

14th November 2013

Sohrab's channeling

INDIVIDUATED COSMIC OVERLORDS

RELEASING THE HOLD OF THE PAST

THE FURTHER ENERGIES OF DIWALI 2013

WELCOMING A NEW BEING OF LIGHT ONTO PLANET EARTH

Greetings!

All lightworkers worldwide are currently using very, very intense Universal energies to create what we will term Individuated Cosmic Overlords. You are leading the way for the rest of humanity...as you begin to create and work with them, others on planet earth will feel impelled, at a higher conscious level, to follow suit.

These Cosmic Overlords are not the Masters as you know them, nor are they your personal guides; these are your creations, assembled by you for personal growth and evolution. They will be guides of an energetic level you have never before experienced in human form.

How are we actually creating them?

At a higher-soul level, you are taking a few strands of one Master, and a few of another, and a few of a third, and perhaps combining these with some rarified cosmic energies, and merging them to create a magnificent Cosmic Overlord. Therefore, one person's creation could be a combination of The Shiva, The Mohammed, The Buddha and the energies of a distant Star System. Another's would be completely different.

This is why you, and only you, will also have to create a name for your particular Overlord, just as you would name your own child.

By combining these billions of strands in a manner perfect for the self, you are creating an energy source of unimaginable magnitude. It is then yours to tap into, for anything you desire. We urge you to spend at least one week putting aside any connection with other Masters, guides, and regular prayers; and only connecting with your Cosmic Overlord.

You will not be able to connect with your Overlord at a superficial level, as this is an extremely rarified, potent, powerful energy. You will not be able to 'chat' with him, and ask for day-to-day answers and guidance.

You are reaching out, extending your energetic tentacles through every single part of your concurrent and simultaneous existences and realities, combining forces, and creating this Overlord. You will place him close to the Source. It is the equivalent of creating your own Monad.

At that level of vibration, there are no emotions, feelings or direct connection with third-dimensional existence. It comprises of a potency of rarified, expansive power; never before accessed while in a physical body.

We now urge you to connect with this Overlord consciously. Do not attempt to question it or even use the mind. Just experience it on a daily basis. You may see and experience visuals, movement, energies, colours and sound. So be it. This may lead you to, in turn, experience courage, strength, expansion, awareness, and so on.

Can we use these energies to serve others?

This Cosmic Overlord is your creation, and is exclusively for your personal use. He serves no one but you. However, when you experience these energies, and grow and empower the self, you will naturally be in a more expansive position to serve others.

Draw upon these energies to heal the self, to expand your awareness and knowledge, and to empower the self in any and every way. You will also be able to touch aspects of the self, in this reality and in others which you did not know existed.

Work with these creations. They will never be static beings, but constantly evolving ones, as you will continue to add energies to them and refine them, moment to moment. And remember, you are leading the way for the rest of the human race.

So these Overlords will always consist of combinations of Master energies?

Yes, they will be combinations of billions of energetic strands that you weave together in perfection for the self. They will not only consist of Master Energies with which you are familiar, but also of energies from different existences, which you are not conscious of in this existence. They will also include unexplored energies from different parts of the Universe, which you desire to add to your structure.

This Overlord is naturally not male or female; it is pure energy. We simply refer to it as 'him' for linguistic convenience. It is the energy of pure creation.

Can two people share a Cosmic Overlord?

No, not even twins. It is uniquely your creation, and serves only you, as it is configured in perfection with your energies, and yours alone.

While you have been describing the creation of an Overlord, I keep seeing a huge angel. Can you please explain this to me?

This is your way of connection with the energies of your Overlord. Use this image as a portal, and go further into self-exploration. The image is simply a gateway.

You earlier said "Connect with the Overlord". So what exactly do we do? Just connect, and not ask for advice or guidance at all?

At first, disengage the questioning mind. Just connect and experience all that he has to offer you at that moment of the now. You may find, as you repeatedly do this, that on one day you are flooded with power. And on another day, with gentleness. And on a third day, knowledge and wisdom. Joyously embrace all that you receive. Make it a part of your life.

The reason we say 'don't chat' is because that will take you to your own expanded self at a less rarified level. We want you to bypass that, and go directly to a much higher level of personal potency. Later, when you have acclimatized to this energy, you will be able to reach into it at any level, ask questions and receive answers.

This is an energy very close to the source. You are learning to experience it, and connect it with your third-dimensional existence.

So is the Overlord different from our Higher Self?

Yes, it is different from your higher self, your personal guides and from all the Masters with whom you are familiar. It is an alchemic creation of yours; one which includes all the above, and goes beyond them. It is a new Cosmic 'baby'; a combination of potent, vast and magnificent energies never before accessed by you in human form.

So through this creation, will we also be able to more easily access our other simultaneous existences and realities?

Yes, indeed. You will have noted that, over the last several months, many meetings have addressed the simultaneous selves. We spoke of energy markers last week. Each one gives you a better understanding of how to embrace the various selves, rather than only focus on your current existence.

So in the future, when we talk to our various Masters, will the conversation be overseen by the Cosmic Overlord?

Yes. Dear friends, we are not asking you to permanently discontinue your conversations with your higher souls and your Masters. We are simply urging you to put them aside temporarily, and experience the Cosmic Overlord's energies exclusively.

There is a reason for this. You are being helped to acclimatize to an energy frequency so rarified that you require no external distractions. Should you continue to connect in your regular manner with yourself and the Masters, you would, in all probability, tune out the new frequency. This is therefore a temporary period of exclusive connection, after which you will add this to your normal functioning.

Let us explain this with an earthly example. When you suddenly climb up a very high mountain, you often get high-altitude sickness, as you are unaccustomed to coping with the rarified atmosphere. Your lungs, brain and body need a short period of rest and acclimatization, before you can continue to function there normally. You cannot instantly acclimatize and go on a rough trek. You will simply be unable to function.

So I can choose the Master energy combination I want?

You don't need to do so, as this has already been done by you at a higher-conscious level. However, you are welcome to add to the creation consciously, if you so desire. It would also be interesting for you to find out, when in connection with your Overlord, what energies you have already selected. But nothing really needs to be done, as 'the baby has already been delivered'. And do not forget that you are constantly adding to its complexity.

Why are we doing this?

Though you have access to every possible level of personal consciousness, you rarely allow the self to experience this. You are doing this to teach yourselves, in your earthly form, how omnipotent and omniscient you are. You are teaching yourselves that you are God.

So he is the God of the Higher Self?

He is your personal God. Created by for you, by you. He is YOU. You, at your recognizable mightiest.

Where would the I AM presence factor into this?

The Overlord encompasses the I AM presence. It is beyond it.

Why not Overlady? (Laughter)

Please do call your creation just that, if you so desire!

However, dear friends, go beyond any concept of masculine and feminine: if you perceive such a separation, then you have not accessed the rarified energy.

Blessings from the MONADS.

(Sohrab shifts energies)

Congratulations!

Energetically, the human race has now reached a point of evolution wherein the past no longer has any bearing on who you currently are, and who you will be in the future.

Your childhood trauma, for example, will no longer govern who you are, if you align with the current energies and choose to believe it is so.

However, if you continue to hold onto old concepts of karmic payback, learning lessons, and punishment; then you will keep vibrating at those frequencies, and they will be true for you. It will be true, because you are creating just that in the current moment. Knowing this, now choose to release the past, and create self anew from this moment onwards.

Do not misunderstand us. We are not urging you to disregard your childhood experiences or block out any pain. We are not urging you to pretend that it never happened. Not at all.

We are urging you to hold a dual energy. Accept all that happened and how it has affected you until now; and simultaneously know that you are not bound by it anymore. Be certain of this. And it will be so.

Do not fool yourselves with mantras and affirmations in this case. It only requires a second of complete certainty. Just know that you are not bound by the past, and choose to re-create the self anew from this moment onwards.

Play with this concept, and initially choose one relatively minor aspect of the past with which you feel urged to experiment. Do not make it the most traumatic one: accustom yourselves to this concept, and then work with larger and larger ones.

Does this include past life issues and ancestral karma?

Yes it does. But an individual may not be ready to release all of that instantly. But know that you can.

Does this explain why, of late, I have been waking up with a lot of negative memories and feelings?

Yes it does. Many are currently experiencing very rough and traumatic memories and experiences. This offers them an opportunity to assimilate them speedily, and to create self afresh.

Let us give you an example. A person may be experiencing a rough time with her husband and her marriage. She may have been contemplating a possible separation, but she may have held back, using the excuse of possible past karma to finish with him.

We tell you that she is no longer bound by past karma. Even if she had created him in her life for growth and evolution, she can choose to either defer the lessons, or learn them in a completely different manner. The choice is hers to make. And any choice made from certainty and the fullness of self is the perfect choice. Not the right choice, but the perfect choice. There is a difference.

What is the difference?

‘Right’ implies a ‘wrong’. ‘Right’ smacks of superiority and arrogance. ‘Perfect’ embraces all possibilities and probabilities, with a certainty that what is taking place is perfect for the self, and for the moment. It takes full responsibility. It acknowledges that you create only perfection, and that everything is perfection.

Begin to know, dear friends, that you are now not bound, chained, leashed to childhood events, people, situations, those who have passed over, past lives, or to anything at all. These are all parts of a beautiful, flowing energetic tapestry; but where you take the energy is now truly in your hands.

Can any mantra or prayer help us achieve this?

You may choose to use one to support your processes, but you must do the work for you. No external prayer will be a substitute for your own power.

You are in the embrace of the ARCHANGEL MICHAEL. Blessings from the BEHRAM YEZAD.

(Sohrab shifts energies)

Though we have spoken twice over of the energies of Diwali, we must speak of it again. There has subsequently been an upgrade to the earlier energies, which we must now share with you.

At the demand of the human race, the energy period of Diwali will continue right into 2014. These energies are now flowing out of you like a fountain. When you walk into a room or a party or on the street, you are flowing with these energies, embracing planet earth below you, and all others in your ambit.

This fountain of energy can extend upto a hundred feet around you. Now walk consciously in your own light. Be aware of your self-generated glow. Your light quotient has now increased beyond belief.

Is this our aura?

Though this is now part of your aura, it is an actual generation and emanation of new, personal light. Use this light to illuminate the self and others. If someone, for example, asks for help or guidance, tap into this light and share of the self joyously. Trust in the self to answer or guide in perfection.

If someone asks you for a hug, or for healing energies, share of yourselves without question. Be the fountain of light that you are.

Blessings, joy, love and light from THE ILLUMINATED ONE. (chuckling) Also known as the MEHER BABA.

(Sohrab shifts energies)

A child is to be born during this energetic period. One who will have great influence over Planet Earth in the future. One who will guide and lead others into the light.

Without questioning any further, connect with him or her. Connect with this beautiful, vibrant soul, and celebrate its impending arrival.

Please offer the child your personal blessings. (Pause)

Thank you. In about 14 to 15 years, if you remember this day, you will recollect that you offered blessings to this great soul.

You are embraced by the Higher Energies of this soul.

*****

