THE PONDICHERRY MOTHER

(The group begins to chant OM. Midway through, S begins channeling)

We have no time to waste! This is completely irrelevant to us, and to your energies, from now onwards. Greetings!

You are here today, each and every one who has chosen to be in attendance, for one specific reason. Only after we introduce you to this concept will we continue with last week's session.

Today we want to introduce you to the Star Body. This is an aspect of your higher soul which deals with all incarnations you have ever experienced in non-human form. In many ways, it has very little to do with the human form; yet it is now being introduced to you while you are in human form for a particular purpose.

This is the higher soul of every incarnation you have experienced as a Universal being, a Plaidian, an Arcturian, a Sirian, an Ashtaar member, and so on. Let us assure you that every single person in this room, newcomers and old-timers alike, has experienced non-human incarnations at least 80% of the time, if not more. It is now time to acknowledge this and connect with that aspect of the self that is your star body.

We will first ask you to close your eyes and visualize your own higher soul in any convenient form. You could choose to see it as a figure, as vibration, as colour, as energy...any way that suits you. Do this, and expand your energies, so that you now merge the physical with your extended energies. (Pause)

Now demand that the higher soul reveal your star body to you in the form of a visual, a colour, a frequency, or a texture. Know that it is unlikely to take on a definite form. It generally reveals itself as an aspect of deep space.

Create it, and connect with it. Let it reveal itself to you, and welcome it for the first time as an aspect of your human self. This is an aspect with which you have never before connected in human form.

Continue to connect with it as we speak. Understand that this star body has no emotion or human, earthly feelings. It does not experience happiness or sadness, joy or sorrow. It just is an expanded aspect of the self that is Universal, and contains Universal knowledge, wisdom and awareness in plentitude.

If you are experiencing an emotion right now, understand that this is simply an earthly aspect of the self: accept it, and continue to connect with the star body.

Draw it down now into the physical structure and let it merge with the self. You cannot hold it: it will enter you and retract at lightning speed. It cannot be contained, but it can be repeatedly invited in for a milli-second at a time.

Now invite the star body, quite specifically, into your brain, pituitary and pineal glands. Allow it to activate these areas, as well as the third eye. Again, do not expect any physical sensation. Its frequencies are so far beyond that of the human body that it is unlikely that you will experience any tingling or other sensation. You may; but that is irrelevant. Just trust that the merger is taking place at your command. (Pause)

It is done. Return to full consciousness.

In the future, connect with the star body at will. You do not have to be in meditation; you can do so while indulging in any daily activity. It is your highest frequency: not only of knowledge, wisdom and awareness, but also of self-healing.

The star body is only for your personal use. You cannot use it directly to heal another. You can use it to self-heal, to raise your consciousness, and increase your personal vibrations; after which you can joyously offer someone else the benefit of your knowledge, guidance and healing.

This is to be used SELFishly: for the self, and self alone. As you get facile with this, and you will if you work at it, you will find one moment of connection with the star body will give you the complete picture of why you have contracted an illness, and ache or a pain. You will understand when you created it, why you created it, and what you need to do to shift it. It will also give you instant relief. But to achieve this level of communication, you will have to repeatedly work with the star body, till this becomes second-nature.

Can you please give us a procedure to follow, to connect with the star body?

We cannot: it must be an individual journey. You will have to forge your own, special, unique connection with the star body. This is a private relationship. No two will do so in exactly the same way.

There are several newcomers in the room who are currently wondering “I am here for the first time. Will I be able to do this?” And we tell you, you are here for this specific reason. Therefore you can, as easily as anyone else present. Each one here is on par.

Any questions?

G: (Timidly) This reminds me of my recent paintings.

Speak up and speak out! Share this proudly with the group!

This reminds me of a series of paintings I did...

Stop! There is still a note of apology in your voice! Begin again. Collect yourself and speak proudly of your art!

My recent paintings are all an explosion of colours. Some have heavier, and some lighter, frequencies. The minute you explained the star body, I knew I had been unconsciously painting them. But can you please explain if these paintings represent different people's star bodies? Or do they merge to make up one giant higher soul?

Eventually, yes. Well done. You finally spoke out with genuine pride.

Now let us add to this. Though, at the beginning of this session, we implied that the star body was an aspect of the higher soul, we will now re-define it.

It is actually the higher soul of the higher soul. This is not to be confused with the Monad; this is an intensely personal aspect of the self. It is your personal Godhead. It is that aspect of the Divine that is uniquely created, crafted and applied to you, by you.

This aspect, however, cannot be revered. If you say or even think “I am small, weak and insignificant, as compared to my star body”; you create separation, and therefore instantly lose connection with it.

This aspect of your Godhead does not function in the human form, unless you can acknowledge your Godliness. It will, however, continue to function with those parts of your concurrent and simultaneous selves that do acknowledge their magnificence.

This is the main reason why the human race has not been consciously introduced to this concept until now. You were not ready to receive this information until now. And even now, though this information is being disseminated through 2014, it will be given in phases, and in suitable words, to different lightworkers in different parts of the world. You will have to internalize it, begin to live it, and then pass it forward.

Is this what is meant by the words “The Universe is within you”?

Yes, this is an oblique reference to the star body, because when you fully connect with it, you will eventually not be able to see any individuation in your concurrent and simultaneous selves; you will only be able to acknowledge and experience your collective vastness and unity.

Is this similar to Photon energy?

It is made up of Photon energy, amongst other aspects.

When you asked us to ‘connect with the star body’, I experienced exactly what I normally do when I connect to the Source before sending out healing.

Yes, but you are taking it even further. Because even when you claim that you are ‘connecting to the source’, these are still just words. So far, on Planet Earth, NO ONE has been able to fully connect with their own star bodies, let alone the Source. Not even your Masters, when they were in physical form. Not even the Buddha, at the point of Nirvana. You are just working towards increasing the percentage of connection with your star bodies.

I am confused. You said it was not to be used externally for healing others.

Yes, dear friend: were you to try to access it and instantly direct it outward, that would be a self-sacrificing act. Use it completely and totally for the self. Finish with that task. Be full, and know you deserve it, completely and totally. Then, from the fullness of the self, offer healing to another. There is a difference.

Does this have anything to do with touching one’s soul origin, touching one’s ‘home’?

Yes. When you choose to touch your star body more and more frequently, there will indeed be a sense of ‘coming home’. Of tremendous expansion, of being more complete, full, self-aware, self-accepting, self-understanding, and so on. So yes, you are correct.

YOU ARE BLESSED AND EMBRACED BY THE ENERGIES OF THE MAHA AVATAR BABAJI.

(Sohrab shifts energies)

Greetings!

Before we ask you to name a few more of your favourite Masters, let us begin by sharing with you a few unusual Master thrusts during 2014. The Masters we now speak of are not defined by name; yet they are Masters of great power and potency. The first is The Master energy of Technology.

Yes, technology has several guiding Masters; but you must also understand that it has a Master energy of its own, as 'real' as the Buddha, the Mohammed, or the Jesus. It is as relevant, valid and potent as any Universal Master in your consciousness. It has just not been 'named' by the people of Earth, because to you it is an abstract concept. But the Master energy is not abstract at all.

This Master has been created by the creativity, potency, potential and advancement in this field; not just on planet Earth, but by all societies and entities Universe-wide. From his perspective (and we use this term for convenience, as this Master has no defined form or sex), even Earth's most cutting-edge technology is child's play.

The Master of Technology offers Planet Earth, during 2014, a new way to connect with technology. This science will continue to grow and evolve, but now an edge or advantage is being given to those humans who truly desire to further technology for the advancement and benefit of mankind, and not just for greed or personal accolades.

These true technological devotees, who revel in the process of discovery, creation and invention; who wish to stretch their minds and creativity, and explore new ways to serve mankind; will find themselves connected and truly blessed by the Master energy of Technology.

This Master energy works purely with creativity and intent. He has no control, nor jurisdiction, over those who may subsequently work to suppress the inventions, or those who desire to manipulate it for personal gain or greed.

Can you please explain this more clearly?

Yes. Let us suppose that a truly creative scientist comes up with a new super-computer. He will be guided by the Master energy of Technology, but if Corporates then attack this scientist, and attempt to either suppress this technology as it would threaten their existing products, or attempt to use it entirely for profit and excessive personal gain, then the technology will be diluted. It will not reach the public as quickly, or as effectively, as it would if it was allowed to flow, fully and freely, for the general advancement of humanity.

This does not mean that it must be offered free of charge. Not at all. It simply means that the focus needs to be education, upliftment and enlightenment; not greed. It must also be safe and eco-friendly: a projection of who you desire to be. Responsible and aware.

Another entity, The Master of Science, will also be provoking scientific minds worldwide. Though new cures and wonderful advancements will be made in this field, this Master will be urging the human race to 'go back to its roots' and rediscover marvelous, natural cures and practices that have been lost over time. He will help these minds tap into the new frequency, and therefore the upgraded properties of roots, trees, flowers, fruit, grains and vegetables.

The plant kingdom, for example, has gone through a major upgrade during the last year. Take the tomato: you think you know its scientific properties, benefits and nutritional qualities. But this tomato now contains over 50% more than you already know or have discovered. And this holds good for every single fruit and vegetable.

In some cases the properties have deliberately upgraded to awaken human consciousness. Certain fruit and vegetables can now stimulate the brain, or can be used to break emotional blocks. All of this will now slowly come to light.

Many of you who work with naturopathy or healing will find this being revealed to you now. Stay alert to the messages and intuitive flashes that you receive.

Interestingly enough, this is going to be excessively stimulated in the countries where, in the past, they have either scoffed at natural remedies; or deliberately ignored them in favour of drugs and allopathic medication. Simultaneously, the brains of the common man in these countries are also being similarly stimulated, so that they demand more and more natural cures.

A note here: do not deny or scoff at the benefits of allopathy. That is equally important: not to be shunned completely, but to be used more and more responsibly. Each individual should check within the self whether he would prefer allopathy or an alternate means of treatment in a particular situation. That choice should be respected. If you are balanced, you will find both being embraced in wholeness and gratitude.

The third aspect we wish to share with you is The Master of Politics (laughter)

Why do you always refer to the Masters as Him, and not Her???

Let us call this energy, at your behest, the Divine, Stunningly Beautiful, and Enchanting Lady Head of Politics (much laughter). You are right: we stand corrected!

She will help influence political equality, benefits, enlightenment, awareness, and change. Her energies are unlikely to be accessed by any politician who is self-serving, greedy, corrupt and desires to 'feather his own nest'. He will not access Her energies.

She will not force her energies upon anyone. They will be inherently and naturally drawn by those who desire the aspects earlier mentioned, who desire political change, who desire to serve self and others.

Even if they are not in politics themselves?

Even if they are not in politics themselves! That is the key. In fact, fewer politicians than non-politicians will access this energy. Because politics does not only refer to running a country. It also refers to the politics of the home. Of an institution or corporation. The political struggle going on between different aspects of the self.

The politics of battling the bulge instead of listening to the body. The political struggle between the body, mind, and soul. All politics.

This year, should you choose to access...HER(laughter)...divine beauty, potency and magnificence, please do so joyously: these energies are yours to be invited into your palace, your White House, your kingdom.

Is she the lady who wields the scales of justice?

Let us say that that is the energy behind that symbol; but it is not her entire power. Let us tell you that, even if she wields the scales of justice in one hand, she wields a machine gun in the other. The machine gun, ready to destroy that which is not appropriate for growth and evolution.

If you truly saw her in her fullness, she would be the perfect balance of the masculine and the feminine. She is able to play either role separately or simultaneously; she has no fear of exercising extreme aspects of either.

Now, you may ask of a few more Masters.

Moses?

Why did you choose to ask this?

Why is this one religion so persecuted? What is it about his teaching that so upsets the world?

What is it about the truth that most people reject? The Moses energies are working, during 2014, with those aspects of the self that you have rejected, hidden from or suppressed. The Moses energies will help you unearth, from within the self, hidden agenda, deep-seated prejudices, and behavioral patterns that are unacceptable to the self in the now. These will be brought up for embrace and assimilation.

Choose to work with this energy responsibly, as those deep hidden secrets, those skeletons in your closet, will be brought to the surface. This is not an energy to choose lightly. You will be forced to face some home truths about the self, sometimes arising from within the self, and sometimes from external sources. You may be faced with people who tell you directly, to your face, what you need to address. You may not like these words, but they will repeatedly come at you, till you pay heed to them.

I think I already have!

Of course you have, else you would not have asked about them! But we commend you on this: do not back down, you have the clarity and courage to face these aspects head-on.

The Pondicherry Mother?

The Mother, along with the collective energies of Pondicherry, is evolving at an extremely rapid rate right now. Together, they are sending out the equivalent of shock waves throughout the planet. Several other areas are also participating in this process.

Energetically, blocked areas and blocked societies are being given tiny electrical shocks, offering them the opportunity to review their aspects, release them, and expand.

Let us take a controversial example: the Burkha. It is not the act of wearing a burkha that is imbalanced, but the possible energy behind the choice. A few wear it joyously, in full respect of the self. But many wear it out because it has been imposed upon them, because they feel inadequate without one, because they believe that they are unworthy of showing the world who they are, or out of fear of a punishing society or God. It can then be a veil or mask of hiding and fear.

The shock waves generated will help groups of such women, and groups of such men who impose this upon women, the opportunity to review this practice, and the energy behind it.
