REDEFINING YOUR RELATIONSHIP WITH YOUR MASTER

Greetings!

A group of Masters would like to speak to you today, and share with you current upgrades taking place in different aspects of your lives.

First, let us speak of Astrology and Numerology. How many in this room practice these sciences? (Several hands were raised)

Planet Earth is currently being bathed in the energies of several new planetary bodies; not new in existence, but new in terms of their energetic influence on your planet.

You may recall that, at an earlier session, we had mentioned that though Earth Astrology is based on the effects of the various planets of the Solar System, the Sun and the Moon on you; the human race was now being influenced by the energies of over 30 planetary bodies. We had therefore stated that Astrology as a science was not inaccurate, but simply incomplete.

This figure has now increased. You are currently being affected by over 100 such planetary bodies. Not only this, but individual humans are drawing to the self, differing energetic combinations of these planets.

We therefore say to all practitioners, do not fear that you now cannot work accurately any longer. Not at all. But you must acknowledge the existence of these new energies, and use your skill and intuition to harness the extra information now necessary for your clients. You must also be able to connect with the clients' energy to a much higher degree than before. His own higher energies will guide you appropriately.

Do not hold back out of fear. Just rise effortlessly to the next level of intensive work, and enjoy your expansion of knowledge and wisdom through the process.

We suggest you first experiment with the self. Study your own charts afresh. Determine the influences of the new, yet unknown planets on the self. Find out how you have evolved. You may be pleasantly surprised, astonished and even shocked at your own growth.

A hint to help you. Most of your clients' expanded energies will have increased 10-fold or more, from the last time you interacted with them. Do not view them as you did in the past, out of 'habit'. Probe to discover the shifts and the expansion.

Friends, this naturally applies to all of you. Please be aware of this when you next go to consult an astrologer or a chart-reader of any kind. Understand that the practitioner may or may not be tuning into the new energies. Therefore please use discernment.

Never give your power away to anyone else. You are the final arbiter of your chart. Nothing is now 'set in stone'. Definitive predictions rarely hold good anymore. Everything can be adjusted or changed, if you choose to touch your power and do so.

Numerology is also upgrading in a similar manner. The frequency of numbers is now upgrading very rapidly. Many of you have studied the significance of each number. This core essence will not change. But it now signifies much more than just that.

Let us ask you to give us a basic explanation of any one number.

The number seven.

To go within, and to be intuitive.

A Christ conscious number.

It has stateliness. It believes in spiritual advancement.

Yes, all of this still exists. But it now is a very pro-active number. It would therefore be an ideal number to meditate upon, or use, if you want to energize the self into action. It would help you, for example, drum up new business; get new clients, or to motivate the self to do something necessary for the self.

To fight court cases?

Yes indeed! The number 7 has also recently added a new energetic frequency to planet Earth. It is the predominant number of a distant star system (but not the 7 sisters). This star system is extremely dynamic: it generates energies, in the form of fuel, for itself and for all in its vicinity.

If you now meditate upon the number 7, you will find all frequencies, in all aspects of your life, increasing exponentially.

What about compound numbers?

These would influence you in their individuated frequencies, as well as the sum of all the numbers.

To sum up, you must now know that your astrological and numerological charts are now still influencing you, but you are the Masters of your chart, and therefore your life course. Do not stay bound by all that has been said to you in the past.

What of Tarot?

The same holds good of Tarot. It is now ineffectual, unless the practitioner is energized and highly intuitive. The cards and their interpretations are only the diving board; the practitioner must plunge off it, into the pool of the client's energies.

YOU ARE BLESSED AND EMBRACED BY THE ENERGIES OF THE MEHER BABA.

(Laughing) Yes, I am a great Astrologer and Universal Numerologist! Blessings!

Greetings!

Let us speak of World Finance and Business. Major changes have already begun, in preparation for 2015.

On a personal level, many will change jobs during the next year. Many will feel an inner urge to either change corporations, or even their line of business completely. A hard-core businessman, for instance, may choose to move into a creative field, such as Interior Design.

Others will remain in the same job and position, but will feel impelled to re-evaluate their relationship with their mode of functioning, the way they deal with other employees and their approach to the work itself.

There are going to be conflicts between bosses and employees, which will result in the re-structuring of the organization itself. We urge you not to resist this, or to regret what happens. If, for example, you suddenly find yourself made redundant, or asked to shift to another department, do not repine; instead embrace the change, and make space for the new opportunities that are now at your doorstep.

You may even get the urge to leave a secure and stable job; one which is a familiar comfort-zone. If this happens, follow your instinct. Something new and exciting awaits you.

These shake-ups are extremely necessary. When a game of chess ends, the board has to be swept clean of the chess-pieces. Old moves have to be erased. And only then can a fresh game begin.

But no matter whether or not you stay or leave an existing job, you will find that during 2015 you will be strongly urged to re-evaluate your interaction with all staff members and your approach to the business itself. If you try to follow your old patterns, the business will not function. In some cases, mere tweaks will suffice; and in other areas, major shifts will have to be initiated. But change is inevitable.

This is because the entire energy of business, finance and commerce is scheduled to be re-structured worldwide, during 2015.

Many companies are going to be shaken up completely. Financial scams are going to be exposed to a degree that has never before happened. Transparency is now the order of the day. Certain rock-solid mega-corporations are going to totter. Other tiny companies are going to suddenly emerge as forces to be reckoned with.

On a personal basis, we ask you not to sit back and be complacent. Once again, review your portfolios. By all means, ask the advice of experts; but you cannot just 'leave it all to them' to manage. Use your knowledge, coupled with your intuition. If any investment makes you uncomfortable, demand of your financial manager that it be re-invested elsewhere.

Please note that your management of the home and your family also comes under the heading of 'business re-construction'. Please review the way you interact with family members and domestic staff. Re-examine how you 'run the house'. Make necessary adjustments. Back off in certain areas, and assert your authority in others. Take charge.

The worldwide money market is improving; but there will be periodic dips and corrections that need to take place. Do not panic. Get in tune with your money, live in fullness and abundance, and weather the fluctuations.

There are many sitting in this room who prefer to disengage from finance. Many just 'leave it to their husbands'. Please learn, during 2015, to be more pro-active with your family finances. Find out where your money is invested. Offer suggestions. Periodically review the family wealth with your husband, your children and your broker. Get involved.

BLESSINGS FROM THE ENERGIES OF SOUL YOU KNEW OF AS THE NANI PALKHIWALA.

2015 will, in many ways, be the year of Feminine Empowerment. (Smiling) The men in this room are not excluded: this applies to the feminine aspects of both men and women.

The collective consciousness of Planet Earth has reached a level wherein it is ready to empower the feminine aspects of the human race, animals, plants, minerals and so on.

For this to take place, debris must first rise to the surface. The pus from the wound must surface before the wound can begin to heal. So yes, dear friends, you will hear of many abusive situations that will make you angry, upset and indignant. As it should. Atrocities will surface, particularly in Middle Eastern countries, as well as in other areas in which women are repeatedly demeaned.

We ask you to add your lightworker power to this process. When you hear of them, or come across them in your own lives, work on them at two levels.

Energetically do what you must. Bless them, heal them, offer them light, and send them the energy of empowerment.

But we ask you to work at the physical level as well. Help stand up for women. And do it for the woman who you are. When you stand up for your personal rights, and flow with feminine power and creativity, you are also energetically affecting other women with your issue.

So if you have repeatedly played victim to a controlling husband or a tyrant mother-in-law, this is the time to touch your power and stand up for your rights. If you do so, you will be supported by the energies of 2015, which facilitate this.

Examine the self very honestly, and ask yourself “Where do I suppress my womanhood? Where do I suppress my creative flow, my femininity, my inherent power?” And choose to change this. Should you choose to ignore this, your victimhood will expand exponentially during the next year.

Help yourself, help other women, and please help men touch their feelings, emotions, creativity and their very present feminine energies as well.

We suggest you make a commitment to help empower three women during the first three months of the coming year. This could be as simple as helping your maid feel more empowered by helping her stand up to an oppressive husband, or urging her to invest some money in her own name, or take up some course of study. Perhaps you could help a poor woman get a job, so that she starts to feel more productive and worthwhile. Counsel a friend. Do it in any way you feel appropriate.

Dear friends, the most resistant group to this rise of Feminine Power are going to be the menfolk. Many men, next year, are going to find themselves touching their feminine qualities very strongly. Due to years of suppression, this may come out in imbalanced ways at first. Many men will feel very emotional, sensitive and fragile. Those who are accustomed to a lifetime of suppressing their feelings and playing the 'tough guy' will find this very threatening, and will misinterpret it as weakness and loss of control.

They will begin to doubt themselves and their abilities, and will once again, by default, try to suppress this, which will only make things worse. Please be there to help them through this process, till they find a balance. Help them understand that self-expression and touching emotion is healthy, natural and normal.

I have a friend who has made it her mission to help women by working towards changing the burkha system. She wants to first help them change to lighter colours like pink, after which she wants to help them shed the same.

Do you see how she is working, in her own way, to help women empower the self? Let us discuss the Burkha for a moment. This is energetically representative of the suppression of women's talents, attributes, personality and femininity.

But before you so easily condemn it, you must know that women who wear the burkha do this energetically for all women worldwide who wish to hide from themselves and from the world at large.

So, even if you don't wear a burkha, remember that all of you have your own subtle ways of hiding from the self. And this can be even more dangerous. But if you start touching your power and displaying to the world your feminine magnificence, the percentage of burkha-clad women will automatically reduce.

BLESSINGS FROM THE ENERGIES OF THE MOTHER THERESA.

(Sohrab shifts energies)

2015 is also going to be a magnificent year for the spreading of Universal Consciousness. The human race is finally ready to open to it; grudgingly at first.

This has naturally been flowing in for eons. But next year, you will find your task, as living Lightworkers who spread this knowledge, much easier.

Many who have been very blocked and resistant in the past will suddenly open to your knowledge. Those who laughed at you, and scorned you for your ‘outlandish beliefs’, will slowly start opening up to the possibility that you may have a point.

Use your skill. Do not flood them with useless information, or they will get resistant again. Offer them, instead, little enticing tidbits of information, so that you whet their appetites.

Be careful not to get caught in your own traps; those of rigid religious practices and outdated belief structures. Start from today. View your Masters in a new and expanded way. Many continue to see and communicate with their Masters in a very comfortable, familiar but limited way.

Go into their energies, and demand that they reveal themselves to you from a much higher frequency. Start playing with pure colour, vibration and sound; instead of limiting mental images of their human form. Don’t limit the flow of Universal consciousness.

If you are still comfortable with an earthly picture or statue, use it. But use it as a doorway. Step through it, into the vastness that is the Master energy.

You must now also familiarize yourselves with your own higher souls. These are much vaster than you know.

BLESSINGS, LOVE AND LIGHT FROM THE ST. GERMAIN.
