or insist that they work at your pace. But you can make the enlightened path so attractive that they feel impelled to quicken their pace and follow suit. Instead of trying to 'push people through doorways', simply stand on the other side in the full illumination of self. This will draw them to you. Teach by example, rather than by cracking the spiritual whip.

Are these visiting entities simply aspects of ourselves from other timelines?

Some are, but not all.

What of 'negative' people on earth? Are they also hosting these kinds of entities?

Those who are stuck, trapped and unable to easily move forward on Earth are hosting twice as many such friends as you are. At a higher soul level they understand the need to urge the earthly self forward, to give it the necessary boost. You will find, this year, that many people whom you deem blocked and stuck will suddenly 'open up' and surge forward.

Are some of our guests Arcturians and Pleiadians?

Yes, some are indeed from these star systems. A general rule for playing host is this: you will invite into self beings that are a few notches higher than you in vibration. Their vibrations will be so attractive to you, that you will be urged to raise your own. Then once again, you will invite guests of an even higher frequency. And the process will continue.

A few earthly Masters will do the opposite, and will deliberately host beings of a denser vibration than the self, to offer the necessary upliftment to those around them.

Is the physical body at all affected by the process of acting as a host?

Your guest will not interfere with your personal processes: if you have contracted a disease, for example, from which to grow and learn, this will not miraculously disappear. But you always receive a 'payback.' The guest's energies will give you the benefit of speed and clarity; and will always help you increase your own vibrations.

Do we sometimes feel disoriented because of this process?

Yes. Many who are energetically sensitive may experience brief bouts of dizziness or disorientation: this generally occurs when one guest is leaving and another is arriving. The sudden change of frequency is responsible for this. Dear friends, your 'hotel' will never be empty this year.

If we are source ourselves, why should this affect us at all? Don't we contain all energies at once? Aren't all frequencies compatible?

Look at your own body: everything in your body is 'you', isn't it? Yet there are parts that are warmer or cooler than others, parts that grow and evolve quicker than others. This may seem like a mis-match, but it is not: it is perfection.

If one part of the body that vibrates at a very high frequency was allowed to speed up your heart rate, then blood would be pumped around the body at a faster rate. The brain would then start processing information at an unusually accelerated rate, perhaps too fast for the rest of the bodily or emotional structure. You would suddenly be flooded with images, knowledge and information that may lead you astray, or 'go to your head'. You would then start behaving in an arrogant, thoughtless, selfish manner. The headiness of power would corrupt you. This is exactly what happened to the people of Atlantis, after prolonged exposure to high-level crystalline energies.

The perfection of power and vibration is that it has to be contained within a structure at different frequencies. You are, indeed, learning to increase your vibrations and speed up your processes; but this has to be done in a manner appropriate to the body you inhabit, and your personal level of evolution.

Will animals, plants and minerals also act as hosts this year?

Indeed they will. Humans have the capacity to act as hosts to various entities who are here for a variety of reasons: some will work with the human race exclusively; others will work for the planet, and so on.

Animals will primarily host those entities who are working for the evolution and upliftment of their own particular species and environment. A tiger, for example, may host an entity who will work with the entire cat family; as well as perhaps a zoo, a game reserve or a forest that hosts that particular species.

Plants will host only those entities that are on earth to help them re-create their own species. The plant kingdom is currently celebrating itself, and its own magnificent evolution.

The Mineral kingdom, having such a high degree of sentience, is hosting those entities that are here to perform both Earthly and Universal tasks. The entire mineral kingdom, Universe-wide, has formed a new interconnected grid, whereby they communicate with one another at all times, and joyously exchange energies and information. They have also linked up with both physical and energetic members of their own species from alternate realities and parallel universes. Planet Earth is but a speck in their grand scheme of growth, awareness, sentience and creativity.

BLESSINGS, JOY, LOVE and LIGHT. YOU ARE EMBRACED BY THE FREQUENCIES OF A UNIVERSAL COLLECTIVE.
