A NEW NEURAL IMPLANT

(Prior to the meeting, the group discussed the concept of need vs greed, as well as the meaning of 'letting go'.)

We enjoyed your spirited discussion. What pleases us is not what you discussed, but how you discussed it. Each of you, whether you spoke out, or whether you internalized the information, did so in a perfect three-way balance of masculine, feminine and neural energies. Yes, we used the word 'neural', and not 'neuter'. Let us explain this.

When a discussion such as this takes place, you are first flooded with inner creativity, which is purely feminine. This wells up within you, and you instantly link up to aspects of your own life experiences, and your inner awareness. This is then followed by a sharing of this creativity, either verbally or energetically, which is the masculine aspect of the self.

So yes, you were working in a perfect balance of feminine creativity, followed immediately by masculine initiation. The third aspect, which you may not be aware of, we shall term the 'neural gender'.

This is an actual energetic gender with which you are now beginning to work, as human beings, on Planet Earth. This is used by many Universal societies: in fact, many only use this, and do not have masculine or feminine energies at all.

You, as evolving beings of earth, have now integrated this gender, and are working towards bringing it into a perfect holy trinity with the two other familiar ones.

The neural gender is not a sexual one, and has no bearing on your physical sex. It is a point of consciousness integrated into your incarnated self. You are all aware that you flow free and receive guidance and direction from your extended selves; but so far you have been 'reaching out' to attempt to grasp these energies and achieve a flow.

The Neural Gender is an aspect of energy that you have now physically implanted into your earthly structure. This process began at the onset of 2013, and each of you is working at your own pace. This neural point has been implanted in the body by all humans at the beginning of the year, but its speed and level of activation is an individual choice.

This neural aspect is a physical point of light that you have integrated into the body. In most cases, it has been implanted somewhere between the pituitary, pineal and brain. In other cases, it may have been implanted elsewhere; so do not assume it must be in the vicinity of the third eye.

This is an actual point of light. If you could see it with the naked eye, it would look like a single cell, shining bright. It is, at this moment, semi-physical. It does have a physical core center, but its predominance is light.

Let us assume, for convenience sake, that it is housed in the brain of an individual. Were a surgeon to perform brain surgery on him, he would not see its illumination, as the moment this point of light is exposed to the atmosphere, it ceases to shine brightly. But it does not lose its potency.

However, certain medical instruments that you already use are beginning to detect it. There are a handful of doctors and surgeons who are puzzled by an inexplicable internal light source being emitted from this area, which they are unable to isolate, but can yet detect.

This is your new neural gender, or neural point. It contains a hotline to the Universe. It is like housing a gigantic computer brain within your structure. But unlike a physical computer, into which you have to key in a question to receive an answer; this neural point accesses Universal information that it intuitively is perfect for your growth and evolution, at any given moment in time.

Because of this, you are now all going to experience moments of repeated inspiration. You may be in a discussion and you will suddenly feel urged to speak up and speak out; or else urged to look within and examine an internal aspect of vital importance to you, at that moment in time.

You may suddenly receive a download of knowledge, wisdom or awareness in an area in which you previously considered the self uninformed or lacking. You may suddenly receive a strong intuitive glimpse into a person or a situation.

We are sharing this information with you today, as your neural point wants you to interact with it at a conscious level as well. It desires your conscious activation. Even if you ignore this call, it will still work with you and for you; but by adding your consciousness to its activation, you can grow exponentially.

Using it will get easier over time. Let us say that you are faced with a complex business or legal problem, and you are feeling confused, overwhelmed and uninformed. Simply activate this point in your structure (which really means aligning the conscious mind with the internal download that is already taking place) and proceed with your upcoming meeting. Go...and flow.

Questions?

Is there any specific way of activating it?

No there is not. However, it would be best to first identify where, in your own body, you have implanted this point. Use your intuition to discover this. We repeat: most will have implanted it in the third eye zone. But if your gut tells you it is in your heart, or your knee, simply trust the self.

It is likely to remain in the area where you have implanted it for an extended period of time; but in certain cases, it may be shifted around at will. For example, if the area in which you have initially implanted it suffers an accident or injury, the resulting pain may interfere with its working. You may then temporarily shift it to another portion of your anatomy.

Once you have identified where it is, just connect with it. It is that simple.

Can we open a dialogue with it?

Please do so.

Will it appear in a certain colour?

In general, it will appear to be a point of pure golden, or pure white light; but its frequency may change from time to time, depending on what it is downloading for you. Simply trust what you get.

How did it come into us?

You drew it into the self. You first prepared the soil: you fertilized the area with energies over several years; after which you activated the area with new knowledge, wisdom and awareness. Then, when you deemed the self ready for the actual implant, you opened to Universal energies and implanted, into the fertilized soil, a point of Universal light.

Each person's CPU is different. One may be a combination of Universal energies from one area of deep space; another's may be a collection of consciousnesses from various Universal societies. That individuated choice has been carefully made by your own higher soul.

You must now know that this point of light is extremely potent, and is a third aspect to factor into your balance of the masculine and feminine.

This point never goes out of balance. It never needs to be re-charged, energized or aligned. All you need to do is repeatedly align your consciousness with its perfection, its magnificence.

Can we choose to move it from one portion of the body to another?

Yes you can.

To perhaps heal the body?

You do not need to move it into a diseased portion of the body to heal it; you can simply access its energies to self-heal instead. It is a magnificent storehouse of Universal knowledge and wisdom.

However, you may choose to move it around deliberately, to enhance a portion of the physical body. Don't expect it to move on a regular basis: in all likelihood, you will keep it lodged on one area for several years, if not forever.

What about the other kingdoms?

Yes, all inhabitants of Planet Earth have chosen to activate this within the self. But the kind of neural implant differs from kingdom to kingdom.

The Human race has chosen it to predominantly access Universal wisdom and knowledge.

The Plant kingdom has chosen it to predominantly enhance self-growth and a speedy evolution of its species.

The Animal Kingdom has chosen it to predominantly facilitate inter-species communication.

The Mineral Kingdom is using it as an amplifier, to facilitate communication with all minerals, and other similar energetic forms, around the Universe.

They are the most highly evolved of all the earthly kingdoms.

Yes indeed. On earth, they are the supreme beings. It may interest you to know that this kingdom has now moved beyond the concept of earthly time. This is the only kingdom on earth that has done so fully.

Minerals are so far beyond earthly time that they can time travel, and shift dimensions, effortlessly. Often, when you think you are holding a crystal in your palm, or have one in your home, it is not there at all. It may have travelled the Universe and returned, but from your perspective, it has always been there.

Will the neural implant take away or balance out the frailty of human emotion, and give us joy?

It can do this, and anything else you want it to do, but it will depend on your readiness for that, and how you choose use it. It cannot be permitted to 'take you over'. Just as, with an earthly computer, you can access virtually anything you want to; or leave it unused and switched off. It is dependent on your power, desire and choice.

Can a person use this for good and evil, with equal facility?

This neural aspect goes beyond vibration, frequency, or any earthly concepts of 'good and evil'. It is a storehouse of Universal power, which constantly re-creates and upgrades itself. Even if you choose 'not to access it', you will receive a spill-over of its energies, which will change you. And yes, you can use it in any way you choose.

You could even go into the void, and return, at will. This is an internal black hole/white hole. One that absorbs Universal information, combines it with your energies, and sends the re-created knowledge and wisdom back into circulation, spreading growth and awareness.

This is, to date, the most powerful physical tool you have chosen to incorporate into your body. This goes beyond the magnificent perfection of your brain, your heart and every other organ that works to sustain you for a lifetime.

Start to now explore it. As lightworkers, you must first teach yourselves, and then others, how to work with the third aspect of the self. This does not negate the masculine and feminine; it enhances it. Your neural aspect will help bring the other two into balance and alignment.

Is it a strain of Tachyon energy?

It is a source of Tachyon energy, implanted into the physical body. You may have noticed that we keep stressing the fact that you have implanted this into the physical form. This is of vital importance. It is easy to draw energies into the energetic structure; but once something is implanted into the physical form, it alters your structure, your way of thinking, your way of acting, and your way of being. It irrevocably alters You.

This is the greatest upgrade that humanity has gifted self so far. It is a source of ever-recreative Tachyon energy.

Does this come close to “God’s Particle”?

This IS “God’s Particle”. The human body, consciousness and psyche are now ready for this. You can give yourselves an energetic ‘pat on the back’: despite all the corruption and greed you see around you, humanity has also achieved the necessary level of self-realization for this to take place.

Can this be used to heal the physical body?

Yes indeed. It can be directed to heal self and others; but be aware that you are still in human form, and your physical ailments always reflect an emotional imbalance. So if you choose to heal the body, these energies must then bring to your notice the issue behind the ailment, for embrace and assimilation. That cannot be circumvented. The neural implant is not a quick-fix, nor one which suppresses the cause behind the symptoms, offering you a temporary ‘band-aid’.

Can this neural point of light mutate?

No, it will not; because it does not need to do so. The power contained in that one point is beyond your comprehension.

How do we sense it?

Using your intuition, tune into it and experience an inner vibration or buzz. This will not be physical, but sensorial. The more you practice, the more you will sense it.

Dear friends, do not worry about mis-reading the location of the neural implant. Even if you are in error; by choosing to connect with it, you have done so in that instant. Trust in the self.

YOU ARE BLESSED BY THE ENERGIES OF THE MAHA AVATAR BABAJI.

(Sohrab shifts energies)

Dear Friends:

Connect with your neural implant right now.

Ask your own self to guide you to its exact location.

Experience an inner hum, vibration or throb. Energetically, not physically.

Choose to see it as a point of magnificent light.

Welcome it into your structure.

Celebrate yourself. You have had the courage, power and the energetic evolution to be able to welcome this into your physical structure.

Use it right now to bathe your physical structure with light, new consciousness, awareness and sentience.

Command the light to flood the physical structure, head to toe.

Make a commitment that you will now begin to regularly converse with it. Ask it to show you the wonders of the Universe, and of the self.

Make it your friend and Universal guide, and your personal point of magnificence.

Understand that through this process, no matter where it is located in your body, you are re-creating your third eye. Not upgrading; re-creating.

Enjoy this connection in silence for a few moments.

And so it is, and so it is, and so it is.

Gently come back to full consciousness.

Dear friends, today was an introduction to this new aspect of the self. We will share more as time goes on, but we would rather that you discover it for yourself. We will guide you from time to time, but do not forget this moment in your lives. It is a moment of tremendous importance in your personal evolutionary process. You have earned it.

THE JOY LOVE AND LIGHT OF THE HIGH LORD MITREYA.

BLESSINGS AND SALUTATIONS FROM THE ENERGIES OF THE GURU NANAK.
